HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

THURSDAY, April 7, 1949

The House met at 11:00 a. m.

The SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Reverend Dr. Arthur C. Thompson, pastor of Trinity Evangelical Reformed Church, Saxton, Bedford County, a guest of the gentleman from Bedford, Mr. Clapper, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God; we worship Thee.

In reverence and Godly fear we wonder at Thy power and wisdom which mould and sustain the universe; and wonder, also, at the succession of newly created days which reveal Thy careful providence.

Grant unto us that cooperative and obedient spirit which shall enable Thy will to work itself out in all our human relationships and endeavors.

May Christian brotherhood bring peace among the nations of the earth, and order within the borders of our Commonwealth.

We ask that prosperity and justice for all be the product of this Assembly; and may the knowledge of deeds well done be the abiding possession of each servant of the public welfare. Ever bind us personally more closely to Thee and Try good purposes.

All this we ask in the name of the Son of God and of His reign in the hearts of all men. Amen.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS THE HOUSE

Mr. WORLEY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I rise to urge the passage of a Fair Employment Practice Act at this session of the Legislature of Pennsylvania and to ask the Committees having control of these bills in the House and Senate to report a satisfactory and good bill of this kind to the floors of this Legislature for action. I want to call the attention of the Labor Relations Committee of this House of Representatives to House Bill No. 32 introduced by myself which is modeled after the New York Law with a very few minor changes.

I believe that the passage of such a bill would be a great step in the promotion of Economic Justice in this state and would be a fulfillment of the pledge of the Republican Party of Pennsylvania to the people of Pennsylvania. I believe that this is legislation that strikes at one of the fundamental causes of social strife in this nation, namely race hatred and race discrimination. We cannot tolerate race discrimination if we truly believe in democracy because there is no super race in a democracy. It is time to take the Oligarchy or group rules out of our machinery for democracy by starting with a good Pennsylvania Fair Employment Practice Act.

There is talk that this is a matter of education and not a matter of legislation, but to those of you with that view I say, Is not justice based upon the administration of laws and how will you have justice in this state, in this nation, or in this world without law enforceable by organized society through its government? You certainly would not apply education alone without law to our property rights, our contract rights, or domestic relation rights, etc. I say pass the law and the law will hasten the education and public opinion against race discrimination.

As a member from the rural County of Adams, I do not hesitate to support this bill, whether it makes or looses me votes, I am for it because it is good legislation for the People of this Commonwealth. I stand ready to support any good Fair Employment Practice Bill that I may be given the opportunity to vote for, and I urge my party to take the lead.

Now, do not pass an inadequate F E P C Bill, but pass a sufficient and good law to really promote equal rights in employment. You should not pass a law which would prohibit an organization from bringing a complaint because many persons directly discriminated against are unable to know how to defend themselves nor do they have the funds to wage a sufficient legal defense. You should also not pass a law granting too small a penalty for violators or the bill will be grossly inadequate.

You will remember that it was President Lincoln, the first elected President of the Republican Party, who stated, "You can fool all of the people some of the time, and some of the people all of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time." I believe this quotation is revelant in urging my party to fulfill its pledge to enact a good Fair Employment Practice Act. When he was President, the Republicant Party was then the liberal and progressive party, and it was the Democratic Party in that day that was the conservative and reactionary party. Now I say, walk in the foot steps of the Republican Party in its original form, and not in the footsteps of a group of special interest reactionaries who are unwilling to face and unable to foresee the way to promote democracy at home and the way to promote peace among the nations of this world. You never will win state and national elections going down the path of the few privileged interests because the people want us to promote democracy, not oligarchy and not dictatorship. The legislature is supposed to be the voice of the people in our democracy and not a bunch of puppets who can be shoved all around by some selfish political boss at the expense of the people of the state. Now, let us just stick with the people, and the people will not forget us. We cannot do otherwise if we truly believe in a government of the people.

COMMUNICATION AND BILL TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. FROST. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication from the Governor together with House Bill No. 176 be taken from the table.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 176

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, April 1, 1949.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. BRUNNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, during the last month is has come to the attention of the Minority Leader and myself that a great many resolutions have been sponsored by Members who have requested clearance by the Minority Leader and myself for the purpose of being considered immediately. There is no question in my mind that this seriously disrupts the proceedings of the House and that we have over-emphasized some resolutions which do not fit into the category such as require immediate consideration.

I would like to say at this time that we trust that the membership, when they introduce resolutions, will allow them to proceed in due course through the Committee on Rules for consideration there, unless they fit into the category such a condolence resolution concerning a Member of this House, that is the Member himself, or a State or National official of prominence, or, of course, unless they fit into the category of a privileged resolution as determined by the Rules of the House. We feel that all such resolutions should be referred to the Committee on Rules to be considered there, and I trust that request will not be made for their immediate consideration, thereby eliminating the need for my considering them and denying the Member the right to have them received for immediate consideration.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, neither the Majority Leader nor myself enjoy refusing to give the Members immediate consideration. We would like to give all resolutions immediate consideration, but the Members of the House can readily see that as we approach the closing days time will become very valuable, and so I echo the sentiment of the Majority Leader and hope that the Members will not ask for consideration of resolutions that should properly go into the record and go to the Rules Committee, because it pains us to tell some new Member who very much wants to read his resolution on the floor, to have to say "no" and yet as we come to the very close it will be necessary, if there are too many resolutions, to say "no".

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to thank both the Majority Leader and the Minority Leader for their comments, and wishes also to join in their request for the cooperation of the Members in this matter.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 877, Printers No. 376

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1037, as follows:

An Act to amend the act approved the twenty-fifth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven (P. L. 381) entitled "An act concerning arbitration and to make valid and enforceable written provisions and agreements for the arbitration of disputes in certain contracts including contracts to which the State or any municipal subdivision thereof may be a party regulating the procedure under such provisions and agreements and conferring certain powers and imposing certain duties upon the courts with reference thereto" by extending the provisions thereof to written collective bargaining contracts for arbitration of controversies and further defining the effect of judgments conforming modifying or correcting awards

Section 1 Sections one eleven and fourteen of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven (P. L. 381) entitled "An act concerning arbitration and to make valid and enforceable written provisions and agreements for the arbitration of disputes in certain contracts including contracts to which the State or any municipal subdivision thereof may be a party regulating the procedure under such provisions and agreements and conferring certain powers and imposing certain duties upon the courts with reference thereto" are hereby amnded to read as follows

Sction 1 Be it enacted &c That

Validity of Arbitration Agreements A provision in any written contract [except a contract for personal services] to settle by arbitration a controversy thereafter arising out of such contract or out of the refusal to perform the whole or any part thereof or an agreement in writing between two or more persons to submit to arbitration any controversy existing between them at the time of the agreement to submit shall be valid irrevocable and enforceable save upon such grounds as exist at law or in equity for the revocation of any contract

A provision in a written collective bargaining contract between a labor organization as defined in subsection (f) of section three of the act approved the first day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1168) known as the "Pennsylvania Labor Relations Act" and an employer or employers as defined in subsection (c) of section three of the said Pennsylvania Labor Relations Act or an association or group of employers as thus defined to settle by arbitration a controversy or controversies thereafter arising between the parties to the contract or any agreement between such parties to settle by arbitration a controversy or controversies then existing or thereafter arising including but not restricted to controversies dealing with rates of pay wages hours or other conditions of employment of any employe or employes of such employer or employers or association or group of employers shall likewise be valid enforceable and irrevocable save upon such grounds as exist at law or in equity for the revocation of any contract Provided That no rule of law or equity shall be available to any party to bar an order enforcing an arbitration award reinstating a discharged employe or in the nature of a mandatory decree in any other manner

Section 11 Motion to Modify or Correct Award Grounds [In either of the following cases the court shall] The court may in the following cases only make an order modifying or correcting the award or resubmitting the matter to the arbitrators upon the application of any party to the arbitration

(a) Where there was an evident material miscalculation of figures or an evident material mistake in the description of any person thing or property referred to in the award

(b) Where the arbitrators have awarded upon a matter not submitted to them unless it is a matter not affecting the merits of the decision upon the matters submitted

(c) Where the award is imperfect in matter of form not affecting the merits of the controversy

(d) Where the parties have not agreed that the award shall be final and binding and the award is against the law and is such that had it been a verdict of the jury the court would have entered difference or other judgment notwithstanding the verdict

[The court may modify and correct the award or resubmit the matter to the arbitrators]

Section 14 Record Filing Judgment Effect and Enforcement Any party to a proceeding for an order confirming modifying or correcting an award shall at the time such order is filed with the prothonotary for the entry of judgment thereon also file the following papers with the prothonotary

(a) The agreement the selection or appointment if any of an additional arbitrator or umpire and each written extension of the time if any within which to make the award

(b) The testimony if taken stenographically

(c) The award

(d) Each notice affidavit or other paper used upon an application to confirm modify or correct the award and a copy of each order of the court upon such an application

The arbitration shall be docketed in the prothonotary's

office as if it were an action at law or in equity in the prothonotary's office with the moving as plantiff and the other parties as defendant or defendants

The judgment so entered shall have the same force and effect in all respects as and be subject to all the provisions of law relating to a judgment in an action at law decree in equity or judgment decree or order in any form of action now or hereafter provided for by any law and it may be enforced as such in accordance with existing law

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. ROSE asked and obtained unanimous consent to add an additional sponsor to a resolution to be introduced by him.

CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. ROSE and TAYLOR offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 7, 1949.

Leon J. Kolankiewicz is a proud man today. It is an early birthday in his life, yet marks a point of great progress in a successful career.

A successful husband and father, he has four children, two of whom were of outstanding service to their country in the last World War as was their father in the first World War.

Leon Jr. age 24, a four letter man at Tufts College, Boston, Mass. was a Lieutenant in the Army Engineers, spending three and one-half years in the South Pacific.

Thaddeus, age 22, now at Drexel Institute spent four and one-half years in the service as a Lieutenant, a pilot in the Marine Corps.

Robert 19, a football and basketball star, is in Tufts College and a cadet in N.R.O.T.C.

Lawrence 17, is in high school and distinguishing himself scholastically and in basketball and baseball.

A Doctor of Optometry, he practices his profession in Philadelphia, enjoying a fine reputation in his field.

His community thought enough of him to place in him the great trust and confidence that his position here merits; therefore be it

Resolved. That the House of Representatives congratulate Leon J. Kolankiewicz on his birthday, and assure him that because he is here, but not as an Optometrist, the House can see, more clearly, its responsibility, and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the Honorable Dr. Leon J. Kolankiewicz.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Kolankiewicz.

Mr. KOLANKIEWICZ. Mr. Speaker, I want to know whether I am going to be recognized on the slip that I have in my hand or on the resolution.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia is recognized on the congratulatory resolution.

Mr. KOLANKIEWICZ. I thank you, Mr. Speaker. Ladies and gentlemen of the House, I do want to extend my thanks to the sponsors of this resolution; at the same time I want to extend my hearty thanks to the Members of this House for their greetings of the day. Thank you.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. KOLANKIEWICZ. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, April 11, 1949, at 4:30 p. m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 12:48 p. m.) the House adjourned.

Legislative Journal.

Vol. 31. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, APRIL 11, 1949. No. 43.

SENATE

MONDAY, April 11, 1949

The Senate met at 4:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Daniel B. Strickler) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Father ROY C. KEFFER offered the following prayer:

Oh God, before Whom all hearts are open, from Whom no secret is hidden, purify by the outpouring of Thy Holy Spirit, the deliberations of this Assembly.

Let them see Thy good and gracious purpose working in all of the tasks which confront them, so that they might nearly conform to Thy divine will, through Christ our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WALKER and Mr. RUTH, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

RESOLUTION

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, on April 1, 1949, Reverend Father Roy C. Keffer was appointed Senate Chaplain. On April 5, 1949, Father Keffer suffered perhaps the most severe loss that a man can suffer, in the loss of his mother.

I, therefore, Mr. President, offer the following resolution, and move its immediate adoption.

MEMBERS OF THE SENATE EXTEND THEIR SYMPATHY TO FATHER ROY KEFFER AND HIS FAMILY

Mr. WADE offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, April 11, 1949.

Last Friday morning our chaplain, Father Roy C. Keffer, performed the most difficult task that ever becomes duty of a priest. He said the Mass at his mother's funeral.

Mrs. Charles Frederick Keffer died on April 5. Her stay in life had been fruitful and good. She leaves behind her seven of her thirteen children and her twenty-one grandchildren.

Her husband and her children will find life a bit more difficult now, that they cannot depend upon her wise counsel and complete understanding. They can be reassured though that while they have lost their wife and mother, they have gained a personal angel to pray to; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the Senate extend their individual sympathy to Charles Frederick Keffer, Father Roy Keffer, and his brothers and sisters; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to Charles Frederick Keffer and Father Roy Keffer.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BLASS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, on March 30th last, this Senate passed Senate Bill No. 578 by a vote of 49 to 1. This bill was an amendment to the Western Extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Act.

Mr. President, since that time it has been ascertained that this bill, being an amendment, would impede and obstruct seriously the work of the Western Extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike. In order to facilitate the marketing of the bonds, after a conference with His Excellency, The Governor of the Commonwealth, and the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission, it was decided to prepare and present a separate bill covering the Erie Extension.

This turn of events very fortunately gave me an opportunity to invite my good friend and colleague, Senator Dent, to act in consort with the original co-sponsors.

Therefore, Mr. President, on behalf of my colleagues, Senator Doehla, Senator Mahany, and Senator Dent, in conjunction with myself, I herewith rise in place and present to the Chair a bill which will authorize the erection and construction of the Erie Extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike, with the hope and with the prayer that this bill will be as speedily passed by this Senate as its predecessor, Senate Bill No. 578.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. BLASS, DOEHLA, MAHANY and DENT read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 881, entitled:

An Act to facilitate vehicular traffic in the Western section of the Commonwealth by providing for the construction, operation and maintenance of a turnpike from a point at or near the City of Erie in Erie County, to connect with the Pennsylvania Turnpike or the Western extension thereof, at such points as the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission may decide is the most feasible and practicable for the further extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike system and conferring powers and imposing duties on the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission; auahorizing the issuance of turnpike revenue bonds of the Commonwealth payable solely from tolls to pay the cost of such turnpike; providing that no debt of the Commonwealth shall be incurred in the exercise of any of the powers granted by this act; providing for the collection of tolls for the payment of such bonds and for the cost of maintenance, operation and repair of the turnpike; making such turnpike bonds exempt from taxation, constituting such bonds legal investments in certain instances; requiring suits against the Commission to be brought in Dauphin County; prescribing conditions on which such turnpike shall become free; providing for grade separations, grade changes and relocations and restoration of public roads and State highways affected by the turnpike; providing for condemnation; granting certain powers and authority to municipal subdivisions and agencies of the Commonwealth to cooperate with the commission; and authorizing the issuance of turnpike revenue refunding bonds.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

Mr. CROWE read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 882, entitled:

An Act to further amend section fifty-two of the act, approved the twenty-second day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 594), entitled "An act establishing certain township roads as State highways; authorizing their construction, maintenance, and improvement under certain conditions and restrictions; limiting the obligation of the Commonwealth in the construction of certain structures located on such highways; conferring certain powers upon the Department of Highways and local authorities, persons, associations and corporations for sharing the cost of the maintenance and construction of such highways; and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act," by adding a new route in Pike County.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 883, entitled:

An Act to amend the title and act, approved the sixteenth day of July, one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 386), entitled "An act providing for the establishment, construction, operation and maintenance of a mountain ridge road or parkway in the Pocono Mountains through, bordering or accessible to the counties of Monroe, Northampton, Carbon, Luzerne, Lackawanna, Wayne and Pike, to be known as the 'Rim Parkway'; providing for the creation of the Pennsylvania Parkway Commission, and conferring powers, and imposing duties on said commisssion; authorizing the issuance of parkway revenue bonds of the Commonwealth, payable solely from tolls, to pay the cost of such parkway; providing that no debt of the Commonwealth shall be incurred in the exercise of any of the powers granted by this act; providing for the collection of tolls for the payment of such bonds and for the cost of maintenance, operation and repair of the parkway; making such bonds exempt from taxation; constituting such bonds legal investments in certain instances; prescribing conditions upon which such parkway shall become free; providing for condemnation; granting certain powers and authority to municipal subdivisions and other agencies of the Commonwealth to cooperate with the commission; conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Highways; authorizing the issuance of parkway revenue refunding bonds, and making an appropriation," by changing the name and extending the length of the parkway; establishing the parkway as a memorial; providing that the costs of making surveys, estimates of costs and plans for construction shall be paid from proceeds of bonds issued by the commission; and repealing the appropriation previously made.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

Mr. DONLAN read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 884, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the twenty-seventh day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-one (P. L. 1198), entitled "An act regulating the mining of anthracite coal; prescribing duties for certain municipal officers; and imposing penalties," by further regulating such mining; extending its provisions so as to cover townships of the second class; further defining the maps to be filed and requiring copies to be filed with the mine inspectors; and providing remedies.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

RECALLING FROM THE GOVERNOR SENATE BILL No. 456, PRINTER'S No. 241

Mr. WALKER offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, April 11, 1949.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concurs), That Senate Bill No. 456, Printer's No. 241, entitled "An act to amend section seventeen of the act, approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 149) entitled as amended "An act imposing a State tax payable by those herein defined as distributors on liquid fuels used or sold and delivered within the Commonwealth which are practically and commercially suitable for use in internal combustion engines for the generation of power providing for the collection and lien of the tax and the distribution and use of the proceeds thereof requiring such distributors to secure permits to file corporate surety bonds and reports and to retain certain records imposing duties on retail dealers common carriers county commissioners and such distributors providing for rewards imposing certain costs on counties conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments providing for refunds imposing penalties and making an appropriation" by temporarily providing for partial reimbursement of taxes paid on liquid fuels consumed in the operation of non-licensed farm tractor or licensed farm tractor when used off the highways for agricultural purposes or non-licensed powered farm machinery for purposes relating to the actual production of farm products providing penalties and making appropriations from the Motor License Fund and the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund for the payment of such reimbursements," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of further study.

Ordered, That the Clerk present same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

RESOLUTION

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, in connection with offering this resolution, I would like to read into the Journal an editorial in the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, of last week, entitled, "It has Happened Here!"

"The secret legislative vote, used by two Senate committees Tuesday to kill the 'big truck' and F.E.P.C. bills, is a disgrace to representative government. The principle of such government is that the elected official shall answer to the voter. That means the voter must know clearly what his representative stands for and what against.

"It is precisely to duck this duty that the cowardly lawmaker hides behind the secret ballot in committee. And since the committee's word on legislation is usually decisive, we have in effect government, not by an elected Assembly, but by an anonymous cabal.

"Normally, though committee sessions are closed, the public has a chance to learn the names of those who voted aye or no. For one thing, a disaffected committee member may often freely and gladly divulge the vote lineup.

"Even this procedure does little more than serve democracy through the back door. But consider the secret committee ballot. Here democracy is not just sealed out at the doors but at the windows, and indeed the very walls. On a 'hot' bill, a committee majority may move to vote secretly, meaning that the members will mark their ballots for or against a measure without linking their names to their votes. No one therefore knows for certain who voted how, so that the public's affairs might as well be conducted by ghosts.

"This is the way of the Star Chamber and the Politburo. In a democratic society it is the way of sneaks and scoundrels who have no business holding public office in the first place.

"The committees of the General Assembly have great power to determine the course of legislation. It it unthinkable that the citizenry should not at the same time have full power to determine the future of members of these same committees—which it doesn't have so long as they are permitted to operate in secret.

"The General Assembly cannot let the scandalous contempt of representative government shown by two Senate committees this week go unpurged. The Harrisburg lawmakers should take effective steps at this session not only to outlaw the secret committee ballot but to compel the publication of a committee's voting record on all legislation."

In further connection therewith, Mr. President, I would like to point out to the Members of this Senate that today on the Third Reading Calendar is Senate Bill No. 626. It has to do with the public school system, and the proviso which we are asked to vote upon today is as follows:

"Section 424 Meetings Open to Public All meetings regular and special of the school directors of any school district and of all boards commissions and authorities created by or operating as agencies of any school district are hereby declared to be public meetings open to the public at all times Provided That nothing contained in this section shall be construed to prevent any such body board commission or authority from holding executive sessions from which the public is excluded but no resolution rule or regulation shall be finally adopted at such an executive session"

Mr. President, I offer the resolution which seeks to amend Senate Rule 24, which would outlaw secret ballots, and ask for its immediate adoption.

REQUEST THAT SENATE RULE 24 BE AMENDED

Mr. ROSENFELD offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, April 11, 1949.

"Duties of Members of Committees.

Every member of a committee shall attend the call of the Chairman, who shall be the first-named person on such committee; and in case of his neglect to call the committee together or in case of his absence by sickness or other cause, the committee shall attend the call of the next person named on the committee."

shall be amended by adding thereto the following: "Every vote shall be yeas and nays and at no time shall there be a written ballot"

REQUEST THAT RULE 39 BE SUSPENDED RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Rules.

RESOLUTION

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, we are coming to the close of this Session, and before the final day of adjournment we will be called upon to pass upon millions of dollars of state appropriations, and of this amount the greater share will be spent for health and welfare, and for a health and welfare program for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I have before me a resolution, and I intend to ask for immediate consideration. Therefore, I believe that it is proper for me at this time to make known to the Members of the Senate exactly what the sponsors of this resolution have in mind, the sponsors being the gentleman from Luzerne, Senator T. Newell Wood, and your humble servant.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, the resolution reads as follows:

"Whereas: The problem of Medical care and General Welfare is the most costly of Government services, and

"Whereas: This is the most serious problems confronting both the individual citizen and the State Government, and

"Whereas: The basic core of the problem cannot be resolved until we determine the availability of medical service based upon two premises.

"One: The number of Medical students available, the number of Medical students able to attend graduate Medical school, the number of Medical Doctors required for a minimum of services to the people and the part the Commonwealth should play in making Medical education available if needed.

"Two: The amount of space available in the various types of Hospitals, Sanitoriums and welfare institutions, the determination of the prospective future need, the relationship between Hospital bed space and staff requirements, the determination of the proper Institutional care, screening centers, clinical examinations, local and state administration and the determination of a long range plan aimed at the ultimate solution of this problem.

"Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the Joint Government Commission be empowered to employ all of its resources plus whatever scientific expert or administrative advice and testimony it can arrange to receive to fully determine the solution of the problem to be presented to the next General Assembly."

Mr. President, the Committee Members who served upon the Deshon Hospital Committee can, I believe, follow me in this presentation when I say that there is so much to be gained from an impartial investigation of the medical and health problem and program for this Commonwealth. As the program now stands, Mr. President, we are committed to an expenditure of hundreds of millions of dollars for large institutions to be created and built upon this Commonwealth's land. We are committed to this program, and yet there is not a person within the Commonwealth who can say, as a fact, that that type of program will be needed ten years from now.

Mr. President, we learned in the few short hours that we spent with the Veterans Administration in Washington that they have fully determined, to their own satisfaction at least, that we are living in abnormal times, that the case load for medical institutions is abnormal and beyond that which will be needed in the next generation. The question of how and what is the best method of taking care of this enormous overload that we now are experiencing in mental institutions is one that cannot be determined by just simply building buildings.

There is a well known situation in the Commonwealth where the present hospitals are terribly understaffed, Mr. President, and whether or not by building more institutions we may put ourselves in the position of being further handicapped in the care of those that we now have under our care, we want to know whether or not the Veterans Administration is taking care of its share of the load, whether or not the state of Pennsylvania, because it is liberal in its care to its citizens, is not absorbing a great deal of cost that rightfully belongs in the Veterans Administration, under National auspices.

So, Mr. President, I say to you, and to the Members of the Senate, that this Senate would be very lax in its duty to the future generation if we did not do something along these lines to fully determine what is the need, what is the future plan that is most workable and one that will give the greatest good to the greatest number.

Mr. President, I am asking for immediate consideration on the premise that there can hardly be any opposition to a plan looking toward the betterment of the situation, I send to the Chair the following resolution.

JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY THE PROBLEM OF MEDICAL CARE AND GENERAL WELFARE

Messrs. DENT and T. NEWELL WOOD offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, April 11, 1949.

Whereas: The problem of Medical care and General Welfare is the most costly of Government services, and

Whereas: This is the most serious problem confronting both the individual citizen and the State Government, and

Whereas: The basic core of the problem cannot be resolved until we determine the availability of medical service based upon two premises.

One: The number of Medical students available, the number of Medical students able to attend graduate Medical school, the number of Medical Doctors required for a minimum of services to the people and the part the Commonwealth should play in making Medical education available if needed.

Two: The amount of space available in the various types of Hospitals, Sanitoriums and welfare institutions, the determination of the prospective future need, the relationship between Hospital bed space and staff requirements, the determination of the proper Institutional care, screening centers, clinical examinations, local and state administration and the determination of a long range plan aimed at the ultimate solution of this problem.

Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the Joint Government Commission be empowered to employ all of its resources plus whatever scientific expert or administrative advice and testimony it can arrange to receive to fully determine the solution of the problem to be presented to the next General Assembly.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection,

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, early in the Session the leaders, both Minority and Majority, got together on the basis of not asking for immediate consideration of a resolution. Therefore, to keep my end of that particular understanding, I would suggest that if the Majority Leader would allow himself to be interrogated, I would request a few words with him.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I have no objection to this interrogation.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, does the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, think it would be possible to recess for a few minutes so we can take into consideration the contents of this resolution?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may the Senate be at ease a minute until I get a chance to look at the resolution that Senator Dent and Senator T. Newell Wood have sponsored?

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be at ease.

(The Senate was at ease.)

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I have read the resolution presented by the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, and the gentleman from Luzerne, Senator Wood, and I have no objection to immediate consideration of said resolution.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The resolution was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 761, as follows:

An Act providing for the payment into the State Treasury through the Department of Revenue without escheat of certain unclaimed funds held under policies of life or endowment insurance or annuity contracts and owing to persons whose last known address was in this Commonwealth by life insurance companies doing business in this Commonwealth requiring reports of such funds by such life insurance companies requiring notices and publication by the Department of Revenue of certain information pertaining to such unclaimed funds conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers boards and departments indemnifying and agreeing to hold harmless life insurance companies upon payment of such funds to the Department of Revenue providing for refunds of such funds requiring the Department of Revenue to keep certain records exempting certain unclaimed funds making certain other statutes inapplicable and prescribing penalties

Section 1 Title This act shall be known as the "Unclaimed Funds Act for Life Insurance Companies"

Section 2 Scope This act shall apply to all unclaimed funds as hereinafter defined of any life insurance company doing business in this Commonwealth where the last known address according to the records of such company of the person entitled to such funds is within this Commonwealth provided that if a person other than the insured shall be entitled to such funds and no address of such person is known to such company or if it be not definite and certain from the records of such company what person is entitled to such funds then in either event it shall be presumed for the purposes of this act that the last known address of the person entitled to such funds is the same as the last known address of the insured according to the records of such company

Section 3 Definitions The term "unclaimed funds" as used in this act shall mean and include all monies held and owing by any life insurance company doing business in this Commonwealth which shall have remained unclaimed and unpaid for seven years or more after it is established from the records of such company that such monies became due and payable under any life or endowment insurance policy or annuity contract which has matured or terminated but shall not include amounts of less than five dollars ($5) which on the effective date of this act shall have been unclaimed and unpaid for more than ten years A life insurance policy not matured by actual proof of the prior death of the insured shall be deemed to be matured and the proceeds thereof shall be deemed to be "due and payable" within the meaning of this act if such policy is still in force when the insured shall have attained the limiting age under the mortality table on which the reserve is based Monies otherwise admittedly due and payable shall be deemed to be "held and owing" within the meaning of this act although the policy or contract shall not have been surrendered as required "Department" shall mean the Department of Revenue of this Commonwealth

Section 4 Reports Every such life insurance company shall on or before the first day of April of each year make a report in writing to the department to all unclaimed funds as hereinbefore defined held and owing by it on the 31st day of December next preceding Such report shall be signed and sworn to by an officer of such company and shall set forth (1) in alphabetical order the full name of each insured his last known address according to the company's records and the policy numbers (2) the amount appearing from the company's records to be due on each policy (3) the date such unclaimed funds became payable (4) the name and last known address of each beneficiary or other person who according to the company's records may have an interest in such unclaimed funds and (5) such other identifying information as the department may require.

Section 5 Notice and Publication

(a) When the proceeds of any policy of life insurance or annuity contract shall be first reported to the department the department shall notify the persons entitled thereto of such fact by mail so far as possible and shall publish once a week for two weeks during the month of July in each year in one or more general newspapers in each county of this Commonwealth in which is located the last known address of each person appearing to be entitled to such funds a true and accurate statement containing the names addresses and amounts of money owing to such person or for whose benefit the same is held

(b) The department if it deems it to the best interest of the Commonwealth may make such publication in a legal periodical designated by rules of court for the publication of legal notices in addition to publication in a general newspaper

(c) It shall not be obligatory upon the department to publish any item of the above described monies where the amount involved is less than fifty dollars ($50) but publication of any such item may be made if the department thinks such publication is in the best interest of the Commonwealth

Section 6 Payment to Department of Revenue All unclaimed funds contained in the report required to be filed by Section 4 of this act excepting those which have ceased to be unclaimed funds since the date of such report shall be paid over to the department on or before the following November 1st

The department shall have the power for cause shown to extend for a period of not more than one year the time within which a life insurance company shall file any report and in such event the time for publication and payment required by this act shall be extended for a like period

Section 7 Custody of unclaimed funds in Commonwealth insurers indemnified Upon payment of such unclaimed funds to the department the Commonwealth shall assume for the benefit of those entitled to receive the same and for the safety of the money so paid the custody of such unclaimed funds and the life insurance company making such payment shall immediately and thereafter be relieved of and held harmless by the Commonwealth from any and all liability for any claim or claims which exist at such time with reference to such unclaimed funds or which thereafter may be made or may come into existence on account of or in respect to any such unclaimed funds

Section 8 Refunds

(a) Any person legally entitled to any monies which have been paid to the department may at any time apply to the Board of Finance and Revenue for a refund of the same and upon his making proof to the satisfaction of the Board of (1) ownership or right of possession and (2) that such person shall not have made claim for or received such monies from the life insurance company under whose policy or policies they were due and payable such monies shall be paid to such person on the requisition of the Board and the warrant of the Auditor General drawn on the State Treasurer in conformity therewith out of any monies in the State Treasury appropriated for the purpose with interest thereon at the rate of two per centum per annum from the date when the said monies were paid to the department to the date of refund thereof

(b) Any life insurance company which has paid to the department monies deemed unclaimed funds pursuant to the provisions of this act may make payment to any person appearing to such company to be entitled thereto and upon proof of such payment and proof of the payee's ownership or right to possession to the satisfaction of the Board of Finance and Revenue such monies shall be paid to such life insurance company on the requisition of the Board and the warrant of the Auditor General drawn on the State Treasurer in conformity therewith out of any monies in the State Treasury appropriated for the purpose or if the monies so appropriated are inadequate or if no such appropriation has been made the amount to be refunded shall be entered by the department as a credit to the account of the claimant Such credit or any part thereof shall be assignable to any other person firm association or corporation and may be used by any such assignee in payment and satisfaction of any obligation or liability then or thereafter due by such assignee to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

(c) Any claimant for any such refund of money under either subsection (a) or (b) of this section may appeal by petition to the court of common pleas of Dauphin County from an adverse decision of the Board of Finance and Revenue which court shall thereupon hear such testmony as may be offered in support of the claim and determine whether or not the claimant is entitled to any refund of money and if so the amount thereof or the nature or character thereof If the court find that he is so entitled it shall report its findings to the Board and order the making of a refund of the proper amount of money Thereupon the refund shall be made in the manner hereinbefore provided No such appeal shall be entertained however unless the claimant shall file with his petition an affidavit that all proof which he proposes to offer in support of the claim had been presented to the Board of Finance and Revenue before that Board acted adversely upon his claim

(d) An appeal may be taken by either party from the judgment of the court of common pleas of Dauphin County in any action arising under the provisions of paragraph (c) of this section as in other cases

Section 9 Records required The department shall keep in its office a public record of each payment of unclaimed funds received by it from any life insurance company Such record shall show in alphabetical order the name and last address of each insured and of each beneficiary or other person who according to the company's reports may have an interest in such unclaimed funds and with respect to each policy its number the name of the company and the amount due

Section 10 Payments to other states This act shall not apply to or affect any unclaimed funds which have been paid to another state or jurisdiction prior to the effective date hereof

Section 11 Other acts not applicable No other statute of this Commonwealth now in force relating to escheat or payment into the State Treasury without escheat of unclaimed funds of life insurance companies shall apply to any unclaimed funds covered by this act nor shall any such statute hereafter enacted so apply unless specifically made applicable by its provisions

Section 12 Penalties Failure to make reports false oath in report

(a) If it shall appear that any company has wilfully failed at any time to make any report required under the provisions of this act such company shall be liable to pay to the Commonwealth interest at the rate of twelve per centum per annum from the time such report should first have been made to be computed upon the value of said reportable items as finally established in any proceedings under the provisions of this act and to be recovered in such proceedings

(b) The making of a wilful false oath in any report required under the provisions of this act shall be perjury and punishable as such according to law If any officer or employe of any company required to make a report under the provisions of this act shall wilfully fail to make such report when and as required by this act he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1000) or imprisonment not exceeding three months either or both in the discretion of the court

Section 13 Bar of statutes of limitation The bar of statutes of limitation and presumptions of payment shall not affect the duty of making reports and payments to the Commonwealth under the provisions of this act

Section 14 Effective date This act shall take effect January 1 1950

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 786, as follows:

An Act for the protection and conservation of shad in the Delaware River and Bay and their tributaries by regulating the take or catch thereof

Section 1 Declaration of Policy It is hereby declared that since fish at large in the waters of this State are a natural resource that protection and conservation of this resource in the public interest in the obligation of the State

It is hereby further declared that the shad which inhabit the waters of the Delaware River system constitute a potentially valuable source of food and raw materials and under proper management are capable of producing a constant and abundant harvest without depletion of the species and consequent shortages of supply that the important shad fishery of the Delaware River has been depleted so that the actual harvest is far below the potential yield of this resource which at one time yielded as much as 16,000,000 fish yearly but in recent years has yielded only a few hundred thousand pounds that this depletion has caused a denial to the consuming public of a constant and adequate supply of these vitamin rich foods within a reasonable price range that consistent and abundant supply would make possible and has caused decline and instability in the fishing industry in this river system and that the restoration of this species in the Delaware River has become an enterprise of vast economic importance to the State

It is therefore declared to be the policy of this State that it is a matter of public interest and for the public welfare and health for the State to take such measures as are necessary to control the intensity of fishing pressure in order that the restoration of this valuable species may be accomplished and that the species may attain the maximum sustained yield consistent with the preservation of an adequate brood stock It is further declared that legislative limitation of the size of the mesh of nets size limits and other like measures are not effective in conserving this species

In accordance with the purposes of the Atlantic States Marine Fisheries Compact to which this State is a party and in order to carry out the policy of the State as it relates to the shad inhabiting the waters of the Delaware River and in order to restore this depleted fishery it is declared necessary proper and expedient to establish a system of licensing designed to control increase in the intensity of fishing pressure so that increases in fishing pressure will be brought into balance with the population of shad in the Delaware to the end that the shad fisheries of the waters of the Delaware River and its tributaries shall be restored and shall produce the maximum sustained yield consistent with the conservation of that species It is further declared that since the stabilization of fishing operations has been herein declared an activity promoting the public interest the payment of license fees and the imposing and controlling of the restrictive provisions of this act upon the general public is an equitable contribution on its part arising from the privileges of harvesting this natural resource

Section 2 Permitted Gear The use of any net or device other than those set forth below for the catching of shad in Delaware River and Delaware Bay and their tributaries is prohibited

For the purpose of regulating the shad fishery of the Delaware Bay and River and tributaries of both all that part of the river and its tributaries above a line drawn from the monument on the Delaware shore at or near Listons Point and the corresponding monument at or near the mouth of New Hope Creek on the New Jersey shore as established by the Commissioners of the States of New Jersey and Delaware under the Compact of 1905 and subsequent enabling legislation of the two States shall be deemed to be the Delaware River and all the waters of the Delaware Bay south of such line and the tributaries emptying therein down to a line connecting the Harbor of Refuge Light at Cape Henlopen Delaware with the lighthouse at Cape May New Jersey shall be deemed to be the Delaware Bay

A Gear Permitted in Delaware Bay and Tributaries

(1) Haul Seines Not less than five and one-fourth (5¼) inches stretched mesh while being fished and not to exceed four hundred twenty (420) feet in length whether singly or attached

(2) Fyke or Hoop Nets With leaders not exceeding one hundred eighty (180) feet in length and no part of the net or leaders to be less than two and one-half (2½) inches stretched mesh while being fished

(3) Stake Gill Nets either Staked or Anchored The smallest stretched mesh shall be three (3) inches while being fished and shall not exceed one hundred eighty (180) feet in length but a shad net with minimum stretched mesh of five and one-fourth (5¼) inches while being fished may exceed one hundred eighty (180) feet but may not be greater than three hundred (300) feet in length

(4) Drift Gill Nets (run around or stab nets) The smallest mesh of which shall be two and three-fourths (2¾) inches stretched while being fished the length of which shall not exceed one thousand two hundred (1200) feet

(5) Hand line including rod and reel

B Gear Permitted in Delaware River and Tributaries All of the gear enumerated above as permitted in paragraph A

Section 3 Season and Lift Period The taking of shad in the Delaware River and Bay and their tributaries except between March first and June tenth of each year is hereby prohibited During this season when shad may be caught it shall be unlawful for any nets to be in operation between two o'clock post meridian on Saturday and midnight Sunday of each week

Section 4 Licensed Gear and Operations The Pennsylvania Board of Fish Commissioners hereinafter referred to as the "Board" begininng January first one thousand nine hundred fifty shall by a special shad license permit the use in the waters of the Delaware River and Bay and their tributaries within this State of the nets specified in section two for the taking of shad No person shall use any such net to take shad in these waters without first procuring a shad license from the board

All shad licenses shall be issued for the duration of a fishing season beginning on March first and expiring on June tenth of the same year and shall be renewable annually for the same period except as provided herein

Section 5 Eligibility for License The Pennsylvania Board of Fish Commissioners shall annually issue shad licenses to operate such permitted nets in the waters of the Delaware River and Bay and their tributaries to all persons making applications for the same and paying the fees required therefor provided that (a) no license shall be granted to a person not engaged in such operations during the season immediately preceding that for which application for such shad license is made except as hereinafter provided and except as to the issuance of shad licenses for that season beginning March first one thousand nine hundred fifty a shad license shall be granted to any person making application therefor who was engaged in such fishing operations for four or more of the last ten years immediately prior to the enactment of this section (b) no licenses shall be granted to authorize any applicant to extend his operation beyond those of the last year in which those operations were carried on either by increasing the fishing capacity or the size or number of units of gear employed at that time except as provided hereinafter

Section 6 Granting of Additional Licenses When the United States Fish and Wildlife Service shall certify that the catch of shad in the Delaware River and Bay and their tributaries for the preceding year totals five hundred thousand fish the Commissioner of Fisheries of the State of Pennsylvania hereinafter referred to as "Commissioner" shall consult with the pertinent administrative and other officials of the States of New York New Jersey and Delaware constituting the Middle Atlantic Section of Atlantic States Marine Fisheries Commission and with their technical advisers of the United States Fish and Wildlife Service and after such consultation and on the basis of all the scientific evidence available to him through these and other sources if he shall find that a limited number of additional operators or increased units of gear may be licensed for the following season without impairing the annual yield of the fishery he may authorize additional licenses

In determining the number of additional licenses the commissioner shall give due consideration to the findings of the United States Fish and Wildlife Service He may enter into such administrative agreements with the pertinent administrative officials of any of the other States above enumerated as may be necessary to establish a joint limitation of licenses and such cooperative programs as may be deemed necessary for the reestablishment of the shad fishery of the Delaware River and Bay and their tributaries in such manner as to promote the maximum sustained annual yield therefrom

When additional units of gear are to be licensed the commissioner shall give public notice by advertisement once a week for two successive weeks in a least two daily newspapers of the counties of the State bordering on the Delaware River of the additional units of gear to be licensed and the areas where the same may operate and shall state that applications may be received up to the first day of January next succeeding the publication of the notice. The Commissioner of Fisheries may decline to receive any application for such an additional license when after due notice and opportunity of hearing he shall find that the applicant is not qualified by character experience financial responsibility and equipment to conduct properly the fishing operation applied for or when after due notice and hearing he shall find that it is necessary in order to maintain the stability of the industry or prevent conditions leading to monopoly to prefer the applications of new operators over the extension of the operatlons of previous licenses or in the licensing of extended operations to prefer small operators over large On January first of each year the board shall issue such additional licenses as may be authorized for that year under the provisions of this section the recipients of such licenses and the locations of fixed nets to be chosen by lot from among the applications received whenever there are more applicants than available licenses or more than one applicant for any location

Section 7 Location of Nets The commissioner shall not grant a license to any person to operate a fixed net on the location already occupied by another licensee or within fifteen hundred (1500) feet thereof measured at right angles to the line of stakes unless such other licensee shall have failed to apply for renewal of his license on or before January first of the year for which such license is to be granted

Section 8 Withdrawal of Licenses When the United States Fish and Wildlife Service shall certify on the basis of scientific evidence that the catch of shad in the Delaware River and Bay and their tributaries has declined one hundred thousand fish or more under the previous year's catch in such waters and that there is evidence of prospective depletion of when the commissioner after investigation and on the basis of scientific evidence shall find that the fishery is threatened by depletion or that the fishing rate is too high to permit the continuance of a constant annual yield or that present exploitation threatens the future maximum yield of that fishery he shall provide for the withdrawal in the following season of some or all of the licenses previously issued In this connection he may enter into administrative agreements with the pertinent administrative officials of the other States above mentioned for the purpose of arranging a joint reduction of units of gear

When units of gear are to be reduced the commissioner shall give public notice in the manner set forth in section six of intention to do so and of the number and character of units of gear to be withdrawn and from which areas In affecting a reduction of fiishing effort under the provisions of this paragraph the commissioner shall withdraw shad licenses to be affected in the inverse order in which such shad licenses were issued except that if reduction of fishing intensity is sought with respect to a particular area or a particular operation license withdrawals shall be in the inverse order in which such lilcenses were issued for that area or operation In all instances where this procedure cannot be followed resort shall be had to lots

Section 9 Shad License Identification All shad licenses shall list specifically the number and type of units of gear or the length of gear authorized and the area in which they are licensed to operate if the operations authorized are so limited as to area

Section 10 Renewal of Licenses A shad licensee who does not engage in any or some of the fishing operations licensed may renew his license for such operations in the following season but if he fails to engage in some or all of the operations licensed for two successive seasons he shall lose his right to renew and must apply for any further license as a new applicant with respect to those operations licensed but not engaged in

Section 11 Interstate Cooperation The commissioner is authorized and directed to meet and confer with the pertinent officials of the States of New York New Jersey Pennsylvania and Delaware constituting the Middle Atlantic Section of the Atlantic States Marine Fisheries Commission and to enter into such agreements with respect to the coordination of research enforcement or any other operations or facilities as may be necessary to secure joint management of the shad fishery of the Delaware River and Bay and their tributaries

board and shall provide a copy of his record for the board at weekly intervals during the fiishing season

Section 13 Transfer of Shad Licenses Any shad lilcense to operate any nets permitted under this act may be transferred whenever the ower of the nets boats gear and other equipment shall sell or convey the same by bill of sale for a bona fide consideration to any person who is eligible under the provisions of this act Such transfer shall be made only upon surrender of the outstanding shad license and the execution of an application by the new owner or owners as in the case of an original application and the payment of the sum of two dollars and fifty cents ($2.50) as a transfer fee whereupon the board shall issue a new shad license for the remainder of the license season

Section 14 Suspension Revocation Penalty The board after due notice and hearing may suspend for a suitable period the shad license of any person who shall be found by them to have

(1) Made a false statement in the application for a license

(2) Violated any shad regulation contained in this act or have

(3) Failed to make required shad reports

For a second infraction the board may after due notice and hearing revoke the shad license of the offender

Such hearing shall be conducted and the decision of the board on the issue involved shall be rendered in accordance with the provisions of the Administrative Agency Law and its amendments approved June fourth one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 1388) relating to adjudication

Any applicant or licensee aggrieved by any adjudication of the board shall have the right to appeal therefrom to the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County and have a judicial review of such adjudication within the time and in the manner and with the same effect as is provided by the Administrative Agency Law and the Rules of Civil Procedure promulgated by the Supreme Court for judicial review of adjudications of agencies of the Commonwealth Such appeal shall not act as a supersedeas but the licensee may continue to fish for shad up to the date of the final decision of the court without being held to have violated the provisions of this act

Any person violating the provisions of this act is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than five hundred dollars ($500) or undergo imprisonment for a term not exceeding sixty (60) days or both

Section 15 License Fees The board is authorized to issue the following shad fishing licenses which shall be valid only during the shad fishing season for which issued as provided in this act upon written application therefore signed by the applicant and upon payment to said board of the following fees

Commercial Shad Fishing License $10.00
Non-Commercial Shad Fishing License under which applicant is not permitted to catch more than ten shad in any one day .....$ 1.00

Section 16 In the event that the United States Fish and Wildlife Service shall be renamed or reorganized the succeeding agency of the United States Government charged with the conservation of fisheries shall be called upon for the purposes of this act

Section 17 The provisions of this act shall become effective on the first day of December one thousand nine hundred forty-nine

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

SENATE BILL No. 490 CALLED UP

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I call up, out of order, on the Second Reading Calendar, Senate Bill No. 490, for consideration at this time.

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 490, entitled:

An Act to provide for the prompt peaceful and just settlement of labor disputes between employers engaged in public utility transportation subject to the jurisdiction of the Commonwealth and the Public Utility Commission and their employes which threaten to cause an interruption of such transportation facilities prescribing procedure for the adjustment and settlement of such disputes by collective bargaining and the intervention of a conciliator prohibiting for a certain period of time but preserving the right to strike stop work or lockout and conferring jurisdiction upon the courts of common pleas to enforce compliance with the provisions of the act

The first, second, third, fourth and fifth sections were read and agreed to.

The sixth section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. KEPHART offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 6, page 5, line 9, by inserting after the word "ballot" the following: "If a majority of those voting on the question shall vote in favor of accepting the offer then such offer shall become effective, and if the same involves a dispute relating to wages, hours, or other conditions of employment that should be adjusted by collective bargaining, the effective period shall date from the date of the appointment of the mediator by the Governor and shall continue effective for one years from that date" Amend Sec 6, page 5, line 15, by inserting after the word "appropriate" the following: "under the authority and power that he now possesses."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. LANE and Mr. HALUSKA and were as follows: viz:

be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MALLERY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I would like to make a few short remarks before introducing a bill.

Mr. President, I cannot take too much credit for the authorship of this bill because it is an amendment or a revision, rather of the Meade-Frazier F.E.P.C. Bill. I am sorry that the sponsors of the Meade-Frazier Bill did not see fit to join me in the sponsorship of this bill. I would have liked to have had them sponsor the bill because I know they have worked hard on that measure, and there are, in my opinion, many good features in the Meade-Frazier Bill, and much of the Meade-Frazier Bill is in this bill. However, there is a great departure in this bill from the Meade-Frazier Bill.

Mr. President, I believe that anyone who is capable of holding a job certainly is capable of making application to the Commission if he has a grievance. This bill provides that complaints can only be made by the aggrieved party or his attorney.

One other feature that differs somewhat in this bill from the Meade-Frazier Bill is that mediators are provided in this bill. After a complaint is made to the Commission, the Commission could, if it saw fit, refer it to a mediator who would meet with the aggrieved party and the respondent, and endeavor to work out the matter amicably. I have been told that in New York and New Jersey, and other states where they have an F. E. P. C. Bill, that the great majority of complaints are worked out amicably. If the mediator is not able to work the matter out, then the Commission either as a whole or one of the Commissioners can endeavor to effect a reconciliation. If they are not successful, the aggrieved party has the right of appeal to the court of common pleas.

Mr. President, I have not just taken a sudden interest in fair employment practices. I recall that during my first Session in the Legislature, I think it was in the Session of 1937, that partially, at least, through my efforts, an amendment which Representative Homer Brown inserted in the House became a part and is still a part of our labor relations law. I hope that all people who are sincerely interested in Fair Employment Practices will lend their support to this Bill even though some of the features that were in the Meade-Frazier Bill are not incorporated in this bill.

Mr. President, Senator Mahany has cooperated with me, and I am pleased, on behalf of Senator Mahany and myself, to rise in place and present to the Chair a bill.

Messrs. MALLERY and MAHANY read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 903, entitled:

An Act prohibiting certain practices of discrimination by employers, employment agencies and labor organizations as herein defined and others because of race, color, religious creed, national origin or ancestry; creating the Pennsylvania Fair Employment Practice Commission; defining its functions, powers and duties; providing for the procedure and enforcement, and for formulation of an educational program to prevent prejudice; providing for judicial review and enforcement; providing for punishment of violations of court orders; and making an appropriation.

Which was committed to the Committee on Labor and Industry.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. FRAZIER asked and obtained unanimus consent to address the Senate.

Mr. FRAZIER. Mr. President, I just want to say that Senator Mallery very graciously and kindly invited Senator Meade and myself to act as co-sponsors on this bill with him. Senator Mallery, throughout his entire discussion, has been very kind, very courteous, and very much interested in F. E. P. C., but I, after rather mature deliberation, felt it might be unwise on my part to co-sponsor a bill which in any way modified the legislation which Senator Meade and I proposed.

Mr. President, we spent many hours, day and night, in drafting what we thought would be a proper bill. We collaborated with those who were interested, and I rather felt that it might be an attempt to recede from our position if we co-sponsored any bill which was not quite in conformity with the bill which we originally drafted, but I want to say that I am very happy, indeed, that Senator Mallery has of this date introduced a bill, and I hope that it will be satisfactory to the Senate, and I assure him that I will support it with every ounce of energy that I have.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary for further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. O'Donnell.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. O'DONNELL. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. O'Donnell, understand the contents of this bill?

Mr. O'DONNELL. In my own opinion, I do, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, what is the necessity for the recommitment of the bill?

Mr. O'DONNELL. For further study, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Further study as to what, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, with respect to whether or not justices of the peace, aldermen or magistrates should have jurisdiction covering trespass and trespass on the case. A further question, I understand, has arisen with respect to the constitutionality of the bill in its present form.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, is not the gentleman from Philadelphia a member of the Committee on Judiciary?

Mr. O'DONNELL. I am, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, was not the bill considered as to whether or not this jurisdiction offered justices of the peace should not be increased?

Mr. O'DONNELL. I cannot answer that, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, was the gentleman from Philadelphia present when the bill was considered in the committee?

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, I do not recall.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, what in the bill would make it unconstitutional in the opinion of the gentleman from Philadelphia?

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, involving cities of the first class, there is a constitutional provision setting up magistrates in Philadelphia County.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, if this bill did not apply under the bill setting up magistrates in cities of the first class, what would prevent this bill being passed and applied to other first class cities?

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, I haven't studied with that broad subject or practice in mind. I only look at it preliminarily out of perhaps self interest as it would affect me, as I know people who sometimes resort to magistrates in Philadelphia County. Perhaps other members of the bar who know something about the jurisdiction of aldermen or justices of the peace in counties of the second class to the eighth class would be better able to answer that question.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, could not this be accomplished by putting this bill on the postponed calendar and thus give the gentleman an opportunity to make that study?

Mr. O'DONNELL. That is up to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Speaker. I have no objection to him doing so but I still think a matter like this should be studied in committee where it does not take the time of the entire House, especially when we have such important business as we are approaching the closing day.

I would like to insist upon the motion that it be considered at this time, but, of course, I do not want to be unfair to the gentleman from Allegheny. I would like to give the matter further study and I presume he did so when he presented the bill.

Mr. SCHMIDT. No, Mr. Speaker, I understood that the gentleman from Philadelphia desired further study and I thought perhaps this could be accomplished by placing this bill on the postponed calendar.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to explain the matter further, but the gentleman has raised the question with respect to counties of the first and second class, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth classes. I am no authority even with respect to the law pertaining to Philadelphia County, a county of the first class. I think this committee, which was composed mostly of members of the bar gave this matter full consideration in Committee, that is where they considered the problem which is involved.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, was not this same question raised by the gentleman from Philadelphia in the Committee?

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, I prefer not to answer that question because I do not think it is pertinent to the issue involved. Further, what goes on in Committee is confidential.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, was it not the opinion of the members of the Judiciary Committee that this bill would apply to counties of the first class?

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, I could not say. If the gentleman from Allegheny wishes to make that statement, that is up to him, but I will not relate to anyone what has taken place in Committee, as I understand there is a prohibition against it under the Rules of the House.

Mr. SCHMIDT. This is all.

Mr. Speaker, this bill in question received all the consideration that has been raised by the questions asked here by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. O'Donnell. This bill would take care of a situation that now exists whereby insurance companies and utilities—I do not want to discuss the bill; I think it is necessary in this case because of the fact that this will was in a committee made up almost wholly of members of the bar, and I think that this bill has received the study necessary for it to be put out on the floor and I ask each and every Member of this House to vote "no" on this motion to recommit.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Schmidt.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SCHMIDT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman familiar with the veto of Act No. 27 of July 31, 1941, by former Governor James?

Mr. SCHMIDT. I am not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Allegheny wish me to read it? I will submit it for consideration. I might say it covers the veto message from the Governor on an identical bill, word for word. Not only does it raise the constitutional question but says that in the opinion of the then Attorney General, Mr. Reno, the bill was unconstitutional as drawn, but for other reasons the bill should not be enacted into law.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1216, entitled:

An Act abating certain tax penalties and interest on unpaid county city borough town township school district poor district and county institution district taxes prohibiting the sale of real property for the nonpayment of any such taxes for a certain period and preserving certain tax liens and providing for the extension thereof

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. McKINNEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on State Government for further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, I have no objection to this bill being recommitted to the Committee on State Government, inasmuch as it will affect the government of practically all of the municipal bodies of this state. It begins to look like a field day for those opposed to anything that has the name of Schmidt on it.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1268, entitled:

An Act to further amend section two thousand four hundred seventy of the act, approved the fourth day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven (P. L. 519), entitled "An act concerning boroughs and revising, amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs," by authorizing boroughs furnishing electricity to make contracts for the exchange of electrical current among themselves.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Public Utilities for further study.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

Senate Bill No. 63, Printer's No. 167,

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 546, entitled:

An Act to repeal section five hundred fifty of the act, approved the first day of June, one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 1242), entitled "An act relating to roads, streets, highways and bridges; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws administered by the Secretary of Highways and by the Department of Highways relating thereto," so as to remove the limit of expenditures of Commonwealth funds for highway purposes on streets in cities of the first class.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 581, entitled:

An Act to further amend section three of the act approved the thirteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven (P. L. 988) entitled "An act providing for and regulating the State registration of nurses and licensed attendants the annual recording of registration certificates and regulating the profession of nursing and repealing certain existing laws" by further providing for emergency registration of nurses

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. WESCOTT offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 3), page 3, line 19, by inserting a bracket before and after the word "twelve" and inserting immediately thereafter: "thirty-five."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 3), page 3, line 20, by inserting a bracket before the word "where."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 3), page 4, line 1, by inserting a bracket after the word "given" and inserting immediately thereafter: "which required the satisfactory completion of a course of training equivalent at least to the minimum requirements then in effect."

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The second section and title were separately read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 658, entitled:

An Act to amend subsection (b) of section two thousand four hundred thirty-three and section two thousand four hundred forty-three of the act, approved the tenth day of March, one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (Act No. 14), entitled "An act relating to the public school system, including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto," by changing the compensation of auditors in districts of the third and fourth class.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE RECALLED FROM GOVERNOR

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 176, as follows:

An Act validating certain sheriffs' sales of real estate for non-payment of taxes and other municipal liens and validating the title to such real estate in the hands of purchasers their heirs grantees and assigns

Section 1 All sheriffs' sales of real estate for the non-payment of taxes sewer liens pavement liens and other municipal liens heretofore held under the provisions of any act of Assembly where the liens for such taxes and other municipal claims were filed and where the taxes assessed or other municipal claims were actually due and unpaid are hereby made valid notwithstanding the fact that prior to such sales executions upon any judgments recovered upon any such taxes and other municipal claims have been by writ or fieri facias instead of by writ of levari facias and the titles to all such real estate in the hands of the purchasers thereof their heirs grantees and assigns are hereby declared to be good and valid to all intents and purposes

Section 203 Creation of new cities boroughs and townships When a new school district is formed by the creation of a new city borough or township the Court of Common Pleas having jurisdicition shall determine and enter in its decree the class of school districts to which such new district if formed shall belong and if of the first or second [or third] class it shall thereupon become a new school district of such class If the newly created city borough or township would constitute a school district of the fourth class the Court of Common Pleas having jurisdiction shall so certify and a new school district shall be formed only if and when it is approved by the State Council of Education as hereinafter provided

Section 227 Filing Copy of Action Creating New District or Affecting Fourth Class District With Superintendent of Public Instruction Whenever a new school district is created by the creation of a new city borough township or independent school district or by the consolidation of two or more districts as a union district or an existing school district of the third or fourth class is affected by the annexation to a city or borough or township [or] of territory included within a school district of the third or fourth class the Clerk of the Courts or other proper officer shall within ten days thereafter make a certified copy of the petition therefore agreement or ordinance and the decree or order creating such new city borough township or independent school district or union school district or of the decree of the court or vote of the electors affecting such annexation and mail the same to the Superintendent of Public Instruction Department of Public Instruction Harrisburg Pennsylvania

Section 228 Approval or Disapproval of Creation or Change of Fourth Class Districts (a) If the newly created city borough or township or independent school district or union school district or the part of a school district remaining after the separation would constitute a school district of the third or fourth class the receipt of said certified copy shall be deemed an application for the creation of a new school district of the third or fourth class or change in the boundaries of existing school district of the third or fourth class and the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall within sixty days thereafter cause the State Council of Education to be convened the Council shall thereupon consider such application and with the approval of the County Board of School Directors determine whether such new school district or independent school district or union school district or change in the boundaries of an existing school district of the third or fourth class is desirable and whether the welfare of the pupils within the territory affected thereby will be promoted by the creation of such district or change in the boundaries of such existing district

(b) If the Council shall approve such application it shall certify its findings and its approval of such new district or change in such existing district thereon and transmit a certified copy thereof to the Clerk of the Courts or other proper officer from whom the application was received who shall file the same in such original procedings whereupon the new city borough or township will become a new school district of the third or fourth class or the school district of the third or fourth class remaining after such annexation shall constitute a separate school district as so changed

(c) If in the judgment of the Council or of the County Board of School Directors the application should not be granted [it] the council shall endorse thereon "not approved" and transmit a certified copy thereof to the Clerk of the Courts or other proper officer from whom the application was received who shall file the same in the original proceedings In such event the boundaries of the existing school districts shall remain unchanged provided the State Council of Education [may] for cause shown upon subsequent application by ten taxables of a school district of the third or fourth class not coterminous with a city borough incorporated town or township may with the approval of the County Board of School Directors vacate such refusal and may approve the creation of such new district of the third or fourth class or change in boundaries of an existing district of the third or fourth class and thereupon the same proceedings shall be had as herein provided upon the original application and with like effect

Section 307 Newly Formed Districts Where a new school district of the first second or third class is formed by the creation of a new city borough or township and where a new school district of the third or fourth class is so formed and is approved by the County Board of School Directors and by the State Council of Education the Court of Common Pleas having jurisdiction shall appoint a Board of School Directors for such new school district which shall serve until the first Monday of December next following the first municipal election occurring more than thirty (30) days after the formation of such new school district

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective on the first day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-nine

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker —

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman rise?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, to find out from the sponsor just what this bill does.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Stuart, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STUART. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to interrogate the gentleman. I just want him to tell us what this bill does.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny explain the purpose of the bill?

Mr. STUART. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of the bill is to protect small, weak school districts through the creation of new cities, boroughs, towns and townships, or through annexation proceedings.

It sometimes happens when a new borough is created out of a township that the resultant school district in the township is too small to take care of itself. By taking care of itself I mean adequately provided with proper facilities.

This bill provides that when a consolidation takes place that the school district shall remain as it is unless approved by the State Board of Education and by the county board of school directors. What it does is to place a third class school district under state regulations as is now done in effect in fourth class districts.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Krise,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 877, entitled:

An Act to amend sections five ten and twenty-two of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 665) entitled "An act relating to the performance of industrial work in homes regulating and in certain cases prohibiting industrial homework imposing duties restrictions and liabilities on industrial homeworkers and on persons partnerships associations and corporations directly or indirectly furnishing materials and articles to home-workers for manufacture or work thereon requiring permits and homeworkers' certificates and prescribing the fees therefor conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Labor and Industry and prescribing penalties" by providing for exemptions in certain cases

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Labor Relations for further study.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 895, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the twenty-second day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 837) entitled as amended "An act providing for and requiring in certain cases preference in appointments to and retention in public position or on public works for honorably discharged persons who served in the military or naval service during any war in which the United States engaged and in certain cases for the widows and wives of such persons" by giving additional preferences to certain disabled soldiers and their wives

Section 1 Sections three and four of the act approved the twenty-second day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 837) entitled as amended "An act providing for and requiring in certain cases preference in appointments to and retention in public position or on public works for honorably discharged persons who served in the military or naval service during any war in which the United States engaged and in certain cases for the widows and wives of such persons" are hereby amended to read as follows

Section 3 Whenever any soldier shall successfully pass a civil service appointment or promotional examination for a public position under the Commonwealth or any political subdivision thereof and shall thus establish that he possesses the qualifications required by law for appointment to or promotion in such public position such soldier's examination shall be marked or graded an additional ten points or in the case of a disabled soldier having a service connected disability of ten per cent or more as recognized by the Veterans Administration fifteen points above the mark or grade credited for the examination and the total mark or grade thus obtained shall represent the final mark or grade of such soldier and shall determine his standing on any eligible or promotional list certified or furnished to the appointing or promoting power

Section 4 Whenever any soldier possesses the requisite qualifications and is eligible to appointment to or promotion in a public position where no such civil service examination is required the appointing power in making an appointment or promotion to a public position shall give [preference to such soldier] first preference to a disabled soldier having a service connected disability of ten per cent or more as recognized by the Veterans Administration and second preference to any other soldier

Whenever any soldier possesses the requisite qualifications and his name appears on any eligible or promotional list certified or furnished as the result of any such civil service examination the appointing or promoting power in making an appointment or promotion to a public position shall give [preference to such soldier] first preference to a disabled soldier having a service connected disability of ten per cent or more as recognized by the Veterans Administration and second preference to any other soldier notwithstanding that his name does not stand highest on the eligible or promotional list

In making an appointment or promotion to public office where such a civil service examination is required the appointing or promotional power [may give preference to any soldier] shall give first preference to a disabled soldier having a service connected disability of ten per cent or more as recognized by the Veterans Administration and second preference to any soldier who has passed the required examination for appointment or promotion to such position and possesses the requisite qualifications although his name does not appear on the eligible or promotional list certified or furnished to the appointing or promoting power

Section 2 Said act is hereby amended by adding immediately following section six point one a new section to read as follows

Section 6.2 Whenever a reduction in force is necessary in any public position or on public works of this Comconwealth and its political subdivisions a soldier with a service rating in his position of satisfactory or better or its numerical equivalent shall be retained in preference to persons who are not soldiers notwithstanding any other provisions of law to the contrary

Section 3 Section seven of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 7 The same preferential rating given to soldiers under the provisions of this act shall be extended to include the widows [and wives of disabled] of soldiers and the wives of disabled soldiers which soldiers by reason of their disability are unable to qualify for appointment to a public position along the lines of their usual occupation or employment

Section 4 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 980, Printer's No. 559

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1047, as follows:

An Act providing for the enforcement of foreign judgments by the registration thereof in the courts of this Commonwealth prescribing procedure for the obtaining of jurisdiction over the judgment debtor the raising of defenses thereto appeals therefrom and execution thereon and saving existing methods of enforcing the same

Section 1 Definitions As used in this act

(1) "Foreign judgment" means any judgment decree or order of a court of the United States or of any state or territory which is entitled to full faith and credit in this State

(2) "Register" means to file a foreign judgment in a court of this State

(3) "Levy" means to take control of or create a lien upon property under any judicial writ or process whereby satisfaction of a judgment may be enforced against such property

(4) "Judgment debtor" means the party against whom a foreign judgment has been rendered

Section 2 Registration of Judgment On application made within the time allowed for bringing an action on a foreign judgment in this State any person entitled to bring such action may have a foreign judgment registered in any court of this State having jurisdiction of such an action

Section 3 Application for Registration A petition for registration shall set forth a copy of the judgment to be registered the date of its entry and the record of any subsequent entries affecting it such as levies of execution payments in partial satisfaction and the like all authenticated in the manner authorized by laws of the United States or of this State and a prayer that the judgment be registered The clerk of the registering court shall notify the clerk of the court which rendered the original judgment that application for registration has been made and shall request him to file this information with the judgment

Section 4 Personal Jurisdiction At any time after registration the petitioner shall be entitled to have summons issued and served upon the judgment debtor as in an action brought upon the foreign judgment in any manner authorized by the law of this State for obtaining jurisdiction of the person

Section 5 Notice in absence of Personal Jurisdiction If jurisdiction of the person of the judgment debtor cannot be obtained a summons clearly designating the foreign judgment and reciting the fact of registration the court in which it is registered and the time allowed for pleading shall be sent by the clerk of the registering court by registered mail to the last known address of the judgment debtor Proof of such mailing shall be made by certificate of the clerk

Section 6 Levy At any time after registration and regardless of whether jurisdiction of the person of the judgment debtor has been secured or final judgment has been obtained a levy may be made under the registered judgment upon any property of the judgment debtor which is subject to execution or other judicial process for satisfaction of judgments

Section 7 New Personal Judgment If the judgment debtor fails to plead within thirty days after jurisdiction over his person has been obtained or if the court after hearing has refused to set the registration aside the registered judgment shall become a final personal judgment of the court in which it is registered

Section 8 Defenses Any defense which under the law of this State may be asserted by the defendant in an action on the foreign judgment may be presented by appropriate pleadings and the issues raised thereby shall be tried and determined as in other civil actions Such pleadings must be filed within thirty days after personal jurisdiction is acquired over him or within sixty days after the mailing of the notice prescribed in section five

Section 9 Pendency of Appeal If the judgment debtor shows that an appeal from the original judgment is pending or that he is entitled and intends to appeal therefrom the court shall on such terms as it thinks just postpone the trial for such time as appears sufficient for the appeal to be concluded and may set aside the levy upon proof that the defendant has furnished adequate security for satisfaction of the judgment

Section 10 Effect of Setting Aside Registration An order setting aside a registration constitutes a final judgment in favor of the judgment debtor

Section 11 Appeal An appeal may be taken by either party from any judgment sustaining or setting aside a registration on the same terms as an appeal from a judgment of the same court

Section 12 New Judgment Quasi In Rem If personal jurisdiction of the judgment debtor is not secured within thirty days after the levy and he has not within thirty days after the mailing of the notice prescribed by section five acted to set aside the registration the registered judgment shall be a final judgment quasi in rem of the court in which it is registered binding upon the judgment debtor's interest in property levied upon and the court shall enter an order to that effect

Section 13 Sale under Levy Sale under the levy may be held at any time after final judgment either personal or quasi in rem but not earlier except as otherwise provided by law for sale under levy on perishable goods Sale and distribution of the proceeds shall be made in accordance with the law of this State

Section 14 Interest and Costs When a registered foreign judgment becomes a final judgment of this State the court shall include as part of the judgment interest payable on the foreign judgment under the law of the state in which it was rendered and the cost of obtaining the authenticated copy of the original judgment The court shall include as part of its judgment court costs incidental to the proceeding in accordance with the law of this State

Section 15 Satisfaction of Judgment Satisfaction either partial or complete of the orginal judgment or of a judgment entered thereupon in any other state shall operate to the same extent as satisfaction of the judgment in this State except as to costs authorized by section fourteen

Section 16 Optional Procedure The right of a judgment creditor to bring an action to enforce his judgment instead of proceedings under this act remains unimpaired

Section 17 Uniformity of Interpretation This act shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it

Section 18 Short Title This act may be cited as the "Uniform Enforcement of Foreign Judgments Act"

Section 19 Repeal All act or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

NOT VOTING—1

Krise,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1107, as follows:

An Act to amend sections three hundred sixteen and three hundred seventeen of the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (Act No. 14) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" by changing the method of filling vacancies in the boards of school directors in certain cases

Section 1 Sections three hundred sixteen and three hundred seventeen of the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (Act No. 14) entitled "An act relating to the Public School System including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" are hereby amended to read as follows

Section 316 Vacancies in Majority of Members In case vacancies occur whereby the offices of a majority of the members of any board of school directors other than the board of school directors of a school district of the first class becomes vacant [the remaining members shall fill such vacancies one at a time giving the new appointee such reasonable notice of his appointment as to enable him to meet and act with the then qualified members of the board in making further appointments until a majority of the board has been secured when the said majority shall fill the remaining vacancies at a meeting attended by the majority of said board all appointees shall receive a majority of the votes of the members present at any such meeting] such vacancies shall be filled by the court of common pleas of the county in which such school district is situated The persons selected to fill such vacancies shall hold their offices if the terms thereof continue so long until the first Monday in December after the first municipal election occurring more than thirty (30) days after their appointment at which election eligible persons shall be elected to fill the unexpired terms.

Section 317 Vacancies in All Members If at any time vacancies should exist or occur in the membership of all the members of any board of school directors in any school district other than a school district of the first class the court of common pleas of the county in which such district or the largest part in area thereof is located shall after ten (10) days from the time such vacancies exist or occur appoint a board of properly qualified persons who shall serve if the terms thereof continue so long until the first Monday in December after the first municipal election occurring more than thirty (30) days after their appointment at which election a board of directors for such district shall be elected as herein provided in such manner that the number and terms of those whose places are to be filled at each succeeding municipal election shall be the same as the number and terms of those whose places are filled at the corresponding elections in other school districts of the same class Whenever a vacancy of the entire membership of a board of school directors in any school district of the fourth class occurs the county superintendent of schools may enter and take full charge of and at the expense of the district maintain the schools thereof in accordance with the provisions of the school laws of the Commonwealth under the direction of the Superintendent of Public Instruction and may continue in charge thereof until a board of school directors has been appointed and has qualified

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective on the first day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-nine

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BRANDON. Mr. Speaker, this bill does not affect any school district within my district. The only reason I oppose this bill is a matter of principle.

There is much talk at the present time about taking the courts out of politics or taking politics out of the courts. Therefore, I think it is a very bad thing as a matter of principle for courts to make political appointments in cases where vacancies of any kind occur at any place or in any city. Because I do not believe that politics should be in the courts, I do not think the courts should be in politics, for that reason I oppose this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

An Act to repeal the act approved the third day of April one thousand eight hundred seventy-two (P. L. 751) entitled "An act to prohibit the use of billiard tables bowling-alleys dice or card tables in the township of Wyalusing in the county of Bradford" in so far as it prohibits the keeping or using of bowling-alleys in that portion of the former township which is now the Borough of Wyalusing

Section 1 The act approved the third day of April one thousand eight hundred seventy-two (P. L. 751) entitled "An act to prohibit the use of billiard tables bowling-alleys dice or card tables in the township of Wyalusing in the county of Bradford" is hereby repealed in so far as it prohibits the keeping or using of bowling-alleys in that portion of the former township which is now the Borough of Wyalusing

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I wish to inquire from the sponsor of this bill whether it is true that since 1872 there has been a Paradise in Pennsylvania in which there were no cards, no dice, no bowling alleys and no billiard tables. Has such a place existed? I would like to hear from the sponsor.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Bradford, Mr. Madigan, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MADIGAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. MADIGAN. According to law, yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. I thank the gentleman. That is all.

Article I

Adoption and Amendment of City Charters

Section 1 Cities Empowered to Adopt and Amend Charters Any city of the first class may frame and adopt a charter for its own government and may amend its charter whether the same has been originally adopted under the provisions of this act or provided by local special or general law

Section 2 Initiation of Proceedings through Charter Commission

(a) The city council of any city of the first class by a two-thirds vote of its elected members may or upon petition presented to the city council and if filed as hereinafter provided in the form prescribed by the city council signed by not less than twenty thousand registered electors of the city shall without undue delay provide by ordinance for the appointment of a commission to frame a new charter of the city and for giving public notice of the passage of said ordinance Each elector signing such petition shall add to his signature his occupation and residence and the date of signing Signatures to the said petition may be on separate sheets but each sheet shall have appended to it the affidavit of some person not necessarily a signer and not necessarily the same person as on other sheets that to the best of affiant's knowledge and belief the signers are registered electors of the city that they signed with full knowledge of the contents of the petition and that their residences are correctly given

(b) The clerk of the city council of the city shall file with the mayor of the city and with the Secretary of the Commonwealth a copy of such ordinance certified by him within the five days next following its final passage and shall also cause the public notice to be given as provided in the said ordinance

Section 3 Appointment of Members of Commission Within thirty days after the final passage of the said ordinance the president of the city council and the mayor of the city shall appoint a commission to frame a new charter consisting of fifteen registered electors of the city nine of whom shall be appointed by the president of the city council and six of whom shall be appointed by the mayor provided however that not more than six of the members appointed by the president of the city council of the city and not more than four of the members appointed by the mayor of the city shall be enrolled members of the same political party

Section 4 Vacancies Any vacancy in the membership of the commission caused by death resignation removal from the city or otherwise shall be filled by the remaining members of the commission by appointing as a member of the commission a registered elector of the city enrolled in the same political party as the member whom such appointee shall succeed

Section 5 Organization of Commission Framing of Proposed New Charter The mayor of the city shall call a meeting of the members of the charter commission so appointed within thirty days after their appointment to be held at a time and place fixed by him in his call and at such meeting the commission shall organize by selecting from their number a chairman and a secretary adopt rules to govern its proceedings and proceed to frame a new charter for the government of such city All meetings of the commission shall be open to the public except when the commission may desire an executive session All actions of the commission shall be by a majority vote of all members

Section 6 Amendments to Charter Amendments to the charter for the government of any city may be proposed by a resolution of the city council adopted with the concurrence of two-thirds of its elected members Amendments to a charter adopted under the provisions of this act may also be proposed by a petition presented to the city council of the city Such petition shall be in the form prescribed by the city council and shall be signed by not less than twenty thousand registered electors of the city and shall set forth the text of the proposed amendments and may designate and authorize not less than three nor more than five of the signers thereto to approve any alteration or change in the form or language or any restatement of the text of the proposed amendments which may be made by the city solicitor or head of the department of law of the city as provided in Section 7 of this act Each elector signing such petition shall add to his signature his occupation and residence and the date of signing signatures to the said petition may be on separate sheets but each sheet shall have appended to it the affidavit of some person not necessarily a signer and not necessarily the same person as on other sheets that to the best of affiant's knowledge and belief the signers are registered electors of the city that they signed with full knowledge of the contents of the petition and that their residences are correctly given upon the filing of such petition as hereinafter provided the presiding officer of the city council shall without undue delay submit for the consideration of the city council the question as to whether the amendments proposed thereby shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the city for their approval or disapproval if the city council by a resolution adopted with the concurrence of a majority of its elected members shall so determine such proposed amendments shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the city for their approval or disapproval otherwise the petition shall be deemed denied Upon the adoption A resolution either proposing amendments or to submit to the qualified electors of the city amendments proposed by a petition signed by registered electors the city council shall forthwith provide by ordinance for the submission of the proposed amendments to the qualified electors of the city for their approval or disapproval at a spectial election on the day fixed and designated in the ordinance in accordance with the provisions of Section 10 of this act

Section 7 Examination of petitions filing rejection when any petition is presented to the city council of the city under or pursuant to the provisions of subsection (a) of Section 2 of Section 6 of this act it shall be the duty of the clerk of the city council with the assistance and advice of the city solicitor or head of the department of law of the city to examine such petition No such petition shall be permitted to be filed if (a) it contains material errors or defects apparent on the face thereof or on the face of the appended or accompanying affidavits or (b) it contains material errors made after signing without the consent of the signers or (c) it does not contain a sufficient number of genuine signatures as required by this act Provided however That although not hereby required so to do the clerk of the city council may question the genuineness of any signature or signatures appearing thereon and if he shall thereupon find that any such signature or signatures are not genuine such signature or signatures shall be disregarded by him in determining whether the petition contains a sufficient number of signatures as required by this act or (d) in the case of amendments proposed in the petition if such proposed amendments as set forth in the petition are not in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution of the United States or of the Constitution or Laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or of this act or are not stated in such form or language as may be intelligently or properly submitted to the electors for approval or disapproval Provided however That the city solicitor or head of the department of law of the city shall have authority to and may alter or change the form or language of or restate the text of the proposed amendments by and with the approval of such signers of the petition who may have been authorized therein to approve any such alteration change or restatement and provided further That if the form or language of such proposed amendments are thus altered or changed or if the proposed amendments are thus restated the defect arising because of the original form or language in which the proposed amendments were stated shall be deemed corrected the invalidity of any sheet of a petition shall not affect the validity of such petition if a sufficient petition remains after eliminating such invalid sheet The action of the clerk of the city council in rejecting and refusing to file any petition may be reviewed by the court of common pleas of the proper county upon an application for a writ of mandamus to compel its reception as of the tenth day next following the day it was presented to the city council unless such application for a writ of mandamus shall be made and filed in the said court of common pleas within ten days after the refusal of the clerk of city council to file the petition the court shall be without jurisdiction to entertain or consider any application for a writ of mandamus or any other proceeding to compel the filing of the petition Provided however That the clerk of the city council shall be entitled to a reasonable time in which to examine any such petition and to summon and interrogate the persons presenting the petition or any of the signers thereof or any of the affiants to any of the appended or accompanying affidavits and his retention of such petition for the purpose of making such examination or interrogation shall not be construed as the filing thereof

Section 8 Objections to Petitions Any petition presented to the city council of the city under or pursuant to the provisions of sub-section (a) of Section 2 or of Section 6 of this act and if filed as hereinbefore provided shall be deemed to be valid unless within seven days after the filing of such petition a petition is presented to the court of common pleas of the proper county by not less than one hundred registered electors of the city specifically setting forth the objections thereto and praying that the said petition be set aside A copy of said petition presented to the court of common pleas shall within said period be served on the clerk of the city council of the city Upon the presentation of such a petition the court shall make an order fixing the time for hearing which shall not be later than ten days after the presentation of the petition to the court and specifying the time and manner of notice by public advertising or otherwise that shall be given of such hearing on the day fixed for said hearing the court shall proceed without delay to hear said objections and shall give such hearing precedence over any other business before it and shall finally determine said matter not later than fifteen days after the last day for presentation of such petition to the court If the court shall find that such petition is defective under the provisions of Section 7 of this act or does not contain a sufficient number of genuine signatures of registered electors entitled to sign the same under the provisions of this act it shall be set aside if the objections relate to material errors or defects apparent on the face of the petition or on the face of the accompanying or appended affidavits the court after hearing may in its discretion permit amendments within such time and upon such terms as to payment of costs as the said court may specify In case any such petition is dismissed the court shall make such order as to the payment of the costs of the proceeding including witness fees as it shall deem just

Section 9 Filing and Distribution of Proposed Charters or Amendment Framing of Ballot Question The new charter proposed by the commission or the proposed amendments which the city council of the city shall have provided by ordinance for submission to the qualified electors of the city for their approval or disapproval as provided in Section 6 of this act shall be filed with the city council which shall thereupon cause said proposal or proposals together with the form of the question or questions hereinafter provided for to be printed in pamphlet form in sufficient number for general distribution The said pamphlets shall be made ready for distribution at least twenty-eight days before the election at which the proposals aforesaid are to be voted upon by the electors and the said proposals together with the said ballot questions shall also be published once a week for three weeks in at least two newspapers of general circulation in the city Such publications shall appear during the three weeks immediately preceding the election at which the vote is to be taken upon said proposals Each ballot question shall be framed in brief form of not more than seventy-five words by the commission proposing the new charter or by the city council of the city in the case of amendments The said questions shall be stated in the report of the commission or in the ordinance of the city council Whenever a proposed new charter or amendments shall propose any change in the manner of selection of elected city officers such proposal and the necessary ballot question shall be stated separately from the remainder of the proposed new charter in the report or ordinance as the case may be and in the publications herein required The commission may require that its proposed charter be submitted in two or more parts so arranged that corresponding parts of the existing charter shall remain in effect if one or more of such parts are not adopted and may also submit alternative charters or alternative provisions to supersede designated portions of the proposed charter if adopted In such case the commission shall prescribe the form of questions in such a manner as will clearly indicate the effect of the approval of such questions All amendments to the charter shall be separately submitted. The clerk of the city council shall within five days after the filing of a new charter proposed by a charter commission or within five days after final enactment of an ordinance by the city council as foresaid providing for submission of amendments to its charter certify an exact copy of the text of such new charter or amendments together with the necessary ballot questions to the county board of elections of the county wherein such city is situate The county board of elections shall cause the said ballot questions to be properly printed on the ballots or ballot labels

Section 10 Submission of Charter or Amendments to Vote The proposed new charter or amendments shall be submitted to the electors for approval or disapproval by the use of the ballot questions framed as aforesaid at a special election occurring more than forty-five days after the proposed new charter is filed with the city council of the city or the final enactment of an ordinance by the city council providing for the submission of amendments as aforesaid In the case of a proposed new charter such special election shall be held on such day as shall be fixed and designated by the charter commission which day may be the day for holding any primary or regular November election or a day other than a day for holding any election in the city in the case of proposed amendments to a charter such special election shall be held on the day of any primary or regular November election as shall be fixed and designated by the city council in the ordinance enacted under the provisions of Section 6 of this act Whenever a proposed new charter or amendments to the charter shall propose any change in the manner of selection of elected city officers such proposal shall be submitted by a separate ballot question

Section 11 Effect of Adoption of New Charter or Amendments on Existing Laws Any new charter or amendments to the charter of a city thus proposed which are approved by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon shall become the organic law of the city at such time as may be fixed therein and all courts shall take judicial notice thereof So far as the same are consistent with the grant of powers and the limitations restrictions and regulations hereinafter prescribed they shall supersede any existing charter and all acts or parts of acts local special or general affecting the organization government and powers of such city to the extent that they are inconsistent or in conflict therewith All existing acts or parts of acts and ordinances affecting the organization government and powers of the city not inconsistent or in conflict with the organic law so adopted shall remain in full force No contract existing at the time of the adoption or amendment of a charter by a city under the provisions of this act shall be affected thereby but such contract shall have the same force and effect and be of the same validity as if such charter had not been adopted or amended

Section 12 Recording and Filing of New Charter or Amendments Printing in Pamphlet Laws The clerk of the city council of the city shall forthwith cause the said new charter or amendments as approved by the qualified electors to be recorded in the ordinance book of the city He shall also file a certified copy thereof in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and the text thereof shall be published as an appendix to the next volume of the pamphlet laws subsequently published

Section 13 Conduct of Elections Returns All elections provided for in this act shall be conducted by the election officers for such city in accordance with the Pennsylvania Election Code The election officers shall count the votes cast and make return thereof to the county board of elections The result of any such election shall be computed by the county board of elections in the same manner as is provided by law for the computation of similar returns at any such election Certificates of the result of any such

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I am cognizant of the fact that some Members of this body are a little tired of Philadelphia's problems being continually aired in this chamber. I have personally heard many Members express the hope that we should in Philadelphia take care of our own difficulties without constantly coming to the Legislature for some assistance. I thing if this were possible it would be a fine manner in which to conduct our affairs, because we would like to focus responsibility upon those who are responsible for Philadelphia's ills. However, because of the constitutional and legal limitations placed upon us, this fine situation cannot take place.

Mr. Speaker, we have for consideration before us, two bills, supposedly designed to aid Philadelphia, as the newspapers put it, "streamlining its government." Now, it is certainly time that the antiquated manner in which the government of Philadelphia is carried on is changed. I also have noted in the past, particularly in the last few days, that the Press has referred to these measures as the measures of the Philadelphia Republican organization. May I point out that insofar as the reform of the Philadelphia charter is concerned, and in so far as the city-county consolidation measures are concerned, the new leadership of the Republican organization in Philadelphia was a little belated in their espousal of this cause, because the Democratic party and the decent liberal, independent elements of the Republican party have been crying for these changes for many years. It is only recently that the organization in Philadelphia has seen fit to go part way in the endeavors of the decent elements in Philadelphia to provide this reform.

Let us look at the record. After years of corrupt government in Philadelphia, the city fathers saw fit to appoint a Committee of Fifteen to study the makeup of the Philadelphia government, and to make suggested changes and revisions designed to aid and abet the carrying out of our local governmental functions in a proper manner.

Included in the Committee of Fifteen were some of the very members of the Republican organization which have brought the city to the point where such changes were glaringly evident and apparent to the people. After a considerable period of time and study the Committee of Fifteen made certain recommendations, and these recommendations we will gladly admit, if carried out, would have gone to some extent in making the people of Philadelphia realize those who were conducting its government, were doing so with some view of rendering some aid to the taxpayers. However, immediately after the Committee of Fifteen ceased to function there was brought to the attention of the people of Philadelphia disclosures of corruption and graft, resulting in indictments and arrests for something more than just recommendations. The people of Philadelphia were completely aroused and the wrath of the people became quite evident.

The newspapers of Philadelphia who had been crying for suggested changes took up the cause of the people and clamored for changes. Along came this Session of the Legislature. In the early days of this Session the so-called new leadership of Philadelphia decided that they could douse the fire with a eye dropper.

That was the type of legislation that was introduced into the Senate by the proponents of the measure we are considering today. They attempted to extinguish the conflagration with an eye dropper. The hue and clamor that arose from the civic organizations of Philadelphia was so great that these leaders decided there was something more necessary to quiet them.

Then they came along with Senate Bill 5, and now they are attempting to douse this fire with a bucket of water. That, is all that this Senate Bill 5 attempts to do. The real changes that are necessary to meet the objections of the civic reform organizations of Philadelphia are embodied in this measure.

As I indicated last week when we offered amendments designed to meet the objection necessary to fulfill the demands of the civic reform organizations in Philadelphia,we must, first of all, permit the citizenry when necessary changes are to be made, an amendment to be made to the charter to instigate and take the initiative in forming these changes.

The organization of Philadelphia that now labels this a home rule bill, has indicated that they distrust the people of Philadelphia. They have indicated by the very provisions of this bill that they have the same distaste for the wishes of the people, the same distrust for the hopes of Philadelphians, the same total disregard for the needs of Philadelphians that they have shown in carrying out the government of Philadelphia for many years.

I submit to you, that if these so called leaders of Philadelphia were sincere in their desire of providing home rule they would certainly take heed of the recommendations of the organizations which exist in Philadelphia, such as the Committee of Seventy, the Metropolitan Committee for Philadelphia, the Bureau of Municipal Research and other organizations designed to make suggestions for necessary reform in Philadelphia.

I have been reading in the Press that these organizations have called upon the Governor of Pennsylvania to grant them an audience so that they can make recommednations for necessary changes. I have also been reading in the press that the Governor has indicated that he will grant such an audience at some time in the future.

We are here today deciding to pass this measure without an opportunity being afforded to them. One of the spokesmen for one of the finest civic reform groups, in a statement issued yesterday stated that the Republican organization in Philadelphia considers the people of Philadelphia children, they do not treat them like adults who are interested in their affairs, but as individuals who should be chastized and treated as naughty boys if they make recommendations that are contrary to the desires and viewpoints of the powers behind the Republican party.

I want to point out that this bill as presently existing is not a home rule bill for the citizens of Philadelphia; it is a home rule bill by city council, yes, the organization that controls city council. It is quite evident that city council has ruled in Philadelphia, or misruled in Philadelphia, and if we could go ahead and pass this bill without making the necessary changes designed to meet the objections of the decent elements in Philadelphia, we would merely aid them in carrying out that rule.

I submit that that is not the type of home rule that the citizens of Philadelphia demand.

Immediately to the left of the Speaker's rostrum we have a fine mural showing William Penn greeting the Indians. Many years ago, when William Penn obtained the land upon which the city of Philadelphia is now located, he indicated to the King that in addition to the right to worship God according to the dictates of conscience, he wished to have a city in which the inhabitants would have an opportunity to rule. He said then, in obtaining this grant of land from the King that justice and truth should prevail and that they would best prevail if the city of Philadelphia had an opportunity to govern themselves. When we ask for true home rule, we ask for an opportunity to be given to the people to govern themselves.

This bill denies to the peopl of Philadelphia the right to make changes that they deem fit when, as and if they see them necessary.

We in the Democratic party who have been joining with the independent elements in the Republican party in Philadelphia in crying for home rule and in crying for city-county consolidation, demand a decent home rule bill. In view of the fact that this bill is a stop-gap measure, supposedly labeled a stop-gap measure, it in truth and in fact is not really a stop-gap measure but will allow the perpetuation of rule by a discredited machine, and we ask the Members of this House to vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. GUARNIERI. Mr. Speaker, I join with my colleague, Mr. Rose, in opposition to Senate Bill 5. It is not my purpose at the present time to belabor you again with the remarks that I made last week in opposition to Senate Bill 5 when it was before the House on second reading. At that time Mr. Rose and I proposed certain amendments to Senate Bill 5 which would provide for an elected or elective charter commission to draw up a new charter for Philadelphia, in place of an appointed charter commission. It also provided that city council should not have a veto power over proposed amendments to the new constitution or new charter, if and when the same should be adopted under the present bill, if passed.

This matter is vital to Philadelphia; it involves the fundamental law and constitutional changes in the charter for Philadelphia's government.

Some time ago, on March 15, 1949, a Philadelphia Evening Bulletin editorial stated: "let everybody help".

The editorial was a criticism of the Republican party in Philadelphia and the Republican party generally, and looking upon city-county consolidation and home rule for Philadelphia as a special preserve and a special right of Republicans for city-county consolidation and home rule in Philadelphia, as special property for Republicans to handle. The city-county consolidation and home rule for Philadelphia is not the special property of the Republican party, it should be handled by both parties and all interested groups generally.

The greatest criticism of Senate Bill 5 and the Republican organization's program generally for Philadelphia is that they unconsciously have dealt with the matter of city-county consolidation and home rule as the special preserve of the Philadelphia organization. Then last week when we were voting on the amendments to Senate Bill 5 various civic organizations in Philadelphia were carrying this matter to his Honor Governor Duff.

J. Harry LaBrum, general counsel of the Chamber of Commerce, in a telegram to the Governor declared the measure introduced by Senator John W. Lord, Jr., "is unsatisfactory in its present form" and urged the Governor to invite the Philadelphia groups to meet him in Harrisburg.

At the same time, Lewis M. Stevens, Chairman of the Executive Committee of the greater Philadelphia movement denounced the bill in a telegram to Members of the Legislature, for its "failure to give the voters a voice in their own government." The effect of the Lord Bill, as now written, would be to put the charter into the hands of the political party which dominates city council, said Mr. LaBrum. "Associated with the Chamber of Commerce and the Greater Philadelphia Movement in protesting are the Bureau of Municipal Research, Citizens Council on City Planning Committee of Seventy and the Philadelphia Committee of the Pennsylvania Economy League."

It is interesting, Mr. Speaker, to note that these civic groups are opposed to Senate Bill 5, and these civic groups are now going to Governor Duff to ask him to veto Senate Bill 5 in its present form. Those that I have enumerated are groups that are dominated by members of the Republican party. It is unconscionable that certain elements of the Republican party known as the Republican machine in Philadelphia, are trying to saddle on Philadelphia Senate Bill 5.

The more responsible and better thinking liberal Republicans are opposed to Senate Bill 5. This would place home rule legislation and city-county consloidation in Philadelphia into the very hands of that group of Republicans in Philadelphia who have been so opposed to it for years, into the very hands of that organized group which made a shambles of Philadelphia's administration in city government.

My argument is not so much with the Republican party, but with a particular segment of the Republican party known as the Republican machine, in Philadelphia. The Committee of Seventy in its Journal of 1949 takes the Philadelphia government to task. This article states:

> "Politics is the powerhouse that runs your Philadelphia government. It is time we stopped the doubletalk and realized that the tentacles of selfish political perferment have reached into practically every nook and cranny of our local government, and that the administration of public affairs is determined largely through political expediency rather than in the best interest of the citizens. Therefore there is little hope of dealing realistically with the rehabilitation of Philadelphia until all of those who are interested in a greater city are willing to roll up their sleeves and work cooperatively to separate vicious practices from the administration of public affairs.
> "No wonder the people are confused."

The article goes on to state:

> "The mayor is busy trying to divert the public's attention to a greater Philadelphia of 1960, 1970, or 1980, but the people know that fire losses are increasing, the crime rate has climbed by leaps and bounds, taxes are going up, and the numbers and gamblers who infest the city have been observed plying their trades in the very shadows of City Hall. The public press keeps the citizens alerted to the horde of political drones on the public payroll who consume tax money that should be expended today on better protective services."
> "They are confused because waste and inefficiency are still rampant under the administration of the men who are so busy promising them great things in the future."

All honest citizens can agree that there is a need for reform in Philadelphia. I beseech you as a matter of good equity and conscience, as a matter of fairness, each and every one of you, to vote against Senate Bill 5 in its present form. Let your conscience be your guide, gentlemen.

I will say this to you, if you gentlemen insist upon passing Senate Bill 5 against the weighty arguments we have given to you, you will have to answer for your actions, you will have to answer in the Philadelphia election. I want to point out this shameful and unconscionable situation in Philadelphia which deprives the citizens of Philadelphia of the right to conduct their own affairs. The responsibility rests upon you and you shall answer for it.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I believe that last Wednesday we cleared up most of the objections of both of the preceding speakers.

I would like to read an article in the Philadelphia Inquirer of Saturday which I think clarifies this entire situation. It is labeled "Partisianship Poison." The article goes on to say:

> "A fairly certain way to get one political party to line up solidly against a bill is for the other party to claim it as its exclusive property. This may not be a rational state of affairs, but it is unquestionably one of the facts of political life.
> "The Home Rule bill for Philadelphia now entering its final stages in the Legislature, has from the beginning been part of the program of the Republican city committee." Other groups partisan and non-partisan, have been kept strictly out. "So naturally when the bill came to a test in the House, Philadelphia Democrats lined up against Philadelphia Republicans. The Republicans won, and the bill retains their special label."

Mr. Speaker, that is the gist of part of this little editorial.

The gentleman just said that civic groups in Philadelphia were not supporting this bill, and that the Chamber of Commerce, I believe he named it, was one of the organizations that asked the Governor to veto it when it comes to his desk. I would like to inform the gentleman that the proponents of this bill have worked with the civic groups, but I would also like to tell him that the civic groups never stay put.

For his information, it was the civic groups that asked the Republican party to put in the ripper bill of the Philadelphia registration commission. It was the civic groups that put in the petition allowing twenty-thousand of the voters to ask city council to change amendments. Now, the civic groups have changed the number of signers to the petition to one hundred thousand.

Also for the gentleman's information, in 1947 the Chamber of Commerce and the City Planning Commission definitely went behind a bill here in the House, and we passed that bill in 1947. My name was on it. It was exactly the same bill, word for word, and now today, the Chamber of Commerce is against that bill.

We cannot have people who are one way today and another way tomorrow. We cannot please everybody, as I said last week, but, believe me, we are pleasing the people of Philadelphia. This is home rule and this is what they want. Unfortunately for the other Members of the House, it happens to be a Republican measure. I am sorry that that is a fact but it is so.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I am glad that the gentleman from Philadelphia has helped clarify his position and helped clarify a number of things. Now we know; I know and you all know that Senate Bill 5 is just a piece of political pie in the sky.

The gentleman from Philadelphia knows, I know and you all know that you are going to pass this bill, you are going to swallow the gob of political pie in the sky. You are set, you are fixed; the die is cast.

You know and I know that what you do today will be a political issue, it will be a political issue in Philadelphia, it will be a political issue throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and I say that if I were tendered a political issue, if I had the matter of selecting, I could not select one that would be more to my liking.

I have noted with interest the fine contempt the gentleman from Philadelphia has for the civic groups of the city in which he takes such great pride.

I can well agree with him that this fine contempt for the civic groups of Philadelphna before this time has been justified because history shows that the civic groups have not changed, but far too frequently they have done nothing. The machine is justified in saying "Poo poo, Chamber of Commerce, poo poo, Committee of this, poo poo Committee of something else, we know how to get the votes, we control the machinery, and you, gentlemen of the civic groups, just amuse yourselves, play with reform and we will attend to the votes when election day rolls around."

Mr. Speaker, I am very pleased to note that he claims copyright and exclusive privileges for this bill. I would hate to think that it bore anything even faintly resembling a Democratic label. If Daniel Webster, Demosthenes, Cicero, William Jennings Bryan, all of the orators that have come down through the channels of time were to take the floor against this bill, you couldn't sway one vote on that side of the House. You are set, you are fixed; you have had to swallow it.How some of them have gagged at this dose!

Now, we do accept this issue. We accept the issue of decency in government, of fair play at elections, and the free will of the people of Pennsylvania. We accept that issue in the most remote district of the Commonwealth. Because of the conditions that you have in Philadelphia, more than once the will of the people of this state, as expressed by the electors of this municipality, has been thwarted. They say we cannot clean up Pennsylvania, until we clean up Philadelphia, and we cannot clean up Philadelphia until the people have a fighting issue that will bring them to the front. I say to you that we accept Senate Bill 5 as that issue.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, did I understand the gentleman from Philadelphia to say that certain civic reform groups in Philadelphia are behind Senate Bill 5?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. No, Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman misunderstood me. I said that the civic and reform groups originated some of the ideas, which they changed in Senate Bill 5.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know of any recognized civic organization in Philadelphia that is behind this measure?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I know many of them who were behind it when they first started out. I mean individuals in the groups changed their minds. When one man speaks, he doesn't speak for the group, but I would like to know what some of the votes are in the group.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman tell me whether the Second Ward Republican Executive Combittee is behind this bill?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I wouldn't be able to answer that. I come from the twenty-second ward. Maybe the gentleman from the second ward could answer that question better than I could. I will gladly yield to him.

Mr. ROSE. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith, yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Costa?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I will be only too glad to do so.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith, yields to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Costa.

Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Costa, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. COSTA. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I understand the gentleman has been holding forth that the Second Ward Republican Executive Committee was behind Senate Bill 5. Will the gentleman tell me whether that organization is behind Senate Bill 5 as presently drawn?

Mr. COSTA. Mr. Speaker, we have all gone on record as in favor of Senate Bill 5.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman tell me whether he considers the Second Ward Republican Executive Committee a reform civic group in Philadelphia.

Mr. COSTA. Mr. Speaker, I think after this bill goes through it will be.

Mr. ROSE. It thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I hope I live to see the day when in the second ward in Philadelphia we will have members of the executive committee there who are interested in reform. I doubt very much whether the boys can get away from their Armstrong sheets long enough to go ahead and recognize the reform groups in Philadelphia.

I just want to point out to the Members of the House, that the gentleman from Philadelphia indicated that the organization cannot help people who are one way today and another way tomorrow. I do wish to point out that in the transmittal of this bill from the day of its first introduction into the Senate until tonight, and in the passage of legislation concerning City-County consolidation, we found that the proponents of this measure were one way today and the following day were on a different footing. They have amended this measure so many times that it indicates to me that they have been in a constant state of confusion, or they are trying to fool the people of Philadelphia in attempting to press this measure to passage at this time. But I want to point out to those of you who will be back here in the next session of the Legislature to remember the prediction voiced by the gentleman from Cambria, and the prediction which I myself have voiced, that the people of Philadelphia are not going to take the passage of this bill lying down. We cannot hold them in utter ridicule and contempt forever. They are going to rise in their wrath and are going to show the people of Philadelphia that they are interested in decency and are interested in organizations that will pay some respect to their wishes.

I know very well that what we say here is going to be totally ignored by the gentlemen of the majority. However we of the Democratic party join with the independent Republicans and the decent elements of all parties in Philadelphia in saying that we want to give recognition to the voice of the people, and consequently we have to vote against this measure because it does not do just that.

Mr. GUARNIERI. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GUARNIERI. Mr. Speaker, speaking a few moments ago the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith, quoted from an editorial entitled "Partisanship Poison," is that correct?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I quoted part of that editorial, that is correct.

Mr. GUARNIERI. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith, stated that that editorial appeared in the Philadelphia Inquirer, is that correct?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I believe it was the Philadelphia Inquirer; it may have been the Philadelphia Bulletin.

Mr. GUARNIERI. Is it a fact that the gentleman quoted a part of that editorial?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. That is what I said, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GUARNIERI. I thank the gentleman. Did that gentleman cite that editorial in support of his contention on the bill?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I cited the editorial in support of the Republican party's position. We take the position contained in the editorial in certain paragraphs that it is a Republican measure; that is one of the reasons it is being supported by us and not supported by the minority.

Mr. GUARNIERI. I thank the gentleman.

I wish to read to the House an editorial entitled "Partisanship Poison." The article goes on to say:

> "A fairly certain way to get one poltical party to line up against a bill is for the other party to claim it as its exclusive property. This may not be a rational state of affairs, but it is unquestionably one of the facts of political life.
> "The home rule bill of Philadelphia now enering into final stages in the Legislature, has from the beginning been part of the program of the Republican city committee."

I want to emphasize the next line which was not mentioned by my esteemed colleague from Philadelphia. It reads as follows:

> "Other groups, partisan and non-partisan have been kept strictly out. So naturally when the bill came to a test in the House, Philadelphia Democrats lined up against Philadelphia Republicans. The Republicans won, and the bill retains their special label."

Mr. Speaker, I want to emphasize that point again, that last line, "Other groups, partisan and non-partisan have been kept strictly out." So naturally when the bill came to a test in the House, Philadelphia Democrats lined up against the Philadelphia Republicans. The Republicans won and the bill retains their special label.

The editorial goes on and reflects thoughts and ideas that I have given heretofore on the floor. I believe that my friends both Republican and Democratic should listen to this:

> "Drawing a city charter, like the drafting of a state constitution, is process in which fundamentals must be dealt with. Much harm can come from distortion of issues by partisanship and from the fact that important groups have been deined a voice either in drafting the instrument or fixing the rules under which it is to be drafted.
> "Home rule charter prospects would be brighter today if the poison of partisanship had not been injected at the outset. Can Philadelphia hope that the contest in the Legislature is the last example of partisanship that will be encountered in preparation of a new charter?"

I submit, Mr. Speaker, that the gentleman from Philadelphia, my esteemed colleague, Mr. Smith has made a total abysmal mistake by citing the editorial which, Mr. Speaker, is totally against his contention.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. Scanlon, Rose and Penglase.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 191, as follows:

An Act to further amend Section three of the act approved the twelfth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 568) entitled "An act to expedite and simplify the collection and payment by banks of checks and other instruments for the payment of money" by making further provision for the collection and dishonor of demand items by banks and the revocation of credit for and payment of such items

Section 1 Section three of the act approved the twelfth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 568) entitled "An act to expedite and simplify the collection and payment by banks of checks and other instruments for the payment of money" as amended by the act approved the fifteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 509) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 3 [Item on Same Bank A credit given by a bank for an item drawn on or payable at such bank shall be provisional subject to revocation at or before the end of the business day following the day on which the item is deposited in the event the item is found not payable for any reason Whenever a credit is given for an item deposited after banking hours such right of revocation may be exercised during the next business day after the following business day]

Payment and Dishonor of Demand Items Revocation of Credit (a) In any case in which a bank receives other than for immediate payment over the counter a demand item payable by at or through such bank and gives credit therefor before midnight of the day of receipt the bank may have until midnight of its next business day after receipt within which to dishonor or refuse payment of such item Any credit so given together with all related entries on the books of the receiving bank may be revoked by returning the item or if the item is held for protest or at the time is lost or is not in the possession of the bank by giving written notice of dishonor nonpayment or revocation Provided That such item or notice is dispatched in the mails or by other expeditious means not later than midnight of the bank's next business day after the item was received For the purpose of determining when notice of dishonor must be given or protest made under the law relative to negotiable instruments an item duly presented credit for which is revoked as authorized by this act shall be deemed dishonored on the day the item or notice is dispatched A bank revoking credit pursuant to the authority of this act is entitled to refund of or credit for the amount of the item

(b) For the purposes of this section (1) An item received by a bank on a day other than its business day or received on a business day after its regular business hours or during afternoon or evening periods when it has reopened or remained open for limited functions shall be deemed to have been received at the opening of its next business day and (2) The term "credit" includes payment remittance advance of credit or authorization to charge and in cases where the item is received for deposit as well as for payment also includes the making of appropriate entries to the receiving bank's general ledger without regard to whether the item is posted to individual customers' ledgers

Section 2 This act shall be come effective immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

And the question,

INTERROGATION

Mr. ANDREWS. I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr Brunner.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BRUNNER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, can the Majority Leader give us any information as to how long it is his intention to defer action on Senate Bill 245.

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, I was engaged on the telephone at the time this bill came up. Had I been here

I should not have asked the Speaker to pass the bill over.

The SPEAKER. The Chair said, if there are no obligations, Senate Bill No. 245, Printer's No. 338, would be passed over, and the Chair recognized Mr. Andrews for the purpose of interrogating the Majority Leader.

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, the fact that it was passed over was an oversight on my part, because I had informed several Members over here that at the time this bill appeared on the calendar it would be called up.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 245 as follows:

An Act to further amend section fourteen of the act approved the eighteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred seventeen (P. NOT VOTING—1

Krise,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 246 as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the eighteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred seventeen (P. L. 1043) entitled "An act establishing a public school employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon boards having the employment of public school employes exempting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" by increasing retirement allowances from the one one-hundred sixtieth (1/160) basis to the one one-hundred fortieth (1/140) basis permitting retirement while under age sixty-two on full allowances after completing thirty-five years of credited service or on reduced allowances after twenty-five years of such service increasing the scale of disability benefits and providing supplemental State annuities to bring certain members' annuities up to the corresponding State annuities for like periods of service

Section 1 The second paragraph of subsection 3.1 subsection 5 the second paragraph of subsection 6 subsections 6.1 and 8 of section eight of the act approved the eighteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred seventeen (P. L. 1043) entitled "An act establishing a public school employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon boards having the employment of public school employes exempting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" subsection 3.1 of which was added by the act approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 284) subsections 5 and 6 of which were amended by the act approved the twelfth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 698) subsection 6.1 of which was added by the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 374) and subsection 8 of which was amended by the act approved the fourteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 1738) are hereby amended or further amended to read as follows

* * * * *

The amount so certified by the retirement board shall be computed to bear a ratio to the salaries earnable by new entrants during the period for which the amount is certified Provided That on and after the first day of July one thousand nine hundred fifty such amount shall bear a ratio to the total salaries earnable by all contributors during the period for which the amount is certified The ratio shall be computed as a level percentage of the prospective compensation of new entrants or of all contributors as the case may be and shall be based on such mortality and other tables as shall be adopted by the retirement board and on regular interest Such ratio shall be computed on the basis of each actuarial valuation and shall be determined by deducting from the present value of the liabilities of the contingent reserve account the sum of the assets credited to that account on the valuation date and dividing remainder by the present value of the future salaries of new entrants who are then members or of all contributors as the case may be To facilitate the collection of such amounts the retirement board may use the payroll reported for the last valuation as the basis for contributions for a twelve month period

Beginning with the month of July [nineteen hundred nineteen] one thousand nine hundred nineteen and continuing until the accumulated reserve equals the present value as computed by the actuary of the retirment board and approved by the retirement board of all State annuity payments thereafter payable by the Commonwealth on account of present employes then retired or to be retired on State annuities as provided in this act the said Commonwealth shall pay semi-annually into the fund created by this act through the Department of Revenue an amount equal to two and eight-tenth (2.8) per centum of the total compensation paid to all contributors for service during the preceding school year and in every case an amount at least three per centum greater than the second preceding semi-annual payment which amount shall be credited by the retirement board to a ledger account to be known as State Annuity Reserve Account Number Two Beginning with the month of July [nineteen hundred twenty-five] one thousand nine hundred twenty-five the Commonwealth shall pay semi-annually into the fund created by this act as aforesaid to the credit of State Annuity Reserve Account Number Two an amount equal to two (2) per centum of the total compensation paid to all contributors for service during the preceding school year Beginning with the month of July [nineteen hundred thirty-three] one thousand nine hundred thirty-three the Commonwealth shall pay semi-annually into the fund created by this act as aforesaid to the credit of State Annuity Reserve Account Number Two an amount equal to one and six-tenths (1.6) per centum of the total compensation paid to all contributors for service during the preceding school year Beginning with the month of July one thousand nine hundred fifty-one the Commonwealth shall pay semi-annually into the fund created by this act as aforesaid to the credit of State Annuity Reserve Account Number Two such amount as shall be certified by the retirement board as necessary to provide the disability or superannuation State annuities allowable by the Commonwealth under the provisions of this act on account of present employes The amount so certified by the retirement board shall be computed to bear a ratio to the total salaries earnable by all contributors during the period for which the amount is certified The ratio shall be computed as a level percentage of the prospective compensation of such contributors and shall be based on such mortality and other tables as shall be adopted by the retirement board and on regular interest Such ratio shall be computed on the basis of each acturial valuation and shall be determined by deducting from the present value of the liabilities of the State Annuity Reserve Account Number Two the sum of the assets credited to that account on the valuation date and dividing the remainder by the present value of the future salaries of such contributors To facilitate the collection of such amount the retirement board may use the payroll reported for the last valuation as the basis for contributions for a twelve month period Provided That in the case of contributors who were employed during the year which began July first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two and ended June thirtieth one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three who have elected to contribute on the basis of salary receivable during said year such salary shall be used in computing such total compensation And provided That in every case the amount shall be sufficient when combined with that in the fund to the credit of said account to provide the pensions payable by the Commonwealth during the half-year then current to present employes then retired or to be retired as provided in this act Upon the retirement of a present employe his or her State annuity shall be charged to the State Annuity Reserve Account Number Two and paid from the fund created by this act

From the salary of each employe who is a contributor there shall be deducted and paid into the fund created by this act through the Department of Revenue such per centum of his or her earnable salary as shall be computed to be sufficient with regular interest to procure for him or her on superannuation retirement of age of sixty-two [and] an employes' annuity equal to one one-hundred sixtieth (1/160) of his or her salary for each year of service after the thirtieth day of June [nineteen hundred nineteen] one thousand nine hundred nineteen or to procure for him or her on superannuation retirement at age sixty-two or at the end of thirty-five years of credited service in this Commonwealth whichever is the earlier an employe's annuity equal to one one-hundred fortieth (1/140) of his or her final salary for each year of service after the thirtieth day of June one thousand nine hundred nineteen in the case of each contributor entering or re-entering the retirement system on and after the first day of July one thousand nine hundred fifty and also in the case of each contributor orginally carrying membership in the one one-hundred sixtieth (1/160) class who prior to the first day of July one thousand nine hundred fifty has elected and filed with the retirement board such election to transfer to the one one-hundred fortieth(1/140) class and who contributes after the first day of July one thousand nine hundred fifty the per centum of his or her salary computed to be sufficient for new entrants of the one one-hundred fortieth(1/140) class as of age attained at nearest birthday of such transferred contributor at the date of transfer Provided That in the case of employes who were employed during the year which began July first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two and ended June thirtieth one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three who have elected to contribute on the basis of salary receivable during said year such percentage shall be computed on the basis of said salary And provided That in any case if the deduction so computed shall exceed five per centum of his or her earnable salary and the employe shall so elect there shall be deducted five per centum of his or her earnable salary Provided however That these privileges are not available to contributors in the one one-hundred fortieth (1/140) class And further provided That a beneficiary in the one one-hundred sixtieth (1/160) class restored to school services shall not be permitted to transfer to the one one-hundred fortieth (1/140) class nor shall a beneficary restored to school service be required to contribute at a per centum rate of his or her earnable salary which is greater than the per centum thereof which he or she was required to contribute prior to his or her retirement The rate per centum of said deduction from salary shall be based on such mortality and other tables as the retirement board shall adopt together with regular interest and shall be computed to remain constant during the prospective school service of the contributor

6.1 In addition to the regular contribution required under clause six of this section any contributor who has had service in states territories or areas under the jurisdiction of the United States besides this Commonwealth as an employe in any public school or institution of such other classes as are at present included in the retirement system and who submits proof satisfactory to the retirement board of all or part of such service may make a lump sum payment computed to be sufficient with regular interest to procure for him or her on super-annuation retirement at age sixty-two or at the end of thirty-five years of credited service in this Commonwealth whichever is the earlier an additional employe's annuity equal to [one-eightieth (1/80)] one-seventieth (1/70) of his or her earnable salary during the first year of service in this Commonwealth for each of the years of such aforesaid proved service for which he or she shall elect to contribute Such additional contributions shall become a part of his or her accumulated deductions and shall be so treated except in case of disability retirement superannuation retirement or the receipt of an annuity upon resignation or dismissal when they shall be used to produce an additional annuity on the basis of such annuity tables as the retirement board shall approve Provided however That the state annuity part of the retirement allowance of any such contributor shall not be increased or affected by reason of said out-of-state service or of such contribution

* * * * *

8 No contributor shall be required to continue to contribute to the School Employes' Retirement Fund after he or she shall have become eligible for superannuation retirement all contributions made thereafter to said fund shall be voluntary Provided however That this clause shall not apply to contributors in the one one-hundred fortieth (1/140) class

Section 2 Section twelve of said act as last amended by the acts approved the fifteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 521) and the twenty-second day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 827) is hereby amended by adding a new subsection 1.1 immediately after subsection 1 to read as follows

Withdrawal

* * * * *

1.1 Should a contributor in the one one-hundred fortieth (1/140) class so separate from the school service after having completed twenty-five years of credited service in this Commonwealth before reaching age sixty-two or completing thirty-five years of credited service in this Commonwealth whichever is the earlier he or she shall be paid or receive a withdrawal allowance as he or she may elect as follows

(a) the full amount of the accumulated deduction standing to his or her individual credit in the employes' annuity savings account as of the date of such separation from school service or in lieu thereof should he or she so elect

(b) an annuity beginning immediately which shall be of equivalent actuarial value of said accumulated deductions and in addition a State annuity beginning immediately having a value equal to the present value of a State annuity beginning at age sixty-two or at the end of thirty-five years of credited service in this Commonwealth whichever is the earlier calculated in accordance with the provisions of said act such State annuity shall be based upon the final salary of the withdrawing member and the years of credited service in this Commonwealth to the date of withdrawal from service and shall include any State annuity related to prior service or supplemental State annuity provided for in section fourteen The same options provided for in section fifteen of said act with respect to annuities payable on superannuation retirement shall be available in connection with any annuity entered upon under the provisions of this subsection

Section 3 Subsections 1 and 5 of section thirteen of said act are hereby amended subsection 5 by adding thereto a new paragraph (c) to read as follows

Disability Retirement

Section 13 Retirement upon disability shall be made and discontinued as follows

1 Upon the application of a contributor who is an employe or of one acting in his or her behalf or upon the application of the employer of a contributor the retirement board shall retire said contributor on a disability allowance if he or she is under the age of sixty-two years or if a member of the one one-hundred fortieth (1/140) class and has not completed thirty-five years of credited service in this Commonwealth and is under the age of sixty-two years and on a superannuation allowance if he or she has attained or passed such age or completed such period of service provided the physician or physicians designated by said board after a medical examination of said contributor made at the place of residence of said contributor or at a place mutually agreed upon shall certify to the retirement board that said contributor is physically or mentally incapacitated for the performance of duty and that said contributor ought to be retired and provided further that said contributor has had ten or more school years of school service

* * * * *

Allowance on Disability Retirement

5 On retirement for disability a contributor who is an employe shall receive a retirement allowance which shall consist of

* * * * *

(c) If however the contributor is in the one one-hundred fortieth (1/140) class a State annuity in lieu of the State annuity provided in paragraph (b) which together with the employe's annuity shall be sufficient to produce a retirement allowance of one-ninetieth (1/90) of his or her final salary multiplied by the number of his or her years of service but in any case not less than thirty-three and one-third per cent of said final salary except that in case thirty-three and one-third per cent shall exceed eight-ninths of the rate of retirement allowances to which the employe might have been entitled had retirement been deferred until age sixty-two or the end of thirty-five years of credited service in this Commonwealth whichever is the earlier then the State annuity granted shall be such as to make the rate of the total retirement allowances equal to eight-ninths of the rate of allowances to which the employe might have been entitled had retirement been deferred until age sixty-two or the end of thirty-five years of credited service in this Commonwealth whichever is the earlier

Section 4 subsections 1 and 3 of section fourteen of said act as last amended by the acts approved the third day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 407) and (P. L. 409) are hereby further amended to read as follows

Superannuation Retirement

Section 14 Retirement for superannuation shall be as follows

1 Any contributor who is an employe sixty-two years of age or older or who is a member of the one one-hundred fortieth (1/140) class and has completed thirty-five years of credited service of the Commonwealth may retire for superannuation by filing with the retirement board a written statement duly attested setting forth at what time subsequent to the execution of said application he or she desires to be retired said application shall retire said contributor at the time so specified or in the discretion of the retirement board at the end of the school term in which the time so specified occurs

* * * * *

Allowance on Superannuation Retirement

(3) On retirement for superannuation a contributor who is an employe shall receive a retirement allowance which shall consist of

[(a) An employe's annuity which shall be the actuarial equivalent of his or her accumulated deductions and

(b) A State annuity of one one-hundred-sixtieth (1/160) of his or her final salary for each year of service and

(c) In addition thereto if a present employe a further State annuity of one one-hundred-sixtieth (1/160) of his or her final salary for each year of prior service as certified to said present employe in the certificate issued to him or her by the retirement board under the provisions of section eleven of this act]

I An employe's annuity which shall be acturial equivalent of his or her accumulated deductions and

II A State annuity the amount of which shall be determined as follows

(A) If the contributor is a member of the one one-hundred sixtieth (1/160) class

(a) A State annuity of one one-hundred sixtieth (1/160) of his or her final salary for each year of service and

(b) In addition thereto if a present employe a further State annuity of one one-hundred sixtieth (1/160) of his or her final salary for each year of prior service as certified to said present employe in the certificate issued to him or her by the retirement board under the provisions of section eleven of this act

(B) If the contributor is a member of the one one-hundred fortieth (1/140) class

(a) A State annuity of one one-hundred fortieth (1/140) of his or her final salary for each year of service and

(b) In addition thereto if a present employe a further State annuity of one one-hundred fortieth (1/140) of his or her final salary for each year of prior service as certified to said present employe in the certificate issued to him or her by the retirement board under the provisions of section eleven of this act and

(c) In addition thereto an additional State annuity which shall be equivalent to the amount if any by which the employe's annuity is less than the State annuity for service rendered after the thirtieth day of June one thousand nine hundred nineteen

Section 5 The provisions of this act are severable and if any of its provisions shall be held to be unconstitutional the decision of the court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions of this act it is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted has such unconstitutional provisions not been included herein

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered an agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 432, as follows:

An Act to further amend section three of the act approved the thirteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven (P. L. 998) entitled "An act imposing a tax for State purposes on marine insurance underwriting profits and providing for the collection of such tax" by making the tax payable at the time reports are made

Section 1 Section three of the act approved the thirteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven (P. L. 998) entitled "An act imposing a tax for State purposes on marine insurance underwriting profits and providing for the collection of such tax" as amended by the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 442) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 3 Every insurer transacting such marine insurance in this Commonwealth shall file on or before the first day of June in each year with the Department of Revenue and in the form prescribed by it a report of all the items pertaining to its insurance business as enumerated and prescribed in the preceding section of this act [To determine the basis of the tax on underwriting profits every] Every insurer which has been writing such insurance in this Commonwealth for three years shall furnish to the Department of Revenue a statement of all of the aforementioned items in the form prescribed by it for each of the preceding three calendar years An insurer which has not been writing such marine insurance for three years shall furnish to the Department of Revenue a statement of all the aforementioned items for each of the calendar years during which it has written marine insurance Every insurer at the time of making the reports required by this section shall compute and pay into the State Treasury through the Department of Revenue the tax if any then due the Commonwealth

If [the Department of Revenue finds the report of the insurer reporting correct it shall if] the insurer has transacted such marine insurance for three years it shall (1) [to] ascertain the average annual underwriting profit as defined by this section derived [by the insurer] from its aforesaid marine insurance business written within the United States during the last preceding three calendar years (2) ascertain the proportion which the average annual premiums of the insurer from such marine insurance written by it in this Commonwealth during the last preceding three calendar years bears to the average total marine premiums of the insurer during the same three years (3) compute an amount of five per centum on this proportion of the aforementioned average annual underwriting profit [of the insurer] from such marine insurance and (4) charge the amount of tax thus computed [to such insurer] as a tax upon the marine insurance written by it in this Commonwealth during the current calendar year The [Department of Revenue] insurer shall each year compute the tax according to the method described in this section upon [the] its average annual underwriting profit [of such insurer] from such marine insurance during the preceding three years including the current calendar year namely at the expiration of each current calendar year the profit or loss on the marine insurance business of that year is to be added or deducted and the profit or loss upon such marine insurance business of the first calendar year of the preceding three-year period is to be dropped so that the computation of underwriting profit for purposes of taxation under this act will always be on a three-year average Provided however That an insurer which has not been writing marine insurance in this Commonwealth for the three years shall until it has transacted such business in this Commonwealth for that number of years be taxed on the basis of its annual underwriting profit on marine insurance written within the United States for the current calendar vear subject however to an adjustment in the tax as soon as [the Department of Revenue] in accordance with the provisions of this section it is enabled to compute the tax on the aforementioned three-year basis And provided further That in the case of mutual companies [the Department of Revenue] there shall not [include] be included in underwriting profit when computing the tax prescribed by this section the amounts refunded by such companies on account of premiums previously paid by its policyholders

[When the Department of Revenue has computed tax on an insurer's underwriting profit it shall forthwith mail to the last known address of the principal office of such insurer a statement of the amount so charged against it which amount the insurer shall pay into the State Treasury through the Department of Revenue within thirty days after receipt of such notice from the Department of Revenue Provided however That in assessing taxes] In making assessments under the retaliatory provisions of section two hundred and twelve of the act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (P. L. 789) known as "The Insurance Department Act of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one" credit shall be allowed for any taxes paid or payable under this section

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

NOT VOTING—1

Krise,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 631, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 349) entitled "An act requiring political subdivisions to refund taxes and license fees erroneously and inadvertently paid thereto and giving a right of action against such political subdivision for the recovery of such taxes and fees upon their failure to make such refunds making the provisions of the act retroactive and repealing existing laws" by providing for the refund of taxes of any kind or character.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I simply wanted to call the Majority Leader's attention to the fact there seems to be some misunderstanding, at least on the part of the Minority, as to the legal implications of Senate Bill 631, as containing any possible refunds that the municipality might be called upon to make, and unless the Majority leader wants to go into quite an extensive discussion, I would suggest that this bill go over for the present.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

Senate Bill No. 631, Printers No. 245

was passed over at the request of Mr. ANDREWS.

Agreeably to order,

The House preceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 654, as follows:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article fourteen of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by adding thereto a section abolishing county offices in Philadelphia and providing for the performance of county functions by the City of Philadelphia

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby resolves as follows

Section 1 That the following amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be and is hereby proposed in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof—

That article fourteen be amended by adding thereto section eight as follows—

Section 8 (1) In Philadelphia all county offices are hereby abolished and the city shall henceforth perform all functions of county government within its area through officers selected in such manner as may be provided by law

(2) Local and special laws regulating the affairs of the City of Philadelphia and creating offices or prescribing the powers and duties of officers of the City of Philadelphia shall be valid notwithstanding the provisions of section seven of Article Three of this Constitution

(3) All laws applicable to the County of Philadelphia shall apply to the City of Philadelphia

(4) The City of Philadelphia shall have assume and take over all powers property obligations and indebtedness of the County of Philadelphia

(5) The provisions of Article Fifteen section one of the Constitution shall apply with full force and effect to the functions of the county government hereafter to be performed by the city government

(6) This amendment shall become effective immediately upon its adoption

(7) Upon adoption of this amendment all county officers shall become officers of the City of Philadelphia and until the General Assembly shall otherwise provide shall continue to perform their duties and be elected appointed compensated and organized in such manner as may be provided by the provisions of this Constitution and the laws of the Commonwealth in effect at the time this amendment becomes effective but such officers serving when this amendment becomes effective shall be permitted to complete their terms

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. MINTESS asked and obtained unanimous consent to have his remarks extended on the record as follows:

Mr. MINTESS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to present a statement and ask that it be printed in full in the journal.

The SPEAKER. Because of the lateness of the hour, the gentleman from Philadelphia asked to have his remarks extended on the journal without taking up the time of the House. If there is no objection, the remarks will be extended upon the journal. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

Mr. MINTESS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker: My vote against the discharge of the Committee on Labor Relations for its failure to act upon the FEPC Bill introduced into this chamber by the Honorable Louis Sax and myself has been the subject of such unfair criticism that I deem it proper to set forth my reasons and purpose.

The bill sponsored by Representative Sax and myself is identical to the Meade-Frazier Bill presented in the Senate. Not only the Republican leaders supporting FEPC in the State, but also civic and racial leaders favoring this kind of legislation were agreeable to the proposition that the Meade-Frazier Bill was to be pushed and all other FEPC bills, including the Sax-Mintess bill were to be held and not pressed for enactment. This understanding is known to every member of this body.

I could not in good faith therefore stigmatize the House Committee on Labor Relations as derelict and inefficient in handling this legislation when I know this Committee was merely carrying out the will of all those friendly to a strong State FEPC law.

The Meade-Frazier Bill had only been killed by the Judiciary General Committee of the Senate an hour before a motion was introduced to this body to discharge the Labor Relation Committee. Certainly nobody could criticize this Committee for failure to call a meeting within the hour between the death of the Meade-Frazier bill in the Senate and the motion to discharge the Labor Relation Committee. My vote, therefore, meant that I did not think the Committee on Labor Relations was derelict or inefficient in handling the Sax-Mintess FEPC Bill due to the circumstances I have just stated and I did not think it honest to smear the Committee by discharging it without reasonable cause.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. FRAZIER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. FRAZIER. Mr. President, it was my misfortune to be out of the Senate Chamber when the gentleman from Delaware, Senator Watkins, presented to the Senate the distinguished Treasurer from Delaware County, and I would like to say a word or two in addition to what he has already stated.

Mr. President, you may remember I was given the honor and privilege of going to Kansas City two years ago with the delegation which went from Philadelphia and the state to try and bring the Republican National Convention to Philadelphia. One of the most active of that Committee was Mrs. Biester. She, I think, did as much as anybody on the way out to make herself charming and hospitable, and in Kansas City to influence the delegates from the United States to look favorably upon Philadelphia.

Mr. President, I think one of the finest speeches that was ever made was the speech Mrs. Biester made, and I just want to take this opportunity to say that it is a pleasure for me to say a word or two about her.

Mr. FRAZIER, from the Committee on Public Health and Welfare, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 820, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2051), entitled "An act relating to Public assistance; providing for and regulating assistance to certain classes of persons designated and defined as dependent children, aged persons, blind persons and other persons requiring relief; providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Public Assistance and county boards of assistance hereby created for this purpose; authorizing the Department of Public Assistance to cooperate with, and to accept and disburse moneys received from, the United States Government for assistance to such persons; providing for the liquidation of the State Emergency Relief Board, Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund, and Boards of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind; and repealing laws relating to mothers' assistance, pensions for the blind, old age assistance, and the State Emergency Relief Board," by imposing upon counties a percentage of all public assistance costs and the powers and duties of administering public assistance through the county boards of assistance.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, some of the professions which are regulated by Boards have a strangle-hold on the free economy of Pennsylvania. One of these professions is the Certified Public Accountants. A method whereby they have a strangle-hold on the free economy of Pennsylvania is to conduct examinations only once a year.

Now this bill, Mr. President, tends to correct that evil and for that purpose I am proposing by this bill to hold examinations twice a year.

Mr. President, I read in place and present to the Chair the following bill.

Mr. STIEFEL read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 920, entitled:

An Act to amend clause two of section three of the act, approved the twenty-sixth day of May, one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 318), entitled "An act relating to the public practice of certified public accountants; providing for the certification of persons desiring to practice and the listing of persons engaged in practicing as certified public accountants; and for the suspension and revocation of such certificates subject to appeal and for their reinstatement; prescribing the powers and duties of the State Board of Examiners of Public Accountants and the Department of Public Instruction; providing for ownership of working papers; defining unlawful acts and acts not unlawful; providing penalties; and repealing existing laws," by requiring that examinations be held at least twice in each calendar year.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 921, entitled:

An Act requiring certain public, city and county offices, bureaus, departments and courts in cities and counties of the first class to remain closed all day Saturday during a certain period of the year.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 922, entitled:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

EULOGIZING FORMER PRESIDENT FRANKLIN DELANO ROOSEVELT

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire the permission of the Members of the Senate to make a few short remarks today on the anniversary of the death of Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I was reminded this afternoon by Members of the Democratic Caucus that this is the fourth anniversary of the death of Franklin Delano Roosevelt. Those of us who were fortunate enough to live in his time will probably never be able to evaluate his record and his place in history. Those of us who followed him closely were convinced from the very beginning that he was a man of destiny, and one of his interests, deep down in his heart, was the ordinary citizens of America.

I believe, Mr. President, and I am sure that many citizens of America join me in the same belief, that his coming upon the national scene was a saving grace for the people of America, for at that time we found ourselves in the midst of a great depression, people were without help, many folks were without proper food and proper shelter, and the nation itself was floundering around not knowing where it was headed for or what to do to stop this depression that we found ourselves at that time in.

Mr. President, I am happy and proud to have been a Member of the Official Family of Legislators who all over these United States followed him in his efforts to create a better America. The fact that today we are the leading nation in the whole world is proof positive that he was that type of a leader.

Mr. President, I ask that the Members of this Senate join me with the rest of America today in setting aside a moment of thought only for this great American who will go down in history amongst the greatest of all Americans

Kephart,	Tallman,	Wood, T. N.,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 490, as follows:

An Act to provided for the prompt peaceful and just settlement of labor disputes between employers engaged in public utility transportation subject to the jurisdiction of the Commonwealth and the Public Utility Commission and their employes which threaten to cause an interruption of such transportation facilities prescribing procedure for the adjustment and settlement of such disputes by collective bargaining and the intervention of a conciliator prohibiting for a certain period of time but preserving the right to strike stop work or lockout and conferring jurisdiction upon the courts of common pleas to enforce compliance with the provisions of the act

Section 1 This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Transportation Conciliation Act" and shall apply only in the case of public utility transportation business subject to the jurisdiction of the Commonwealth and the public Utility Commission

Section 2 It is hereby declared to be the public policy of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that it is necessary and essential in the public interest to facilitate the prompt peaceful and just settlement of labor disputes between employers engaged in the public utility transportation business and their employes which cause or threaten to cause an interruption of such transportation facilities to the detriment of the health safety and welfare of the citizens of the Commonwealth and to that end to encourage the making and maintaining of agreements concerning wages hours and other conditions of employment through collective bargaining between such employers and their employes and to provide settlement procedure for labor disputes between such employers and their employes in cases where the collective bargaining process has reached an impasse and as a result thereof the parties are unable to effect such settlement and which labor disputes are likely to cause interruption of the supply of a public utility service on which the community so affected is so dependent that severe hardship would be inflicted on a substantial number of persons by a cessation of such service

Section 3 It shall be the duty of employers engaged in the public utility transportation business and their employes to exert every reasonable effort to settle all labor disputes by engaging in collective bargaining in good faith by entering into agreement and maintaining the same and to voluntarily arbitrate their differences

Section 4 If in any case of a labor dispute between an employer engaged in the public utility transportation business and their employes the collective bargaining process reaches an impasse with the result that the employer and employes are unable to effect a settlement and if the parties have not reached agreement for voluntary arbitration or jointly sought conciliation assistance then either party to the dispute or the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board may request the Governor in writing to appoint a conciliator Upon the filing of any such request the Governor shall consider the same and if in his opinion the collective bargaining process has failed and such dispute if not settled is likely to cause the interruption of the transportation service on which a community is dependent and that severe hardship would be inflicted on a substantial number of persons by a cessation of such service the Governor shall appoint a conciliator from among the conciliators employed by the Department of Labor and Industry to attempt to effect a settlement of such labor dispute

Section 5 The conciliator so named shall expeditiously meet with the disputing parties or their representatives and shall exert every reasonable effort to effect a prompt settlement of the labor dispute After the appointment of a conciliator by the Governor there shall be no interruption of work and no strikes or slowdowns by employes and there shall be no lockout or other work stoppage by the employer until such time as all of the procedure provided for in this act has been exhausted unless the Governor shall sooner determine that failure to settle the dispute would not cause severe hardship to be inflicted on a substantial number of persons

Section 6 If no agreement or settlement of the labor dispute is reached at the expiration of sixty (60) days after the conciliator has intervened the concilator shall within such time secure from and it shall be the duty of each of the parties to furnish to him a written statement of the best offer of each party for the settlement of the labor dispute The conciliator shall thereupon make a report to the Governor who shall require the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board within the succeeding fifteen (15) days unless the dispute has been settled by that time to conduct an election among all of the employes in the bargaining unit involved in the labor dispute on the question "Shall the employer's offer be accepted" Such election shall be by secret ballot If a majority of those voting on the question shall vote in favor of accepting the offer then such offer shall become effective and if the the same involves a dispute relating to wages hours or other conditions of employment that should be adjusted by collective bargaining The effective period shall date from the date of the appointment of the mediator by the Governor and shall continue effective for one year from the date A full statement of the last offer as made by each party shall be furnished simultaneously to each eligible voter at such election and to the employer or his representatives The Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board shall certify the results thereof to the Governor within five days thereafter and the Governor shall take such further action in an attempt to settle the dispute as he shall deem proper or appropriate under the authority and power that he now possesses

Section 7 If no agreement or settlement of the labor dispute is effected by the conciliator during the sixty (60) day period herein provided for and no agreement or settlement is reached by the parties during the period reserved for the election on the question of whether the employer's last offer shall be accepted by the employes and the certification of the result thereof to the Governor the parties to the labor dispute may voluntarily agree to continue or resume collective bargaining as the case may be or may thereupon exercise their rights to engage in strike work stoppage or lockout

Section 8 Any person adversely affected by reason of a violation of the provisions of this act may file an action in the court of common pleas of the county in which such violation occurs to restrain and enjoin such violation and to compel the performance of duties imposed by this act Jurisdiction is hereby conferred on the courts of common pleas to hear and determine such actions

Section 9 Nothing in this act shall be construed to require an individual employe to render labor or service without his consent or to make unlawful the quitting of his labor or service or the withdrawal from his place of employment unless done in concert or in agreement with others and in violation of the provisions of this act No court shall have power to issue any process to compel an individual employe to render labor or service or to remain at his place of employment without his consent It is the intent of this act only to forbid employes to leave their employment in concert or to cause a work slowdown or stoppage in concert in violation of the provisions of this act and to forbid an employer to lockout his employes in violation of the provisions of this act

Section 10 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

Section 11 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

MR. KEPHART. Mr. President, we, here, are the elected representatives of the people, and it is our duty to protect the public in connection with labor controversies in which the public has such a vital stake as it has in public transportation. Labor is not downtrodden, not any more, capital and management are neither helpless nor inarticulate. The public, however—all of us, employed, employers, consumers, and workers, whether they belong to other unions or not—are the ones in need of help. The public pays the bills and it is the people about whom we, here, should be concerned.

Right now is the time to think about their interest in such a labor controversy.

We have just been through a devastating transit strike in Philadelphia and one is in existence at this moment in Scranton, the third largest city in Pennsylvania.

It will be too late to think about the public interest in such a matter, if we do nothing now and wait till next February for Mr. Quill's return, as he threatened. It may not be too late to help the Scranton situation, if we act now. While this bill may not be perfect, it probably would have prevented the Philadelphia strike and no doubt would solve the Scranton one.

It is time that both labor and management recognize that the public will not stand a long fought out transportation strike. The people of our large cities depend on the public transportation system to earn their daily bread, and they will not starve quietly or suffer serious hardship or inconvenience because employers and employees cannot agree an wages, hours, or whatever they wrangle about. Make the public mad and it will act violently and not necessarily reasonably.

Remember what happened when the railroad strike was called? The people were inconvenienced for a day. Then they began to get angry and scared. President Truman asked Congress for authority to draft the strikers into the armed forces.

We are not here asking for any such drastic action. In fact, in this bill we are not even asking for compulsory arbitration, a feature of the first bill. We are merely asking for a cooling-off period, conciliation and a vote on the employer's best offer.

It would be wise for both labor and management to accept such a bill in good grace, rather than have no law and the fear of great public reprisal in case of a long strike and great public hardship. It is time now to think of the public interest and pass this bill.

MR. DENT. Mr. President, this bill appears on the Calendar after a few months when we had a similar bill, one that was supposed to do the same thing that this bill purports to do, and it was decided by the Senate that this bill was not good legislation, it was defeated and sent back to Committee.

Mr. President, we find ourselves now with the same type of legislation before us. I wonder how many Senators know that the features of this Bill have been lifted bodily from the Taft-Hartley Act of the Federal Government. I believe the people in no uncertain terms registered their disapproval of restrictive legislation when it is designed to punish a certain group. This bill even goes further than the original bill that was defeated by the Senate; that bill was supposed to be restricted to the city of Philadelphia; this bill now covers the entire state of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, for the information of the Senate, I happen to own a transportation company, and I suppose this bill is supposed to help me keep my men in employment, keep them working whether or not they have a grievance against me, whether or not they have the right to use the American weapon in a labor dispute. The Supreme Court has, time after time, the American people have, time after time, stood upon the position that the working man, regardless of his employment, has the right to strike if he is not satisfied with the conditions of his employment, and after a certain period of negotations, if he cannot come to a satisfactory agreement with his employer, he has the American right to strike. Now, Mr. President, let us look into this bill, let us see what it does. In the first place it says that a severe hardship is created by a transportation strike. I cannot imagine anything further from the truth. Yes, Mr. President, inconvenience takes place, but that can be said of every labor dispute that has ever taken place. I believe when you shut down the coal mines of the nation you create a greater hardship than when you shut a transportation system down. Why doesn't the gentleman from Philadelphia include all forms of endeavor in this bill. If he says the people need protection, why doesn't he amend this bill to include each and every endeavor in the Commonwealth. There isn't a strike that he can name that does not cause a certain amount of hardship, a great deal of inconvenience, both to the participants, and, in many instances, to the general public.

Mr. President, I do not believe that any person here is fooled by any of the explanations or any part of the explanations given by the sponsor. In the first place, every negotiations that I know of has a thirty to ninety day negotiating period before any vote is taken as to whether or not a strike is to take place. Under this Act, however, after the ninety days have gone by, you can go to eighty more days under the terms of the Act, and then, fifteen more days, and then start all over again, and go to eighty more days. Why, certainly, the gentleman is right when he said this would have stopped the Philadelphia strike. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, let us put the apple out where we can see it and cut it. This bill if enacted will stop any strike, and that is what it is intended to do. It is a strike breaking weapon and the Legislature has no business to interfere with the relationships between employees and employers; the Legislature should not inject itself into negotiations between employes and employers. The Federal Government tried it under the Taft-Hartley Act, and although that infamous act is still upon the statute books, Mr. President, it is well known to both employers and employes all over the United States of America that the Act is not workable, that it will not and has not acted for a labor peace; it has not acted in the manner that the sponsors intended it to act; it is not performing in the order that they said it would perform, and I say to the Members of the Senate upon this occasion, that you are again passing legislation, restrictive by nature and punitive in operation, because, Mr. President, the very peculiar thing in it is this I think even a novice in politics can understand this particular phase of it. It says in the bill, Mr. President, that after a final offer has been made by the employer, then the employes have to vote on the final offer made by the employer. I think that Senator Taft would object to that particular feature of the bill. What can an organization do when it is faced with such a situation as that? I say to the sponsor, why do we not do this, why do we not take the final offer of the employes and submit it to the Board of Directors of the employer, and say, "take it or leave it." That is what you say here. Is it any more fair to legislate on pehalf of one side of a labor dispute as against the other side of a labor dispute?

Mr. President, I do not think that any of us need any particular instructions on labor and management discussion today. Every man in this Senate is going through a period of education, a period of education in labor relationships. Sure there are still some tough spots and some rough spots on the question of labor relations, but how many men in this room will not admit that we are much closer to the goal of complete harmony in the field of labor relationships, and I think that at this date stage when we inject ourselves legislatively into the picture of labor disputes in Pennsylvania, we are going far afield. There is no reason to take this action at this time.

Oh, Mr. President, the gentleman talks about a gentle man by the name of Quill who has promised to come back. Why, Mr. President, that seems to be an American habit of throwing our chests out if we have been defeated at something and saying, "I will come back." Why, everybody knows that MacArthur said the same thing when he was chased out of the Phillipines, and Senator Donlan, Senator Wood and myself pride ourselves in the fact that with the help of the Marines he did come back. I think, Mr. President, that Quill may come back any time. He is still and American citizen, and we have not yet discovered any thing in him to make him a culprit of any kind, that he is not permitted in the City of Brotherly Love. You know, Mr. President, the old days of riding labor union leaders out of town on a rail and tar and feathering them is gone, I hope. I do not think the Philadelphia leadership intends to revive those black days of American labor history; I don't think you are going to say, in effect, with this bill, to Mr. Quill or any other labor leader who may cause a strike or whose union may decide to pull a strike in the city of Philadelphia, "You had not better return or we will pass an act in Harrisburg to keep you out of Philadelphia." Why, Mr. President, it is almost childish to come to this Senate at this time with this piece of legislation. I really think that there is more steam behind it than there is power, because I do not think any man in this Senate needs to be told that labor relations have come to the point where men of honor are sitting around the table on both sides, and in the main, I would say in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred today, you find that the negotiators usually agree, and when they do not agree they have machinery set up whereby the disagreement can be resolved. In all of the contracts that the American Federation of Labor and the C.I.O. and the Railroad Brotherhood negotiate today, and for many years in the past, they have been working toward the end where every contract contains within it an arbitration clause, and this legislation will not do anything in ninety-nine times out of a hundred, unless the Governor of the Commonwealth wants to be punitive, unless he wants to do things that are contrary to what we think is good government, constitutional government. This bill will not affect any labor dispute, it is oniy when some man wants to take advanage of the power the Legislature has given him that it will be effective.

Mr. President, I would say that ninety-nine percent of all the transportation contracts in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania have an arbitration clause. The gentleman from Philadelphia himself admits that this is only a delaying action, that in the ultimate end, if the union can survive that long, there can be a strike. Now, Mr. President, what is a strike called for? A strike is called to emphasize a point in a labor dispute, a point that either the union or the management is standing upon. If you take this Act and apply it against an ordinary dispute, you will find that in the amount of time that elapses between the moment the grievance is taken up until the answer has been resolved, they lose sight of the original grievance. Now, that may be all right, but what you are doing here is denying to the men employed in this industry the basic right granted and given to each and every man who works for a living in America under the Constitution. You have no right to take from this group, because they are employed by a transportation company in this Commonwealth, that if they were to stop tomorrow, it would cause severe hardship in the sense that it is intended. We were told when the utility "no strike" bill was on the floor that it was essential to the health and welfare of the people, that sickness and death would follow because of the elimination of the utilities services. And now, we are stretching a point and saying that this is also necessary to life and the pursuit of happiness. Certainly if somebody wants to say that because they had to wait twenty minutes extra or be tied up in a traffic jam that that is an inconvenience, well, Mr. President. I have come out of the city of Pittsburgh on many occasions when there was no strike of any kind, and it took me over two hours to get out of the city limits. What are we going to outlaw there? I think that is as great a hardship as the people of Philadelphia went through. Now, Mr. President, can you tell me what law we could pass to break that jam, because I do not like to be held up, I am a normal American and I swear at everybody who is holding me up when I am going some place in an automobile, which is built to go ninety miles an hour, and I want to go that fast; I don't like to be held up by a slow driver. That is an inconvenience to me, Mr. Kephart, and you ought to put a bill in, and say, it is a severe hardship to Senator Dent and we ought to just take an atomic bomb and dissolve all these traffic hold-ups and let him ride through nice and easy like the people of Philadelphia want to do. What is the difference between suffering in Philadelphia and suffering in the homes of the men and women who are on strike for decent living conditions. Every strike I know of has been condemned, and yet if it were not for that valiant group of men back in my father's days that carried the torch of the early organization of labor, the respect that we now give to the men who work for us would not be given to them; the high position that labor in this country has reached would never have been reached if it wouldn't have been for a small group of pioneers who carried the torch of labor, knowing full well that their families would suffer, knowing full well that on many occasions they had to sneak out like thieves in the night to get out of town because there were hoodlums out to kill them.

Mr. President, I was born in a coal mining town in this great state of ours, and I can remember when my father was not permitted to come to our home for six weeks, because the coal mining vigilantes were after him. He was not fighting for anything except to put bread upon the table for his children, and the rewards of his fight are just now coming to the labor ranks, and although today I pride myself that I no longer have to dig with a pick and shovel I still cannot climb so far up this ladder that I cannot look down and see the fellow that is still down below trying to get up on it.

Mr. President, I think this kind of legislation is prohibitive within this Commonwealth of ours; it is not fair, it is unjust, it is punitive in nature, and it is not justified at this moment and in this day and age in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, one thing is certain and that is that Senator Dent's factiousness about this bill certainly will not get any working people in Philadelphia to work if there is any transit strike down there. Another thing, Mr. President. it would be quite helpful to the Senate if the gentleman from Westmoreland would read the bill and explain it as it is written and not the way he has made it up.

The greatest length of time that there could be a delay, that a strike could be put off, is a total of eighty days, where he has it at about one hundred and fifty days. He is thinking about some bill that was in here at the last Session. It would be helpful if he would read this bill, and he would know then that it was not taken from the Taft-Hartley Bill, but was taken directly from the Arbitration Act for electric utilities and so forth that was passed at the last Session, word for word, and the reason that was done was because at a radio and television forum that I was on with Mr. McDevitt, Mr. McDevitt said publicly that if we would take the compulsory arbitration features out of the bill, he would have no objection to it, and that is exactly what I did in this bill.

The gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, said there was no right to strike, but he will find, at the end of these eighty days, if the management's best offer is not saitsfactory to the majority of labor, they can then go on their strike, and it certainly would not hurt them very much to wait that length of time and save the public from inconvenience in the hope that the strike might be averted. If they vote in favor of the offer, the provisions and term of that vote will go back to the date when the mediator had been appointed by the Governor, so they are not suffering any hardship, they are getting a date-back on the provisions that they have voted in favor of.

Now, Mr. President, the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, said that the Legislature had no right to interfere with management and labor, but he overlooks the public's right in a thing like this, where public transportation is involved. This, Mr. President, is not just an ordinary labor situation where the dispute between management and labor does not affect the public very much. This involves the transportation of over two million people in a large city; those people have the right to work, they have the right to go to work; that is one of their primary rights and they must be considered; they must have the right to go to work over this transportation system that we have down there, and every effort must be put into effect to see that there is no strike and that their right to go to work is not interfered with. These millions of people in our vicinity and in other vicinities of Pennsylvania where they are directly and primarily involved do have rights and it is our duty to protect those rights.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, just for the information of my good friend from Philadelphia, Senator Kephart, I do not think I ever enjoyed a discussion as much as the one that Mr. McDevitt and Senator Kephart participated in. In fact, I was devouring a delicious plate of spaghetti at the time they were discussing the merits of the bill, but I fail to recall in any part of their discussion where Mr. McDevitt created the impression with me that if the compulsory features were removed, the bill would be all right.

Mr. President. I just want to correct the statement that Senator Kephart made.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I want to assure the gentleman from Philadelphia that I did read the bill very carefully. I also want to tell the Senator that this bill goes quite far afield, and in its final analysis, it becomes a court injunction bill. Those of us who have pretty good memories are well aware of what happens in a labor dispute when a court is given jurisdiction. However, that will not solve the problem.

The gentleman from Philadelphia talks about the rights of people. In a democracy such as ours, all the rights the people derive come from the Constitution itself, and nowhere in the Constitution does it say that the people of Philadelphia have the right to ride to work. No inherent right is given to the people of Philadelphia that they can ride to work. I am for their riding to work, in fact I would have to shut my line down if they did not ride to work—my biggest complaint is that enough of the people do not ride—but, Mr. President, that is not an inherent right, that is a right that stems from the fact that the men who drive those trolley cars and busses have the right under the Constitution to be employed in free labor, and along with the right to be employed in free labor, is also the right to strike if necessary to better their conditions, and the fact that they did better their conditions, and the fact that if they would not have struck they would not have bettered their conditions, is proof enough, Mr. President, that that strike was justified

Remember that we have different methods of getting justice in America. Labor, prior to the growth of labor organizations, had that right, Mr. President, under the Constitution, but had no means by which to employ that right, and just as soon as they developel the machinery by which they could employ the right given them under the Constiution, we come along like a great big bold group of pioneers in a new field and say we are going to take that right away from you by subterfuge.

I say, Mr. President, that you are taking a right away from these men and women which is an inherent right under the Constitution, but do not confuse that right, because the right of the people to ride is more lamented about by those who may lose a few days in their stores or the businesses as they are accustomed to, we know that. I think that all of us know that the main complaint comes from Main Street and not from the suburbs, and Mr. President, I will say again, that the gentleman who introduced this bill has no knowledge of his own of what it means to work under conditions not conducive to the welfare of your family.

Mr. NEFF. Mr. President, of course, I would like to concur whole-heartedly in the remarks made by the distinguished Senator from Westmoreland and I would like, secondly, to interrogate the Chairman of the Committee on Labor and Industry, if he will be interrogated.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Potter, Mr. Berger, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BERGER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. NEFF. Senator Berger, did any representatives of labor, particularly Harry Boyer of the C. I. O., ask for a public hearing on this bill?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, yesterday afternoon, Mr Harry Boyer called me out into the front of the Senate, in the foyer, and at that time, after the bill was on the Calendar, requested a hearing; that is correct.

Mr. NEFF. Was that the first notice you had of his wishes to have a hearing concerning this measurs?

Mr. BERGER. To the best of my recollection, Mr. President, that is the only request I have had for a hearing on this bill.

Mr. NEFF. Mr. President, it is my understanding that the C. I. O., representing some 600,000 workers in Pennsylvania, had notified the Chairman of the various Committees in the Senate that on bills pertaining to labor, they would like to have an opportunity to speak on them, this notification being given the first week of this Session.

The gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Kephart. has stated that this action of the transportation union in Philadelphia affected some 2,000,000 people in Philadelphia. I would like to say, that if this bill is passed, it will adversely affect the economic welfare of a great many workers to a much greater degree than what the workers and the people of Philadelphia would be affected.

For instance, Mr. President, I am thinking of a little group of workers in the city of Elwood, twenty-two workers, and I would like to briefly impose upon you in order to give you the case history of a transportation strike. A year ago this month, we had a seven week strike on a transportation line servicing Elwood City and vicinity of twenty-two workers seeking recognition and an increase in wages. They were being paid a starting rate of seventy cents an hour in an area where the going rate was $1.20 in industry. Fifty percent of the drivers were veterans, and sixty percent of the veterans were men who had been injured in the war and could not work in other types of industry or do menial labor of any kind, but they could drive busses and do a good job. After seven weeks, the strike was terminated on the basis that the question of wages would be arbitrated. The company and the union jointly agreed upon arbitration, and jointly chose an arbitrator, but when they sat down to arbitrate, the company sought an injunction. A judge granted a temporary injunction, came into the hearing, and enjoined not only the union but the American Arbitration Association from proceeding in arbitration on the basis that to do so would do irreparable harm, and cause confusion, prejudging an arbitrator's decision after having jointly chosen that arbitrator and the Association that was arbitrating the case.

Mr. President, that injunction stood for nine weeks, and then following November 2nd, the judge decided to vacate the injunction, and again we sat in arbitration. On January 4 of this year, almost a year from the time the negotiations were enjoined, the arbitrator awarded twenty-five cents an hour, retroactive to February 18, 1948. To this date, the company has not honored the arbitrator's decision, will not pay the award, and defies the members of that union to strike.

Now, Mr. President, here is a union of twenty-two men who have been subsidized by other union workers in that city, who are going to have to have the right to strike to bring this company to terms, as dictated by arbitration. If this bill is passed, they will be held off from striking or taking any action for at least seventy-five days, and perhaps more.

Mr. President, another phase I would like to touch upon is the fact that we provide in this so-called labor relations act, a provision that the employes shall vote on whether or not they should accept the last best offer of the employer. Now, somewhere in the years past, the Legislature of Pennsylvania by law established a Labor Relations Board of this state, providing that employes may band together for the right of collective bargaining, by secret ballot, conducted by the Labor Relations Board of this state, or vote upon their collective bargaining representative, and if they are in the majority, and wish that union to represent them, that union shall be certified as the sole collective bargaining agent for all the employes.

Now, Mr. President, in the case of a dispute with the employer on conditions of work, which may mean that ten men are fired, or a hundred men are fired, or five men are fired, or that the men are protesting unsafe conditions, arbitrary rulings by supervisors, or it may be that they are protesting wages, you take the right away from the union and the elected officers of this bargaining agency to bargain for these men. You are saying, yes, you are the collective bargaining agent, and as such you have elected officers to negotiate for you, but when it comes to a question where the company decides not to go along with you, it will be resolved by each individual voting on that question.

So, Mr. President, what are we doing? We set up a provision to provide for collective bargaining through elected representatives of the people, and then in the case of transport workers in this Act, we take that right away from them and put it back on an individual basis once again.

Now, Mr. President, one other point. In Section eight, page six, we say, at line fifteen, "Any person adversely affected by reason of a violation of the provisions of this Act may file an action in the Court of Common Pleas of the County in which such violation occurred to restrain and enjoin such violation, and to compel the performance of duties imposed by this Act."

Now, Mr. President, I wonder how much harmony in labor we are going to promote by permitting any "crackpot" in the city of Philadelphia or any labor abettor in any other city so effected to go to court and seek an enjoining order against the actions of the employes in that particular instance. I think we are doing nothing but confusing and disturbing labor relations in this state.

Mr. President, I think lastly that the Chamber of Commerce of Philadelphia certainly deserves an "A" for effort, and Senator Kephart also, for they have tried unceasingly during this Session of the Legislature to hamstring and destroy the rights of the workers in the transport industry, not only in the city of Philadelphia, but in the state of Pennsylvania. I think they are doing their level best to prepare for the day when the Taft-Hartley Act is repealed in Washington, that they might have a "Little Taft-Hartley Act," or what portion of it they can salvage, in the state of Pennsylvania, to do the same kind of a job on the workers of Pennsylvania in the future as has been done in the past two years by National legislation.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, will the sponsor of this bill permit himself to be interrogated?

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Kephart, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KEPHART. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, I would like to know whether it was the intention of the sponsor of this bill to include those in the trucking business under the provisions of this bill?

Mr. KEPHART. No, Mr. President, it was not. This was for passenger transportation.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, I would like to point out that there is nothing in this Act which limits it to passenger transportation. The Act reads: "To provide for the prompt, peaceful and just settlement of labor disputes between employers engaged in public utility transportation subject to the jurisdiction of the Commonwealth and the Public Utility Commission."

Now, Mr. President, with that question, that includes property transportation as well as passenger transportation. I would like to point out to the Members of this Senate that the provisions of this bill would, therefore, cover all kinds of transportation, subject to the jurisdiction of the Commonwealth and the Public Utility Commission, and I think the gentlemen of this body should consider seriously that by the provisions of this bill they are affecting not only passenger transportation companies, but trucking companies.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Kephart, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. KEPHART. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, first of all I would like to ask Senator Kephart the difference between conciliator and mediator? What is the difference between the two?

Mr. KEPHART. Well, Mr. President, I am not an expert on labor relations. I am putting this bill in for the purpose of trying to help the public, and prevent a strike. I do not intend to engage in an argument with the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Holland, as to the difference between conciliator and mediator, which I do not think makes any difference.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, throughout the bill the word "conciliator" is mentioned, and then we come to a point on page five, where the word "mediator" is used.

Now, Mr. President, I would like to further interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Kephart, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. KEPHART. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, when the employes vote on the last offer of the employer, I think it is section seven, what is going to become of the other grievances? In other words, the strike may not be caused wholly by wages, there may be other things, for instance, secondary to wages. How are we going to take care of that?

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I say all grievances could be covered in the offer.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I did not hear the gentleman.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I said all grievances could be covered in the offer. Grievances are covered in the contract, aren't they?

Mr. HOLLAND. Yes. The last offer made by the company, you put in here.

Mr. KEPHART. I say that the last offer you are talking about could cover a plan to work out those grievances.

Mr. HOLLAND. That is all.

Mr. President, I believe that when the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Kephart, made the statement that he was not familiar with labor relations, he expressed the whole story. He had no right to put in this bill, because I believe that men who are devoting their lives to having good labor relations between labor and management, know that a bill of this type would encourage strikes. In other words, the gentleman from Philadelphia, in his bill, is inviting a strike. He says here that after a certain number of days, and he puts into the minds of the men that they are going to be compelled to go out on strike after so many days, because he, by that method of suggestion, writes into the bill that they may thereupon exercise their right to engage in a strike or a walkout.

I say to you, Mr. President, that any man who is trying to promote good labor relations would never put anything like that in a bill. Now, this bill comes purely out of Philadelphia, and I think the Members of the Senate will agree with me that we get a lot of things out of Philadelphia in these sessions, and very few good ones, too, but here he says that the Philadelphia strike is one of the reasons.

Mr. President, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, why did not the councilmen serving on the Council of Philadelphia, and the Mayor, who were Members of the Executive Board, why did they not exercise their positions while on those Boards to see that this strike was properly handled, or rather the dispute between labor and management was properly handled before it came to a strike? They sat on that Board, those Executive Boards, but did they do anything? Did they just sit there, or did they do what the Mayor of the City said? He said, "I want to be nonpartisan in it, being the Mayor of the City," and then a representative of the Mayor comes here to Harrisburg, Mr. Kephart, and he is nonpartisan on the matter. He immediately wants to write a bill, and pass a law to settle disputes that human relations should have settled long before he came here.

Mr. President, I have tried in my years in Harrisburg, with Senator Geltz, to have a labor management school set up in all industrial districts. I have never heard Mr. Kephart yet raise his voice in favor of such a movement, a movement that would educate both labor and management as to their position on so-called public relations. He has never raised a voice, but he has come in here, in the time I know, each session with bills to hamstring or destroy labor unions, and destroy the labor movement. At no time has he offered his services as a lawyer to settle amicably the things that we should do. Oh, there is no strike in Russia, there is no strike in Germany, there is no strike in Italy, and when he speaks about forcing people, as he said on this floor today, the only one way he can settle it, the way he wants to do things, is by going to a dictatorship, and I know that we, who live under this free enterprise system, want to maintain it, and I say to him and the Members of this Senate, that this is not the approach to the problem. This approach to the problem will not only cause strikes in Philadelphia, but it will cause strikes throughout the whole state of Pennsylvania, because you are writing in this bill that after a certain length of time, it is their privilege and you invite those people to go out on strike. So, I say to you, Mr. President, this is not the approach to this problem.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I am not going to discuss the merits of this bill, plenty has been said, but I want to point out to this body the courtesy extended to my friend from Lawrence County, Senator Neff, when he spoke. For the first time in the history of Pennsylvania that I know of, thirty-one Senators left their seats, and went back in the cloak room.

Mr. President, I have sat here for fifteen years, and I have heard many things which I did not like to hear, but with all due courtesy, I have listened patiently to the arguments coming forth from the other side of the house, and I think it is disgraceful when a colleague gets up from this side of the house, that thirty-one men should leave their seats and walk out without a quorum in the house.

Mr. President, I hope such a thing does not happen again.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, much has been said here today on this piece of legislation. I do not believe that it is necessary to go into further detail. I think we can dispose of this bill rather quickly because we are quite convinced that this it not the type of legislation which should be passed by this Senate.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll the following occurred.)

MOTION TO RECOMMIT SENATE BILL No. 490

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 490, on final passage, be recommitted to the Committee on Labor and Industry, for further study and possible amendment.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I rise on a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, will state his point of order.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, there is nothing before the Senate but the roll call.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order is well taken.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I was busy trying to check the rules, and I, therefore, am not recorded. However, I do want to be recorded as voting "no".

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Westmoreland will be so recorded.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise on a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, will state his point of order.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, as I understood the procedure, the gentleman from Washington made a motion to recommit, and it is my contention, Mr. President, that a motion to recommit takes precedence over the roll call when the bill is up for debate.

The PRESIDENT. The motion to recommit was not seconded.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, it was seconded.

The PRESIDENT. The motion to recommit was not seconded.

Mr. BARR. It was seconded, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order is not well taken.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I just want to say that the rules of the Senate do not seem to have any effect.

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections to the roll call?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, first of all I want to say that I did second the motion of the gentleman from Washington, and Mr. Walker got up—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I rise on a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, will state his point of order.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, there is nothing before the Senate but the announcement of the roll.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker is correct, and the point of order is well taken. The Clerk will proceed with the announcement of the roll.

VERIFICATION OF THE ROLL

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The PRESIDENT. Request has been made to have the roll verified.

The Clerk will call the names of those recorded as having voted in the affirmative.

Berger,	Homsher,	Robinson,	Wagner,
Blass,	Kephart,	Scarlett,	Walker,
Diehm,	Lord,	Snowden,	Watkins,
Farrell,	Mahany,	Stevenson,	Watson,
Frazier,	Mallery,	Tallman,	Wolfe,
Geltz,	McPherson, Jr.,	Taylor,	Wood, L. H.,
Hare,	Meade,	Wade,	Wood, T. N.,
	Peelor,

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none. The affirmative roll will stand as verified.

The Clerk will call the names of those recorded as having voted in the negative.

Barr,	Doehla,	Leader,	Ruth,
Barrett,	Donlan,	Letzler,	Stiefel,
Crowe,	Haluska,	Neff,	Tarr,
Dent,	Holland,	Pechan,	Toole,
DiSilvestro,	Lane,	Rosenfeld,	Yosko,

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, how is the gentleman from Lycoming, Mr. Snowden, recorded as voting?

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Lycoming, Mr. Snowden, is recorded as having voted "aye".

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I did not see him here when the roll was called.

The PRESIDENT. Is the gentleman from Lycoming, Mr. Snowden, in his seat, or is Mr. Snowden on the floor? Is the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, challenging the vote of the gentleman from Lycoming, Mr. Snowden?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I am challenging Senator Snowden's vote.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I rise on a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Kephart will state his point of order.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, when the affirmative votes were called, the Chair requested if the affirmative roll was correct, and nobody objected to it.

The PRESIDENT. That is correct.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise on a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, it is also well known that a man not present cannot be recorded.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, is correct.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, the gentleman from Lycoming is not here, and I think it is stubborn insistence to have his vote accepted. How do you know whether the gentleman wants to vote for your bill?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, has the roll been verified?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I am going to insist that the name of the gentleman from Lycoming, Senator Snowden, be stricken from the affirmative roll.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I have no objection to the name of the gentleman from Lycoming, Senator Snowden, being stricken from the affirmatirve roll.

The PRESIDENT. The name of the gentleman from Lycoming, Mr. Snowden, will be stricken from the affirmative roll.

The PRESIDENT. Are there any further corrections? The Chair hears none. The roll will stand as corrected.

The vote on the passage of the bill: ayes 29, nays 20.

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Berger,	Homsher,	Peelor,	Wagner,
Blass,	Kephart,	Robinson,	Walker,
Chapman,	Lord,	Scarlett,	Watkins,

DiSilvestro,	Lane,	Rosenfeld,	Yosko,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BARR asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I just want to make one prediction. I think the House of Representatives will show more sense than the Senate, and I predict they will never pass this punitive piece of legislation.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 518, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the fifth day of December one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (1937 P. L. 2897) entitled "An act establishing a system of unemployment compensation to be administered by the Department of Labor and Industry and its existing and newly created agencies with personnel (with certain exceptions) selected on a civil service basis requiring employers to keep records and make reports and certain employers to pay contributions based on payrolls to provide moneys for the payment of compensation to certain unemployed persons providing procedure and administrative details for the determination payment and collection of such contributions and the payment of such compensation providing for cooperation with the Federal Government and its agencies creating certain special funds in the custody of the State Treasurer and prescribing penalties" prescribing limitations upon enforcement of payments by employers of contributions interest and penalties

Section 1 The act approved the fifth day of December one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (1937 P. L. 2897) entitled "An act establishing a system of unemployment compensation to be administered by the Department of Labor and Industry and its existing and newly created agencies with personnel (with certain exceptions) selected on a civil service basis requiring employers to keep records and make reports and certain employers to pay contributions based on payrolls to provide moneys for the payment of compensation to certain unemployed persons providing procedure and administrative details for the determination payment and collection of such contributions and the payment of such compensation providing for cooperation with the Federal Government and its agencies creating certain special funds in the custody of the State Treasurer and prescribing penalties" is hereby amended by adding after section three hundred nine point one thereof a new section to read as follows

Section 309.2 Limitations Upon Enforcement of Payment of Contributions Interest and Penalties

Notwithstanding any other provisions of this act to the contrary contributions interest and penalties shall not be deemed to be due and payable under the provisions of this act more than four years after the end of the calendar year in which the wages were paid with respect to which liability for the payment of such contributions interest or penalties as the case may be was based and no action for the collection thereof shall be instituted after the expiration of such four-year period unless prior to the expiration of such four-year period and with respect thereto (1) an assessment proceeding shall have been instituted pursuant to the provisions of section three hundred four of this act or (2) an action shall have been instituted pursuant to the provisions of section three hundred nine of this act or (3) a lien shall have been entered pursuant to the provisions of section three hundred eight point one of this act provided that the provisions of this section shall not apply where an employer by willful failure or refusal to file a report with the department or to include in any report all wages which he has paid or otherwise has attempted to avoid or reduce liability for the payment of contributions

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective on the first day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Section 8. Section five hundred two of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-third day of April, one thousand nine hundred forty-two (P. L. 60) is hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 502. Decision of Referee; Further Appeals and Reviews—Where an appeal from the determination or revised determination, as the case may be, of the department is taken, a referee shall, after affording the parties reasonable opportunity for a fair hearing, affirm, modify, or reverse such findings of fact and the determination or revised determination, as the case may be, of the department as to him shall appear just and proper. The parties shall be duly notified of the referee's decision, and the reason therefor, which shall be deemed the final decision of the board, unless within ten days after the date of such decision the board acts on its own motion, or upon application, permits any of the parties to institute a further appeal before the board. A memorandum of testimony of any hearing before any referee shall be made and be preserved for a period of two years. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this act to the contrary, with any appeal or further appeal filed by an employer with the board, the employer shall be required to pay a filing fee, in an amount which under rules and regulations adopted by the board shall be determined to be reasonably representative of the costs incident to such appeal: Provided, That such fee shall be refunded if the claimant is finally denied benefits or awarded benefits in an amount less than the amount of the award from which the appeal was taken Such fees shall be deposited in the Special Administration Fund and all refunds as provided herein shall be made from such fund.

Section 9. Section six hundred one point one of said act as last amended by the act approved the twentieth day of June, one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 721) is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 601.1. Special Administration Fund—There is hereby created a special fund, separate and apart from all public moneys or funds of this Commonwealth, to be known as the Special Administration Fund. Under rules and regulations adopted by the department, interest and penalties collected from employers under the provisions of this act and fees incident to appeals as provided in section five hundred two may be paid into the Special Administration Fund. Such rules and regulations may provide for determining in any manner which payments of interest and penalties are to be paid into the Special Administration Fund and which payments of interest and penalties are to be paid into the Unemployment Compensation Fund. The moneys in this fund shall be used for the payment of costs of administration which are found not to have been properly and validly chargeable against federal grants or other funds received for or in the Administration Fund. Said moneys shall not be expended or available for expenditure in any manner which would permit their substitution for, or a corresponding reduction in, federal funds which would in the absence of said moneys be available to finance expenditures for the administration of this act. Nothing in this section shall prevent said moneys from being used as a revolving fund to cover expenditures necessary and proper under the law for which federal funds have been duly requested but not yet received, subject to the charging of such expenditures against such funds when received. The State Treasurer shall make payment of obligations from the Special Administration Fund as herein provided, upon requisition of the secretary and certification by him that no other funds are available or can properly be used to finance such expenditures. The moneys in this fund are hereby specifically made available to replace any moneys received pursuant to section three hundred and two of the Federal Social Security Act, as amended, which, because of any action or contingency, have been lost or have been expended for purposes other than, or in amounts in excess of, those necessary for the proper administration of this act and are available for such replacement, whether or not such moneys were expended or the obligations covering such expenditures were incurred prior or subsequent to the enactment of this amendment. The moneys in this fund shall be continuously available for expenditure in accordance with the provisions of this section, and shall not lapse at any time or be transferred to any other fund except as herein provided and as provided under [section] sections three hundred [and] eleven, and five hundred two, wherein an amount equal to any refund or credit of interest or penalties shall be transferred from the Special Administration Fund to the Unemployment Compensation Fund.

Section 10. Section seven hundred two of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 702. Limitations of Fees—No employer or employe shall be charged fees of any kind in any proceeding under this act by the department, the board, or any of its officers or agents except as provided in section five hundred two. Any individual claiming compensation in any proceeding before the department, the board, or referee may be represented by counsel or other duly authorized agent; but no such counsel or agent shall either charge or receive any greater fee for such services than is approved by the board. Any person who violates any provision of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or be imprisoned for not more than six months, or both.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to adress the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I have just received a release made by the Public Utility Commission of Pennsylvania, and I wish the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Kephart, would listen. He made a statement today that he was very much interested in protecting the public in Philadelphia. He insisted that in a dispute of labor, it would be extended sixty days.

Mr. President, I want him to listen very attentively to this release, and then after I have read it, I will let the people of Philadelphia know how much interested he is in the public, and I quote:

"A new tariff, filed with the Public Utility Commission, by Philadelphia Electric Company increasing the gross revenues an estimated $9,587,541 annually will become effective April 18, 1941. The P. U. C. took no action to prevent the increased rates from becoming effective on that date.

"Commissioner John B. Conly voted in the negative."

Mr. President, I ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Kephart, to join with me in a bill asking that this rate increase be suspended, the same as he has asked labor in industrial disputes, at least sixty days until someone representing the public of Philadelphia can go into this problem, and see if these atrocious rates that are now being placed upon the public of Philadelphia can be stopped.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, evidently the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Holland, doesn't realize that I have been one of the most severe critics of the Public Utility Commission.

Mr. President, I not only would be glad to join him on that bill, but he can include the taxicab rate increase in it, and maybe the P. T. C.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, a bill is now in the Senate which provides that the utilities of Pennsylvania base their rate making on the invested capital, and not the reconstruction costs, as the Philadelphia Electric based their plea before the Public Utility Commission.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I did not quite follow the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Holland. Did he accept the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Kephart, as a co-sponsor?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I will be very glad to because I do not care whose name is on the bill. I really want to protect the public.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I just wanted to know.

An Act to further amend section four hundred twelve and subsections (9) and (10) of section six hundred two of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of November one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 15 1933-34) entitled as amended "An act to regulate and restrain the sale manufacture possession transportation importation traffic in and use of alcohol and alcoholic and malt or brewed beverages conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board and its agents the Department of Public Instruction other officers of the State government courts and district attorneys authorizing the establishment and operation of State stores for the sale of such beverages not for consumption on the premises and the granting of licenses subject to local option to sell such beverages for consumption on and off the premises forbidding importation or bringing of such beverages into the State except as herein provided prohibiting certain sales or practices in connection with and transactions in such beverages by licensees and others providing for the forfeiture of certain property making disposition of the receipts from State stores and of fees and imposing penalties" by further regulating advertisements allowed on and about licensed premises and increasing the quantity of malt or brewed beverages which may be sold in a single sale by certain licensees for consumption off premises

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. STANK offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 1, page 6 by inserting between lines 11 and 12 the following: Provided, however, that nothing in this act shall prohibit any manufacturer from displaying any sign of any kind, printed, painted or electric, advertising any brand of malt, brewed or distilled beverages of his own manufacture on the roof of any building in which more than ten (10) offices are rented to tenants other than the lessee of the licensed premises.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. STANK. Mr. Speaker, the advertising restrictions in the Liquor Control Law are meant to prevent unsightly and unfair advertising of products sold by retail licensees. However, this act would prevent a brewery from placing his sign on the roof of an office building in which a retail licensee is located, even if the licensee doesn't sell the product of the manufacturer. This amendment would simply prevent the manufacturer from advertising this product on the roof of a building on which a licensee is located, if there are at least ten other tenants.

I would ask the members of the House to support this amendment.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, we have on our calendar on second reading what might be termed a package of liquor bills, one of which we have already passed on second reading and which is restricting the licensing of hotels.

The other two bills are in the nature of a restriction in one part of the bill and, shall I say, a letting down of the liquor restriction in the other portion of the bill.

This Senate bill 160 provides after the bill becomes law, that a retailer will be allowed to sell one hundred and forty-fluid ounces of beer to one customer at one time. Under the present law he can just sell seventy-two ounces or six bottles of beer, shall we say. If this becomes a law he will be able to sell twelve bottles of beer.

Attached to and made a part of the bill is a restriction against advertising of brands. The bill denies the right of advertising of any brand of liquor as set up in the bill It does, however, permit window displays not exceeding three hundred square inches in size, regardless of the cost of the window display. It also permits displays inside the premises, and that would be at the back bar, and limits the expense of that particular advertising to twenty dollars as an overall expense, or not to exceed ten dollars for each piece of advertising at the point of sale.

The reason for this restriction of advertising is, as Mr. Stank says, to do away with the guady advertising of brands of liquor or beer sold in Pennsylvania. It seems to be a very fine restriction to do away with these unseemly signs. There is nothing under the bill that will permit the owner of a tavern having a sign on his premises having his name on, John Smith, Tavern, or whatever it might be. He will also be allowed a sign in each window, not exceeding three hundred square inches in size, and he can pay any price he wants to for that particular sign.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, this amendment which would permit a large sign on this particular roof of a building in which the licensee is placed is not in keeping with the spirit of the bill, and we therefore ask the Members to vote down the amendment.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

The SPEAKER declared the nays appear to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for eight-one Members voting in the affirmative and one hundred nine Members in the negative, the question was determined in the negative, and the amendment was not agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The Chair now lays before the House the amendment offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Rosen.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 602), page 7, line 9, by inserting after the word "inches" the following "except temporary window displays"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, the effect of this amendment,—I might go back and explain.

As I previously said, this bill would permit a window display of three hundred square inches, which would be a neon sign or any appropriate sign, regardless of cost. The effect of this amendment would be to permit an addition to this sign, a temporary window display to cover the window. May I say that this amendment denies and is not in keeping with the spirit of the bill, therefore, I would ask the House to vote down this amendment.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The title was read and agreed to.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House bill No. 718, Printer's No. 576

was passed over at the request of Mr. O'Dare.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 803, as follows:

An Act to amend sections one thousand twenty-one one thousand twenty-two and one thousand seventy-three of the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (Act No. 14) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" by changing the term of office of county superintendents and district superintendents

Section 1 Sections one thousand twenty-one one thousand twenty-two and one thousand seventy-three of the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (Act No. 14) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" are hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1021 Election Every [four (4)] six (6) years there shall be elected as herein provided in every county in this Commonwealth a person to be known as the county superintendent

Section 1022 Time and By whom elected Term of Office The school directors of all of the school districts that do not have a district superintendent of each county in which a county superintendent is to be elected shall meet in convention at the county seat of their county in the courthouse or some other suitable place to be furnished by the county commissioners at the expense of the county on the second Tuesday of April one thousand nine hundred and fifty (1950) and on the same day of every [fourth] sixth year thereafter and by a majority vote of those present elect as herein provided one duly qualified person as county superintendent to serve for [four] six (6) years from the first Monday of July next following and fix his annual salary

Section 1073 Manner of Election Change of Class of District The board of school directors of each district of the second or third class electing a district superintendent shall meet in convention at its regular place of meeting on the second Tuesday of April one thousand nine hundred fifty (1950) and on the same day of every [four years] sixth year thereafter at an hour previously fixed by the board the secretary shall mail to each member thereof at least five days beforehand a notice of the time place and purpose of such convention such convention shall in the same manner as a county superintendent is elected and certified elect and certify a properly qualified district superintendent to serve for [four] six (6) years from the first Monday of July next following his election

The term of office or commission of a district superintendent or assistant district superintendent shall not be shortened by reason of the fact that the district in which he serves shall because of loss of population enter a class of districts for which there is no provision for a district superintendent or assistant district superintendent and such superintendent or assistant district superintendent shall continue to serve such district for the term of his office or commission

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective on the first day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-nine

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker, we have a bill before us today, increasing the term of our county superintendents. I have no quarrel at all with our county superintendents. They are a fine group of educators, and in my county I think we have one of the finest county superintendents who has ever been elevated to that office.

However, in electing these gentlemen to a six year term we are creating a precedent. Our constitution in most every case indicates that an elective office in this state shall be for four years. Of course, judges are given ten years, but we all understand the reason for that. Likewise, our United States Senators have six year terms but that is because the federal Constitution allows them that term of service. But generally speaking all the elective offices of the state and in the counties and in the townships are for a period of four years. Is it wise for us to change that custom?

As I said before it creates a precedent. How many more officers, if this measure is successful, will come before us and ask that their term of office be increased, or that their tenure of office be increased? I do not know nor do I wish to pose as a prophet, but I believe if we do increase this tenure for the county superintendents, we will find many county officers, and even state officers, coming in here and asking that their term of office too be increased.

Mr. Speaker, I have heard the argument that the county superintendent does not have time to get his program started in four years, and yet our Governor has to start his program and wind it up in four years. He doesn't even have a second chance to complete his program which he started in the first four years. It seems to me that these county superintendents, if they have a good program, ought to be able to get it under way in four years. The argument is also true that in four years they may not be able to do as well as they hoped, but likewise they hope that they can complete as much as possible of the program. I understand that they wish to be relieved in a measure by this bill of the difficulty they have in marking pupils' papers. Later on this comes up to bother them when they come up for reelection. The same applies to teachers. But gentlemen, the teachers do not elect the county superintendents and I cannot see any strength in that argument.

Therefore, gentlemen, in considering the precedent which this establishes and the difficulties it may bring to us in the future, getting away from the time honored custom and from the method which is clearly indicated by the constitution, I suggest, gentlemen, that you hesitate a moment and think whether we are doing the right thing in passing this bill.

MR. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, first of all I would like somebody, either the sponsor of the bill or somebody who is particularly interested in this piece of legislation, to get up and give us some good reason why we should increase this term of office to six years, the term of office of the county superintendent or the district superintendent. If they will get up and tell us a good reason why this should be increased, I might vote for this bill. If they do not I will have to agree with my friend on the other side that it is not a good piece of legislation.

Mr. POSTA. Mr. Speaker, being a school director I am very much interested in this bill. This bill involves not only the county superintendents, but also the district superintendents. The county superintendents are elected by the school directors in the county, and district superintendents are elected by the school boards of their own independent districts. They are elected for a period of four years begining in May, and I think that when we elect a superintendent for a period of four years, that gives that superintendent time enough to prove that he is capable of doing his job for which he is elected, and gives the board of education a chance to know whether they wish to reelect this man for another term of four years. If this man is forced upon them, this superintendent through political pressure, then it gives that board of education a chance to dismiss him and hire a new superintendent after four years, and not have somebody forced on them for a period of six years.

Therefore, I think we should vote against this bill as it is a bad piece of legislation. We here are elected for a period of two years, or one session, and we are supposed to go back home and tell the people out in the state what we did. These superintendents are elected for four years and they can form a program and prove to the members of the school board in that time whether they are successful in their job or not, and I think we should oppose the bill as it is, and give them a four year term but not extend it to six.

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, relative to House Bill 803, it deals with both county and district superintendents. That first part of it is clear. The second factor is I believe that the school law says the school directors are elected for a period of six years. That is what this bill calls for for the superintendents.

Then a third factor, which is a financial one, is in a period of twelve years there would be two elections under this bill and not three, which would be a saving of the county convention for the election of superintendents of thirty-three and one-third percent.

The fourth factor is that in the first class cities I think those superintendents are appointed for six years, and this would be in line with the first class cities. Now, it may be possible to say, when we think in terms of our election for two years, and state Senators for four years, Congressmen for two years, that on the other hand we can argue in regard to judges for ten years and judges for twenty-one years and justices for life, upon good behavior. That would likely clear that argument.

Mr. Speaker, one of the preceding speakers mentioned about the program initiated by the superintendent, whether he was county or district superintendent. The argument does not lie in the fact that he initiates a program. It is how long will it take him to carry out a program which might be and generally is most helpful to the schools. We must not forget that a program that is initiated by the superintendent is carried out under the new school law. It is always known to the public, and therefore doing the work that he is assigned to do and should do for the welfare of the boys and girls, he has often times much opposition.

Now, I agree, Mr. Speaker, with one of the speakers, if in the period of six years he could not carry out a reasonable program, proving to the populace that his program is a good one, then the program is wrong or he is inefficient in handling that program. I think anyone who knows anything about schools would definitely understand that four years is a rather short number of years to put into effect and prove to the public that a good school program is now their district and operating in their schools.

I believe the last argument we had for this bill would be that since 1937 the superintendent, whether he be county or district, is under a terrific pressure because of the teacher situation. In 1939 we amended the tenure act and put into law the rating card. That rating card is a very good thing but the effect negatively lies largely with the superintendent as far as the public is concerned and so far as the teaching force is concerned. Remember, that a superintendent must act according to his opinion of the efficiency of the teachers, and to tell the truth it is most embarrasing many times but that is what he is supposed to do. If he has to rate and does rate the teacher, and there are many times some are not as high in their efficiency and their professional status as others, then that starts trouble; the public and the school board hear the one side and the superintendent knows the other side, and thus he must, according to law and according to his oath of office, render a decision, many times against a teacher, not because he wants to, but because it is his duty. That means that trouble starts for him in doing his work. If he has a reasonable number of years he can prove in most instances that he was right in his position, but suppose this happens just a year or two years from the beginning of his term, when the term is just fifty per cent completed, that means that he may not be able to receive a sufficient number of votes to be re-elected on his good work, not on his poor work, for the welfare of the school as he sees it, not upon his personal opinion of individuals.

Those are my ideas as to the reasons for this bill. I believe they are valid according to the thinking of the school people, according to the thinking of a lot of the board of directors and a lot of the public. Naturally, there may be another side. It depends upon how you interpret it, what is the efficiency and what is the professional manner of handling school problems, as a superintendent must see it?

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Sollenberger.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Blair permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has referred to the fact that the school directors were elected for six years, is that correct?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Yes, Mr. Speaker, I think that is in the law.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman gave that as a reason why superintendents should be elected for six years, is that not a fact?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. No, Mr. Speaker, I did not. I replied to the statement of one of the preceeding speakers as to the four year term. I don't know what he said, but that statement was made and I wanted to clear up that point. I have no opposition to school directors. That is not the point at issue.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, in other words, the gentleman from Blair made the statement in connection with the fact that the school boards are elected for six years and then the county superintendents or the district superintendents should be elected for six years is that correct?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, I did not say that because one was elected the other should be. I argued that the superintendent should, and I tried to bring the right impression as to the length of term of the school boards, which was another issue, and I did not connect the two, because one was elected for six years, that the other should be elected for six years.

Mr. LOVETT. I thank the gentleman. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman from Blair give any information to this House that county superintendents and the district superintendents have not been re-elected after their four year term?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe that the gentleman's question is clear. I don't know what the gentleman has in mind. There have been those who have been re-elected and those who were not re-elected, but I do not believe that is what the gentleman is asking.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, the question I am asking is, in the majority cases in the state of Pennsylvania in relation to county superintendents, is it not a fact that most of them have been serving for a least twenty years, under the present form of election?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, I doubt if the number of years is that high, but so far as several terms or two terms is concerned, I would say that is true.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, that they have been re-elected for several terms?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. I think that is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. The gentleman also stated that since 1939, due to the teacher's tenure act, the county superintendents and the district superintendents find themselves in trouble when they do their duty in regard to the teachers. Therefore, it is difficult for them to be re-elected—is that right?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, I believe I said that many times he finds himself in trouble in being re-elected because of his rating a teacher as he believes he or she should be rated. I think that is true. I know many times they had to build a lot of fences because they must carry out those functions, even at election time. I believe that is the record and not imagination.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman from Blair state to this House that since 1939 a number of the county superintendents and the district superintendents have not been re-elected since that time?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. No, Mr. Speaker, I do not believe that I will be able to name numbers. I wouldn't name names, either on non-reelection or on trouble, but it has been done.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, then would the gentleman from Blair be fair and say that if the county superintendents and the district superintendents have been reelected since this act of 1939, as a whole, then, it is not a good argument for changing the law?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman from Westmoreland has inserted a phrase there that permits me to say that I cannot agree with his statement as a whole, but in general I believe that they have been reelected, but by no means, by a full vote or a unanimous vote, but they were reelected by a majority vote or they would not have been reelected, and that often times does not call for good relationship between the superintendent and those who feel that he should not be reelected, which must be a minority, of course.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, did the gentleman say that regardless of whether we made the term of office six years, that they have the same problems, that those same problems may not happen in the fifth year?

Mr. SOLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, I believe that those problems would be much less, for the simple reason that the superintendent would have more of a chance in six years to prove his efficiency and his actions than he would in four years, under two conditions; first, the rating of the teacher that was not a high rating, and secondly the operation of the program.

Mr. LOVETT. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, two years ago we had a bill to put the county superintendents under teacher's tenure. We defeated that bill two years ago. Now, we have a bill to increase the number of years that the county superintendents shall serve. Now, I find no fault with the county superintendents nor the district superintendents, but the statistics prove that in a large percentage of cases, the county superintendents have continued to serve for several terms and the district superintendents have consistently served, if they so wished to serve.

In this day and age, when the younger class of our people are now going to school and being educated, I cannot find any reason why we should secure these people in office for a period of six years, if in a four year term they cannot establish their reason for being reelected; we are only stopping progress for our younger people who are coming on. Therefore I can see no good reason and nobody has stated on this floor today that the county superintendents or the district superintendents in the majority of cases have not been reelected by the school directors throughout the state, and I think we should defeat this bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. First of all, Mr. Speaker, I want to express my gratification, personal gratification, that Congressman Brown has been able to return to his place in the Chamber.

Regarding the bill at hand, I think we will find, if we think about it at all, that six years is a long time to spend finding out that a man is no good. We would also discover if we think about it, that four years is a sufficient time in which to discover that a man is good, and having discovered that he is good in four years, we elect him for four years more. By that method we never get stuck for six years with a man that is not capable to fill the position.

Mr. CLAPPER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make a brief statement concerning this bill. As most of the Members of this House know, the educational system in the state of Pennsylvania and in the nation as a whole is on the verge of facing a national crisis, unless some moves are made that will benefit the educational system.

I am not a superintendent of schools and I am not an assistant superintendent of schools, nor do I have any aspirations to serve as one. But I do rise at this moment in behalf of the boys and girls of Pennsylvania and ask that the Members of this Legislature cast a favorable vote for this bill this afternoon.

As several of the gentlemen have just said, no statement has been made that would tell them that this is a bill that should receive their support. I would like to bring out a couple of things which I think might be a help to them.

Many of you know that every board of school directors in every township in the state of Pennsylvania has their problems. I do not believe there is a single board that would deny this statement.

There are many cases where the board of education goes to the county superintendent for his help. It happens time and time again. I know of no man who is more willing to offer aid than the county superintendent of schools, but I would like to inform the Members that every time a new superintendent changes position, he has the problem of acquainting himself with the new district. In a term of four years, it is only natural that the superintendent of our schools would become acquainted with the problem of every board of education, and from that time on he is willing to give them more efficient help. If a new man is to come into the position at the end of every four years and he is inclined to run again, then as a result the board has to suffer, not only the board but the taxpayers of the district, and the boys and girls of the state of Pennsylvania because there is no time when we owe more allegiance to them than at this very moment. I say to the Members of the House that as for myself having been in the teaching profession for twenty years, I say that any time a new county superintendent is placed into a district, there is a new experiment, a new period of experimentation and if we are to teach boys and girls the leadership that is so necessary to cope with the affairs of the world today, I think that it is time that you consider giving them that stalwart leadership that will help them in their problems.

I might also say, Mr. Speaker, when a new superintendent comes in, a new pattern of work is set up for every teacher, and as a result the whole educational system in the county is started over anew. I think it is time that this period of experimentation should cease and that we awaken ourselves to the fact that we must give to our state and to our people that system of education that will help us and send forth leaders who will cope with the problems of the world today and will establish such a system of education that we can depend upon, and that we must not change hands at every turn of the road.

Mr. NAGEL. Mr. Speaker, I hesitate to rise at this time in opposition to this bill. I say I hesitate lest I might do something or might say something that would impair the efficiencey of the teaching of the young people in our great state. But after studying this bill and considering it from all sides, I have definitely concluded that this is a piece of legislation that is not needed.

I have observed for years and I have seen perhaps more of it during this session than any other, where groups are coming in for appropriations, for increased pensions, for increases in other lines of pay, and then for extension in terms of office. We have had a number of those bills before us and the time has come when we must call a halt on some of these things.

It is going to become necessary in the near future for the Commonwealth to build around this Capital a wall one hundred feet high to keep out lobbyists and perhaps censor all incoming mail so that the Members of this House and the Senate may consider in their own individual judgement the merits of any piece of legislation that may be proposed from time to time.

It is time for us to stop, look and listen. So far as efficiency is concerned I contend that a four year term for a county superintendent or a district superintendent is ample time for the people of his district or community to determine what his real worth is in the field of being an educator. If he has none it is high time that he be dismissed.

I want to cite one county in this state, and that is the great county of Beaver from which I come. There we have had a county superintendent for a number of years. I have heard no complaints about him. He has served for many years and I doubt if he could be defeated if he comes up for re-election when his term expires. This is none other than Mr. Davison, a man who is working for the interest of the schools and who is working for the interest of our Commonwealth.

I say to the Members of the House, consider well. If two years is a sufficiently long term for the men who make the laws of our state, certainly four years ought to be considered ample time for a county superintendent or district superintendent to demonstrate whether or not he has the ability and can serve the people to their best interests. I am not asking you to vote in any particular way. I am voting against this bill, but I do ask you to use good judgement and consider well this tendency to get more for each special group. Consider that well before we come to the time when we shall rue the actions we have taken perhaps in this very measure.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

By Mr. WOOD. HOUSE BILL NO. 1328.

An Act making an appropriation from the Motor License Fund to the Department of Property and Supplies for the payment of costs incurred by that department in acting as purchasing agent for the Department of Highways.

Referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 980, Printer's No. 559

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 987, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the fifth day of August, one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 752) entitled "An act regulating and improving the civil service of certain departments and agencies of the Commonwealth; vesting in the State Civil Service Commission and a Personnel Director certain powers and duties; providing for classification of positions, adoption of compensation schedules and certification of payrolls; imposing duties upon certain officers and employes of the Commonwealth; authorizing service to other State departments or agencies and political subdivisions of the Commonwealth in matters relating to civil service; defining certain crimes and misdemeanors; imposing penalties; making certain appropriations, and repealing certain acts and parts thereof," by granting certain preferences to soldiers in examinations, selection and appointment of eligibles and furloughs.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I find myself in the unhappy position of having to vote against this bill, which is a very helpful bill as far as the veterans are concerned.

On page 10 of the bill provision has been made that no soldier or person entitled to a veteran's preference may be furloughed until every other person in that classification, wherever he happens to be, has first been furloughed. That may mean and will mean that a man who has never been a veteran but who might have served the state of Pennsylvania for twenty years and has given good service must be laid off before a man who has possibly served one or two years.

I find myself unable to agree with that in any respect, and I think that it will be one of the greatest deterrents with people who are not veterans seeking employment with the state of Pennsylvania. I think over the years to come we may be depriving the state of the services of many fine persons, who when considering taking a job with the state and knowing that they may be laid off at any time, no matter how long they served, will determine not to enter the state service.

I dislike very much that I must vote against this bill. I have talked with the sponsors and they have been unable to agree that this section be deleted. Therefore, I will vote against this bill.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor of this bill to pass this over for today.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the Chair withdraws its position that this bill was agreed to on third reading. The Chair hears no objection.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 987, Printer's No. 560

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. BRUNNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I think in view of the fact that we are having but a three day session this week, the Membership should be informed that it is our intention tomorrow to go right through the entire calendar and meet the objections to every bill, if there are any; that it is not our intention to have a consent calendar.

Therefore, I urge that all Members make it a point to be present for the entire session.

BILLS SIGNED BY SPEAKER

Bills numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 508.

Mr. BRETH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, this is a very happy moment for me. I waited for about ten years to say what I am about to say.

I will take you back a few years, first however, back to 1873, when the Fish Commission was first formed in this state by the Legislature. About twenty years later, the Game Commission was formed in 1895—two very important legislative years.

On those two years in this Legislature is based the beginning of Pennsylvania's hunting and fishing prestige. We have become the first state in the Union, bar none in the United States, according to the figures of the Department of the Interior. There are more hunters and fishermen in the state of Pennsylvania than in any other state in the Union.

However, we ran into a problem as time went on. At first there was plenty of game and fish and the regulations were liberal. We used the game and we have used the fish, and then we abused the game and abused the fish. Finally, for the past fifteen years, we have reached the end of the golden age of hunting and fishing in this state, an age, I would say, that extended over approximately from 1910 to 1935, about twenty-five years, but since game and fish are covered by natural laws, we did nothing or practically nothing over the years to obey or assist nature in maintaining the supply of game and fish adequate enough to provide suitable sport for a growing army of sportsmen.

However, Mr. Speaker, it remained for this Legislature, and I am serious in this, this Legislature has the honor, and the House of Representatives can take credit for having already passed in the House the greatest and most important game and fish legislation in fifty years.

A brief summary of what we have done, I think you might want to know. We passed House Bill 986, that is increasing the hunting license three dollars and fifteen cents and earmarking one dollar and twenty-five cents to help nature restore and bring back the game, and to pay farmers, which is an extraordinary provision, for assisting nature in leaving grain and other forms of wild life foods stand.

Another bill was House Bill 487. which eliminated the seventy-five cent purchase fund. That was passed in 1927. through which the Game Commission purchased eigh hundred and fifty-seven thousand acres of state land for the use of game.

Then House Bill 532 would reimburse the counties for prisoners' fare. House Bill 582 reduces the size of the small game hunting parties from five to four. Then House Bill 260 which is on the calendar, sets up an adequate game protector's retirement fund, which is long needed.

I might say that House Bill 254, which passed finally yesterday, clarifies the rules on hunting camp leases. The fish program was just as important, in fact, very important.

House Bill 982 reorganized the Fish Commission, setting it up as the Game Commission was set up in 1937, free of politics, setting up the same protection as to employes of the Game Commission.

House Bill 1192 provides for the first time the proposition of closing your trout streams thirty days before the season opens on April 15th, which will insure thousands of fish remaining in the streams rather than going into the refrigerators of the law breakers.

House Bill 533 is a companion bill of House Bill 532, which permits the Fish Commission to pay prisoner's fare for fish law violators.

House Bill 1166 now on the calendar, sets up a fish warden retirement fund, which has also been long needed.

This game and fish program cannot be viewed in its entirety now but I say to you that you should be proud to be Members of this House in passing this legislation. I hope sincerely that it gets through the Senate. To do this requires a great deal of work, a great deal of log rolling. We had a few expert log rollers to help it along. Harry Elder, Chairman of the Game Committee proved himself quite an expert, and George Goodling, Chairman of the Fish Committee, also George Shoemaker, Vice Chairman of the Fish Committee, and Edwin Tompkins who had much to do with it, because he sponsored so many important bills. They all proved themselves quite efficient as log rollers.

Mr. Speaker. I say that this is important for another reason, that is that this class legislation, all these bills, passed this House almost unanimously. There were only a few votes against a few measures and I think this shows that the Members here appreciated the importance of what the program was designated to do.

I want to say finally that the state of Pennsylvania, in being the number one state in the union in hunting and fishing, if this program is properly carried out by the Game Commission, the state will still maintain its position as the formost state in the Union.

Gentlemen, I as one of you do wish certainly from my heart to congratulate you because I feel that this question of hunting and fishing should go beyond party lines, and being thoroughly acquainted with the hunting and fishing picture for well over ten years, I believe that we do realize that the importance of this program will be evidenced when you are old and grey and talking to your grandchildren, you can point to the year 1949, when this legislation was before the House in regard to hunting and fishing, and say "Sonny, I helped to do that".

SELECT COMMITTEE MEETING

The SPEAKER. The Select Committee on Final Adjournament ceremonies will meet immediately after the session in the New House Caucus Room.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. GOODLING asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

COMMITTEE MEETINGS

Counties, Room Number 521, Wednesday, April 13, at 10:30 a. m.

Education, Room Number 324, Wednesday, April 13, at 10:00 a. m.

Military Affairs, Room Number 323, Wednesday, April 13, at 10:30 a. m.

Welfare, Room Number 330, Wednesday, April 13, at 10:30 a. m.

There will be a Democratic Caucus immediately after the close of today's session in the Old House Caucus Room.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unaminous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I got my wires crossed. I learned that the teachers are holding a meeting this afternoon in the old House Caucus Room. I had forgotten that I had given them that permission. I did not anticipate that we would like to have a caucus this afternoon. So obviously they cannot hold their meeting while we are holding the caucus, although I think that would gibe in with their proceedings very well.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. BRUNNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, may I suggest that an invitation be extended to the minority to use the facilities of the majority in the new House Caucus Room, and that the Select Committee yield also to the minority for that purpose.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman very much. We will not have any microphones or in any other way invade your privacy.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman did admit that he had his wires crossed.

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, we, of course, are happy to yield to the minority in this respect. The only thing we ask is that they do not get too used to that room.

The SPEAKER. Does the Majority Leader desire to make any suggestion for the meeting of the Select Committee on final adjournment ceremonies?

The Chair is informed that the members of the Select Committee are requested to meet, instead of in the new House Caucus Room, in the Chief Clerks' office. The Members of the Select Committee will please meet there.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. KONDRATH. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Wednesday, April 13, 1949, at 11:00 a. m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 3:19 p. m.) the House adjourned.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Session 1949. 138th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 31. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 13, 1949. No. 45.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, April 13, 1949.

The Senate met at 12:00 o'clock, M., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Daniel B. Strickler) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. FATHER ROY C. KEFFER offered the following prayer:

Oh God, Who has promised, "Ask and you shall receive", we now, with deep trust in Thee, beg a gracious ear to our prayers.

Inspire the members of this Senate with a deep understanding of the needs of Thy people, so that this state may ever be mindful of its role of servant for the entire population, and may this Holy Season bring to them and their families every Easter blessing, through Christ, our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceeding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WALKER and Mr. WADE, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

MEMORIAL

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress Assembled

Joint Resolution regarding a Constitutional Convention of the United States or amendments to the Constitution of the United States relating to strengthening the United Nations and limited World Federal Government.

We, your Memorialists, the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Maine in the ninety-fourth Legislative Session assembled, most respectively present and petition your Honorable Body as follows:

Whereas, War is now a threat to the very existence of our civilization, because modern science has produced weapons of war which are over-whelmingly destructive and against which there is no sure defense; and

Whereas, The effective maintenance of world peace is the proper concern and responsibility of every American citizen; and

Whereas, The people of the State of Maine, while now enjoying domestic peace and security under the laws of their local, state and federal government, deeply desire the guarantee of world peace; and

Whereas, All history shows that peace is the product of law and order, and that law and order are the product of government; and

Whereas, The United Nations, as presently constituted, although accomplishing great good in many fields, lacks authority to enact, interpret or enforce world law, and under its present Charter is incapable of restraining any major nations which may foster or foment war; and

Whereas, The Charter of the United Nations expressly provides, in Articles 108 and 109, a procedure for reviewing and altering the Charter; and

Whereas, Many states have memoralized Congress, through resolution by their state legislatures or in referenda by their voters, to initiate steps toward the creation of a world federal government; and

Whereas, Several nations have recently adopted constitutional provisions to facilitate their entry into a world federal government by authorizing a delegation to such a world federal government of a portion of their sovereignty sufficient to endow it with powers adequate to prevent war; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, by the Senate and House of the State of Maine, that application is hereby made to the Congress of the United States, pursuant to Article V of the Constitution of the United States, to give serious consideration to the calling of a convention for the sole purpose of proposing, amendments to the Constitution which are appropriate to authorize the United States to negotiate with other nations, subject to later ratification, a constitution of a world federal government, open to all nations, with limited powers adequate to assure peace, or amendments to the Constitution which are appropriate to ratify any world constitution which is presented to the United States by the United Nations, by a world constitutional convention or otherwise; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of State of the State of Maine is hereby directed to transmit copies of this application to the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Congress, to the members of the said Senate and House of Representatives from this state, and to the presiding officers of each of the legislatures in the several states, requesting their cooperation.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, in continuation of my remarks whereby I criticized the action of the Senate Committee on Agriculture, I wish to read into the record an editorial which appeared in the Pittsburgh Press, Sunday, April 10.

The editorial reads as follows:

"THANK THE REPUBLICANS

"Republican Leaders in recent years have developed an uncanny—almost miraculous—ability at offending voters. If they are ever to regain power they must gain confidence among rank-and-file voters, especially in the lower income brackets.

"Yet seldom do they overlook an opportunity to offend such voters.

"The latest example was by the State Senate Committee on Agriculture, when it killed the bill to legalize yellow margarine.

"Regardless of what happens to the margarine bill in Congress, Pennsylvania housewives will have to continue to mix color with their margarine. This means stirring it in a bowl or squeezing a plastic bag.

"Either method is a nuisance. It is an unpleasant waste of time. It is a needless burden forced on the housewife by legislators who have more interest in the butter lobby than in the public.

"Republicans control the committee which killed the margarine bill.

"The housewives should bear this in mind. Especially when they are performing the useless chore of mixing color into margarine.

"This margarine vote deserves to be an issue at the next legislative elections. If the housewives are angry enough, maybe they can pound some sense even into the heads of Republican leaders."

Mr. NEFF. Mr. President, I would like to take this opportunity to register a protest as to the action of the Committee on Corporations as of this morning in meeting, while considering Senate Bill No. 576, and I might say to the gentlemen on the other side that I have arranged for the steward to have your soup drawn, and your finger bowls filled, because I may speak for ten minutes.

Mr. President, this morning the Committee on Corporations, in considering Senate Bill No. 576, a bill to provide for necessary clearance on standard gauge rail lines throughout the state, a safety measure that some eighteen states have previously taken, during the course of discussion, the action was brought to a vote, and the Committee voted to discharged the bill. The Committee Chairman then called a short recess, went out into the hallway, brought in the Majority Floor Leader, and decided that he was going to reconsider the bill, and with the addition of the Majority Floor Leader, called for another vote over the protest of the Minority Members of the Committee, and the motion to discharge was defeated.

Now, Mr. President, I protest this kind of action as undemocratic, a violation of all parliamentary procedure as it is customarily known, and I am just wondering why we have a set of rules for committee and floor action in the Senate of Pennsylvania.

Here is a bill, Mr. President, that means much to the workers on our transportation lines, our railroads, throughout the state of Pennsylvania. Each year we have hundreds of these workers maimed, and scores of them killed because of obstructions and insufficient celarance along the railroad rights of way. This bill would not have worked a hardship on the railroads in regard to construction now presently being used. It would only be effective on new construction, but the Committee decided that safety is a secondary measure when it comes to the working men of Pennsylvania, and decided, after skulduggery such as I have just commented upon, to keep the bill in Committee.

Mr. President, I think it is about high time that we give a little consideration to the Minority Members, and to the rules governing parliamentary procedure, not only on the floor of the Senate but in committee. It seems to me that today I have learned why the Pennsylvania Railroad has through the years lost only one battle on the floor of the Senate with this kind of action, undemocratic action by chairmen of committees. It is a wonder they have ever lost any.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, the piece of legislation that Senator Neff was speaking about a little while ago, Senate Bill No. 576, was sponsored by myself.

I have had considerable experience upon the railways and railroads of this Commonwealth, and it so happens that about thirteen years ago, as a fireman on a fast passenger train, I suffered a broken shoulder due to close clearance. Unfortunately for me, I just happened to have my shoulder out of the cab of the locomotive.

Now, Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 576, which was killed this morning, applies to future construction upon our railways and railroads, and I cannot for the life of me understand any objection that could have been voiced by any lobbyist against this piece of legislation.

I think the Committee should take that into consideration, and I would be glad to appear before such Committee and cite facts and figures which would justify the passage of this piece of legislation.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I would like to make a few remarks concerning what took place in the Corporation Committee this morning.

First, may I advise the sponsor of the bill, through the gentleman from Lawrence, that in my opinion the bill is not dead. Last week when the Committee considered the bill, I stated very frankly in committee meeting a few matters which are confidential and known only to the Republican and Democratic Party at large, and the 10,000,000 people of Pennsylvania, that I would like to check with the railroads and see how disastrous this bill would be, and I find at this point in my investigation that there is nothing in the bill that is not already in the Public Utility Law, and that this bill would not hurt a whole lot.

Mr. President, I got a telephone message after the Committee Meeting, giving me the information that I desired, and may I suggest to the gentleman from Lawrence that there is a certain precedent in the Senate that existed here before I was born, and has been preserved up through the years—perhaps it is bad, perhaps it is good, but it is here. If a committee at any time wants to consider a bill over, and over, and over, it can do so. There is absolutely nothing wrong with having a vote over and over again. I have some bills that are languishing in committee that have been defeated, that I have not lost heart or hope for, and I propose to go back every time those committees meet and try and get those bills out on the floor.

The gentleman from Lawrence is a Member of the Commitee on Corporations, and may I suggest to him that very frequently things are going to happen during his senatorial career that do not meet with his approval, and he must remember he cannot win all the time. We would appreciate it very much if his criticism as to the method of the conduct of committees would come through his Floor Leader, who is a very adept, adroit, experienced gentleman in the handling of parliamentary procedures before committes and on the floor of the Senate. The gentleman is consistently criticizing the methods of the Majority as though it were something criminal, and should be investigated by the Department of Justice or the F.B.I.

May I say to the gentleman from Lawrence that I do not think that the bill is dead. I think that the bill has merit. We are just as deeply interested in trying to protect the employees of railroads as is he, and if the Committee Meeting would have occurred an hour after it did, the information that I received after the Committee Meeting would have been available to us.

May I suggest also, that we needed his vote desperately on a bill that was being sponsored by the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Holland, and when he left the Committee Meeting at the conclusion of the reconsideration of the vote by which Senate Bill 572 was temporarily parked back in committee, we could have had one more vote in favor of Senator Holland's bill.

Mr. NEFF. Mr. President, the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, has made reference to certain rules and procedures historically at present in the Senate. and the dignity of this august body. I was certainly amazed, to say the least, yesterday, when I saw this historic dignity preserved as of yesterday, when I had the floor and thirty-one of his colleagues saw fit to go to the men's room, and so I think that I, as a Senator, have the right and privilege under the rules to state my case as I see it. If I see fit to criticize the actions of the Majority, I will do so, that is for sure, and I will continue to do so. I think that at times it might be a good idea to investigate some of their actions. I think it is long past due, and I will continue to criticize when I feel that criticism is due the Majority or the Minority.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I suggest to the gentleman from Lawrence, that any time he desires the privilege of the floor, it is available to him to make any comments he so desires, but there is nothing in the rules that require the Majority Party to sit here and listen to his abuse.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I do not care to prolong this debate any longer. However, before I sponsored this piece of legislation, I checked rather thoroughly, and I could not find anything in the Pennsylvania law in regard to clearance. However, for the information of the Majority Party, the following States have clearance laws: Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nevada, New Hampshire, North Dakota, Ohio, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Texas, Vermont, Washington, and Wisconsin, and I cannot understand why Pennsylvania cannot have a clearance law, especially when it is not applicable to past construction; it only applies to new construction.

Mr. President, I am glad to know that the bill is not dead, and I hope that we can pass it at this session.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I suggest to the gentleman from Washington that at the next meeting of the Committee on Corporations, I know that Senator Mallery will be very happy to have him attend and discuss the bill.

Mr. LEADER. Mr. President, in keeping with this debate I am reminded of the beatitude that was added to those we already have. This beatitude was added by President Hutchins, of Chicago, and reads:

"Blessed be the irritators for they bedevil us out of our bewilderment."

SENIOR CLASS IN BUSINESS TRAINING OF THE STATE COLLEGE HIGH SCHOOL PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. LETZLER. Mr. President, may I interrupt the proceedings of the Senate for a few moments to present a group of sixteen very fine young ladies, who are now occupying the gallery, a group from the senior class in business training of the State College High School.

They are accompanied and directed by their teacher, under her able leadership, Mrs. Ellen J. Maynard.

The PRESIDENT. On behalf of the Senate, the Chair is very anxious to greet the young ladies and glad to see them here today, and hope you enjoy the session.

STUDENTS OF PENNSIDE JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, may I take this privilege to present to the Senate the tenth grade students of the Pennside Junior High School, of Lower Alsace Township, Berks County, under the leadership of their supervising principal, Mr. John A. Hibschman.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair also is glad to welcome the students of the Pennside Junior High School to this session.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I hope the Members of the Senate will recognize the subject I expect to take up at this moment as a serious one, and not discussed for the purpose of getting into the record.

Of recent weeks, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, there has been a campaign in the public press on the question of insecticides, the use of DDT and the results therefrom. Last night after the session, I had the privilege of talking for quite a long time with the gentleman from Bucks, Senator Watson. I had noticed a small newspaper article, dated April 8, which was not called to my attention until yesterday, with a Harrisburg date line, and I quote:

"DDT Planes Will Spray Bucks County Area April 18

"The State Agriculture Department said today that spraying of DDT by airplanes in the gypsy moth-infested area near Quakertown, Bucks County, will start April 18.

"It was originally scheduled for April 11. The 30,000-acre area will be enveloped by the spray just as millions of young caterpillars are being hatched, the department said."

Now, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, Senator Watson and myself will ask the Senate to accept a resolution, and I have talked to the Majority Leader about immediate consideration because of the lateness of the date.

Mr. President, about eighty-two years ago, as I understand the history, DDT was first developed in Germany. After a usage period of about two years, the Government saw fit to outlaw the use of this insecticide in Germany because it was discovered that in spraying this insecticide, it not only killed the pests among the insect race, but it also killed earthworms, birds, bees and other helpful insects. Any person that has ever had anything to do with agriculture, even in a small way, knows that without the earthworm the fertility of the soil would be lost; without the bees for pollination, there would be no fruits, vegetables, or food of any kind. We all know the part that the bird plays in the planting of trees and shrubs in barren areas, and I think that if this experiment in Bucks County has even the remotest possibility of creating a barren spot of 30,000 acres in the beautiful county of Bucks, it ought to be looked into before the action is performed.

I have before me, Mr. President, for those who are skeptical, a series of articles dealing with this particular subject, and I would like to read the recommendations that have come out of an investigation by the American Medical Association, and a group of scientists studying this particular subject at the moment, and I would like to just say to you that their recommendations ought to be taken into serious consideration, especially by the Secretary of Agriculture.

Their number one recommendation is that, "No new pesticide should be allowed on the general market before it is thoroughly investigated for its possible harmful effects to humans, as well as to insects, birds and animals beneficial to us."

Number two, and this is the important one, "DDT and other pesticide preparations already on the market should be re-studied as quickly as possible, and their use restricted until their toxic properties and safe handling are ascertained."

Now, Mr. President, in view of the seriousness of the situation, I am going to ask immediate consideration of this resolution. I will not read the "Whereas" clauses, but in order that the Senate realizes that I am not trying to stop, and Senator Watson has no idea whatsoever of stopping the Secretary of Agriculture from performing a necessary operation in his county, if he can clear with the proper medical authorities and scientific authorities the question of the after effects of this spraying, and so the resolve in the resolution will read as follows:

"Resolved that the Secretary of Agriculture present to the Senate a certified statement to the effect that he has searched all the possibilities of reaction to the spraying of this land, and can assure the Members of the Senate that no harm will be done to and in the area sprayed."

Mr. President, on behalf of Senator Watson and myself I present the following resolution, and ask that it be read and considered at this time.

RESOLUTION

DIRECTING THE SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE TO MAKE A STUDY OF USING D. D. T. IN SPRAYING LAND LOCATED IN BUCKS COUNTY

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. DENT and WATSON offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In The Senate, April 13, 1949.

Whereas, There appears to be a very serious situation developing over the use of certain insecticides containing D. D. T. and,

Whereas, This situation has caused the A. M. A. and Science Groups to institute immediate studies into the effects of D. D. T. spraying, and

Whereas, Secretary of Agriculture Miles Horst has announced plans for spraying 30,000 acres in Bucks County on April 18th, and

Whereas, It has already been determined that certain D. D. T. insecticides destroy birds, bees and earthworms, and

Whereas, The human race is dependent upon agriculture and agriculture is dependent upon earthworms, birds, bees and certain other forms of insect life, and

Whereas, The possibilities contained in Secretary Horst's plans for spraying 30,000 acres in Bucks County are too uncertain and said spraying may cause irreparable damage and perhaps a lasting injury to animal life and a threat to human welfare, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Secretary of Agriculture present to the Senate a certified statement to the effect that he has searched all the possibilities of reaction to the spraying of this land and can assure the Senate that no harm will be done to and in the area sprayed.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HALUSKA asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, am I in order to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny County on the subject of reporting out House Bill No. 127, and its contents?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I presume the gentleman from Cambria is referring to the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Barr, and I yield to Senator Barr at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BARR. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, did the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Barr, report out House Bill No. 127, as amended?

Mr. BARR. I did, Mr. President, as amended.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, can the gentleman from Allegheny tell the Senate what amendments the bill carries?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I cannot in its entirety.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, can the gentleman from Allegheny report partially?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, may I say to the gentleman from Cambria, this morning we discussed, I think, probably fifty bills in committee, and I would not feel free to discuss just what was in that amendment, because my memory may be bad.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I have been informed that House Bill No. 127 passed the House by a vote of 153 to 23. I have been informed this morning that this bill had been amended in committee, with a $2,000,000 appropriation attached to it. If that is correct, I object very seriously to that bill being so emasculated.

This bill, Mr. President, affects third class cities, the firemen in third class cities, and while the Nation is asking for shorter hours, coal miners are asking for thirty hours a week, other help forty hours a week, and the firemen of third class cities are only asking this body to cut down their time to sixty hours a week. They are very modest in their request, and the bill passed the House in that manner.

Now, Mr. President, I am informed that the Committee on Local Government has amended the bill with a $2,000,000 appropriation attached to it, which definitely kills the bill. In the budget we have no place for that appropriation, and I am certain somebody must be under some misapprehension. I am sure that every man on that committee realizes the importance of this bill, and I trust that that amendment may be withdrawn, and the bill may be reported out as it passed the House. This means a great deal to all of the firemen in cities of the third class. We have two third class cities now that are operating on a forty-eight hour week, and one on a fifty-two hour a week basis. Dauphin County, Cambria County, and many others are operating now on a seventy-two hour a week basis.

Now, Mr. President, these men are only asking to work out their own problems. They want no appropriation. The Commonwealth cannot afford an appropriation. They only wish to be put down on a sixty hour a week basis, and I cannot understand why the committee would try to kill that bill by adding that $2,000,000 appropriation.

Mr. President, I cannot do a thing about it now. I must follow the procedure of the bill to see where it stops, and then determine the reason for this appropriation.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I interrogate the gentleman from Cambria?

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Haluska, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HALUSKA. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to apologize to the gentleman from Cambria as to his threshold remarks, which I did not quite understand. As I understand it, the bill was just reported from committee today.

Mr. HALUSKA. That is right, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. I just want to ask the gentleman from Cambria if he wants to have the committee reconsider its action.

Mr. HALUSKA. That is right, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. I just wondered, Mr. President.

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. President, may I interrogate the gentleman from Cambria?

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Cambria permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HALUSKA. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. President, I desire to ask the gentleman from Cambria if he is familiar with the law at the present time, whether or not he does not know that the third class cities have the power and the right to adjust the hours of the firemen.

Mr. HALUSKA. I did not know that, Mr. President, no.

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. President, for the information of the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Haluska, that has been done in a great many of the cities where they now have the same number of hours, and for the further information of the gentlemen from Cambria, the Committee on Local Government decided that if these people could not persuade their own local governments to give them these hours, then it was not the province of the Commonwealth to knock them over the head and say they must do this. In other words, that interferes with hom rule, and I believe that most of us here are in sympathy with home rule in matters of local government. The Committee decided that should this bill be enacted and the Commonwealth compel these cities to do this thing, knowing as we did the cost that it would bring about in the various cities—

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I am following the thought of the gentleman very carefully, but the background noise is just out of this world and I cannot hear him.

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. President, the Committee felt that if we were to compel the local governments to adopt such resolutions and ordinances which would cost them considerable money, then the Commonwealth should follow up by providing the money to meet the demand when these local units tell us they do not have the money. Consequently, Mr. President, the amendment was placed in this bill in the sum of two million dollars be appropriated for this purpose.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, it seems to me very clearly and definitely that that sounds the death knell to this bill. When the House passed this bill, they did not think of an appropriation, they thought like the gentleman from Clinton, that it is a local problem and that they should work it out themselves. They are asking for a law to be placed upon the statute books where they will work sixty hours per week, and they themselves determine how to finance it, and the bill should pass in that manner. That is my point. Why put a rider to the bill, bringing the Commonwealth into it, knowing full well that the Commonwealth will not help to finance the wages of any one group in any one city? That is discrimination. They are not asking for an appropriation, they are only asking you, Mr. Stevenson, to pass this bill giving them the right to work out their own problem up to sixty hours a week.

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. President, for the information of the gentleman from Cambria, I have been opportuned by the third class cities, who have to raise this money, telling us that they are unable to make provisions for this amount of money. They know they have the right to grant these hours, and we are fully in sympathy with their doing so. However, we think the proper place for these demands to be made is not in the Legislature, but back in the communities affected where the money is to be raised, and they know how they are going to raise it, or whether they can raise it. Let them run their own government, they have that right, and that power, and we believe that it should stay there, but if we do pass this type of legislation, then the Commonwealth should pay the bill.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, to close off this debate in a hurry, I have no desire to argue with the gentleman from Clinton, Mr. Stevenson, but the law reads very clearly right now. The firemen in third class cities shall, on the day shift, turn in sixty hours a week, and on the night shift, eighty-four hours a week. The bill before us, or as it is reported out today, rather has an amendment from sixty hours to fifty hours in the daytime, and from eighty-four hours to seventy hours at night time, or an average of sixty hours per week.

Now, Mr. President, if they had that right, this bill would not be before this body today because the law is very clearly written, and they are only asking us to cut it down to sixty hours a week, and then they must work out their own problem without any financing from the state. Surely in this modern day we must realize the fact that eighty-four hours a week is not for humanity, for any one. It is the only group of employes I know of today that are working eighty-four hours a week, and that is why they have come to us and asked us to change this law, and then they will work out their own problem, by adding an appropriation to the bill, that is sounding the death knell. It does not help these men whatsoever.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WALKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to make a few remarks prior to the introduction of this bill. It follows a pattern, Mr. President, that is frequently practiced here in the General Assembly. It permits the Secretary of Property and Supplies to convey or lease a certain tract of land in Allegheny County to the Federal Government.

Mr. President, I would like to say for the benefit of the Senate, in the hope that whatever committee it goes to, that the chairman will recognize the bill when it gets to him, this is to permit the Federal Government to purchase a tract of land in Allegheny County, upon which they are desirous of constructing military installations. We discover that under the law, the government cannot during time of peace construct military installations without a permit from the Commonwealth, and this will permit us to complete the military installations in Allegheny County, so that Pittsburgh can be protected at all times, and following the procedure, Mr. President, I would like to have this bill passed.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. WALKER read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 926, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Secretary of Property and Supplies to sell and convey or to lease subject to certain terms and conditions a certain tract of land and a certain right of way in the Township of Upper Saint Clair, County of Allegreny, Pennsylvania.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I believe it was yesterday that the Majority Party presented to this august body the Administration Rent Control Act, and we of the Minority Side, are to present our views on this subject. It has entailed considerable work, and it is my honor and privilege to present this piece of legislation, which creates a State Rent Control Board, which shall consist of the Members of the State Board of Housing, as said Board is now or may hereinafter be constituted, which shall be a departmental administrative board, within the Department of Commerce. It also creates the Office of State Rent Control Commissioner, or Executive Director of the State Rent Control Board, who shall be the Executive Director or the Secretary of the State Board of Housing.

Mr. President, in each county of this Commonwealth, there is created a County Rent Control Board, which shall consist of the County Commissioners of each of the said counties, as said Commissioners are now or may hereinafter be constituted. We, of the Minority Side, take the position that if the Majority Party, and the Membership of the Committee, will consider both bills in detail, it may be possible that Pennsylvania will have a real Rent Control Act.

Mr. President, the provisions of the law which I am about to present expire on June 30, 1951. I believe it is comparable to the one that was submitted yesterday. So, on behalf of my colleagues, Senator Haluska, Senator Dent, and myself, I rise in place and present to the Chair the Minority Party's Rent Control Act.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. LANE, HALUSKA and DENT read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 940, entitled:

An Act to regulate control and stabilize rents and possession of housing space and living accommodations, during existing public emergency; establishing the office of State Rent Control Commissioner and the State Rent Control Board; granting said board power to administer this act as a departmental administrative board within the Department of Commerce; and prescribing duties; creating temporary County Rent Control Board; and prescribing their powers and duties; providing penalties; and making an appropriation therefor.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

Messrs. BARR and WALKER read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 941, entitled:

An Act to amend section six hundred ninety-nine point four of the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 872), entitled "An act to consolidate, amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth," by authorizing the production and performance of civic operation between certain hours on Sundays.

Which was committed to the Committee on Law and Order.

Mr. FRAZIER read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 942, entitled:

An Act to amend section fifteen of article nineteen of an act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. L. 581), entitled "An act for the better government of cities of the first class of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania", by providing for a probationary period of six months upon the appointment or promotion of any police officer or fireman.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. HARE on behalf of Mr. MAHANY, from the Committee on Local Government reported as amended, House Bill No. 629, entitled:

An Act to further amend sections one thousand one hundred one and one thousand one hundred two of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 103) entitled "An act concerning townships of the second class and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" by providing for petition to quarter sessions court when township supervisors fail or refuse to act upon petition of property owners to survey lay out open widen straighten vacate or relay township roads

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, the right of petition is the part of our system that makes our form of government the strongest in the world today.

The Public Utility Commission, in their arrogant disregard of the request of the people affected by Philadelphia Electric increase in rates of $9,587,541 to the 856,-365 users of electrical energy, has acted like the Totalitarian dictators of the Soviet Union.

The Public Utility Commission is an arm of the General Assembly. Although we have delegated power to them, we still maintain that power if we so wish to make or regulate rates.

Therefore, Mr. President, I am presenting this Resolution requesting the Public Utility Commission to suspend the effective date of the increase until the Public Utility Commission has heard in open hearings the pro and con on the increased tariffs. This is the intent of the Public Utility Act.

I want to pay tribute to the lone dissenter of the ruling of the Commission, Commissioner John B. Conly, who from his actions has shown that he alone interprets the duty of a Public Utility Commissioner, as written in the Act.

Mr. President, yesterday on the Floor of the Senate, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Kephart, agreed to join me in a bill. Unfortunately, we cannot agree, because he wants to include also the rights of the taxicab companies and the Philadelphia Transportation Company. I believe that to put in all three at this time would be very confusing, especially with the taxicab companies, because taxicabs are something that are not used by all the people; the taxicab is really only used for accommodation of those who have the extra money to spend for transportation, and due to the fact that we have to act quickly on the increase asked by the Philadelphia Electric Company, I insist that my resolution pertain only to the increase asked by the Philadelphia Electric Company.

Mr. President, I rise in place and present to the Chair the following resolution, and ask for its immediate adoption.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

Urging the Public Utility Commission to Postpone the Effective Date of the Rate Rise For the Philadelphia Electric Company

Mr. HOLLAND offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, April 13, 1949.

Whereas, the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission has granted to the Philadelphia Electric Company, an increase in tariff, effective April 18, 1949, which will increase that Company's gross revenue an estimated $9,587,-541 annually, and

Whereas, This increase was granted without holding any public hearing and no opportunity was given those opposed to the increase to present evidence disputing the necessity of it, and

Whereas, The affects of such an increase fall upon every individual in the Philadelphia area, and

Whereas, The action of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission was legislative in character, since the commission acts for the Legislature of Pennsylvania in exercising the police power of the State insofar as immediate action with Public Utilities are concerned, therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the effective date of the increase be postponed for a period of eight days and that in the meantime the Public Utility Commission shall hold a public hearing, affording an opportunity to the elected officials of Philadelphia, the Chamber of Commerce of Philadelphia, the labor unions, the political parties, and all civic bodies or other interested parties of Philadelphia, to be heard and present evidence, and that the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission determine the necessity of a new tariff, after such hearings has been held.

REQUEST THAT RULE 39 BE SUSPENDED

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I appreciate all the various fine things that the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Holland, said on the Floor of this Senate about my very good friend and law partner, Commissioner Conly. I might say to the gentleman from Allegheny that as long as Commissioner Conly remains on the Commission, I think the same fine things can be continued to be said about him. He reflects that old Pinchot training that has been so remarkably demonstrated through the years here on the floor of the Senate.

In the face of those remarks, Mr. President, you can just imagine my mingled emotions when I must object to immediate consideration of the resolution presented by the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Holland.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Corporations.

INTERROGATION

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, will the Majority Floor Leader permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. WALKER. I will , Mr. President.

Mr. HOLLAND. Of course, Mr. President, I am awfully glad that our Majority Leader still has some love in his heart for those people who were the crusading people of Pennsylvania, the followers of Gifford Pinchot. It is too bad Senator Taylor is not here today sitting in his seat to hear that remark, because I know that he, and Mr. Diehm, Mr. Doehla and quite a few others—Senator Frazier is standing up, maybe he wants to be included—if I have missed any more of great old Pinchot supporters, just let them be announced, and I will be glad to give them credit.

Mr. President, is the gentleman from Allegheny aware that if we do not do something today, these rates will go into effect next Monday.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I appreciate the fact that time is probaly the essence in matters of this type, but I do not know just what the resolution would do even if we passed it right now, and I invite the attention of the gentleman from Allegheny to the fact that a dirctorate or a mandate to the Public Utility Commission would have to be a concurrent resolution, because we are only a small percentage of the General Assembly; the House, in its dignity and its majesty, must concur in the resolution before it can be brought to the attention of the Public Utility Commission, and I have been advised that the House—I do not know whether or not they are still in Session or if they have adjourned for the week.

The gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator DiSilvestro, advises me that they have adjourned, and therefore I do not think anything can be accomplished this afternoon by a resolution of this type.

Mr. President, I appreciate what the gentleman from Allegheny is trying to do, and I assure him that he has my sympathetic cooperation, but much as I hate to repeat on the Floor of the Senate, the rules of the Senate must be observed.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I appreciate the sympathetic feelings of the gentleman from Allegheny, but sympathetic feelings do not cut the rates.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. KEPHART asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, last evening when the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Holland, asked me to co-sponsor a bill in connection with this subject matter, I agreed, provided he would include the traveling public in Philadelphia whose rates are also being increased by the PTC and the Yellow Cab Company. He has not included them in his resolution, and I have a similar resolution which has them included, and which he does not agree to go along on, obviously for the reason, as he has shown, he was not interested in the traveling public of Philadelphia.

Mr. President, I therefore present to the Chair this resolution and move its immediate adoption.

Urging the Public Utility Commission to Postpone the Effective date of Any Rate Rise For a Period of Eighty Days From the Date on Which Such Rate Rise Was Filed in Order to Hold Hearings, Hears Protests, Etc.

Mr. KEPHART offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, April 13, 1949.

Whereas, the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission has granted to the Philadelphia Electric Company, an increase in tariff, effective April 18, 1949, which will increase that company's gross revenue an estimated $9,587,-541 annually, and

Whereas, This increase was granted without holding any public hearing and no opportunity was given those opposed to the increase to present evidence disputing the necessity of it, and

Whereas, similar increases in tariffs have been permitted or are pending with respect to the Philadelphia Transit Company and the Yellow Cab Company, and

Whereas, The effects of such increase fall upon every individual in the Philadelphia area, and

Whereas, The action of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission was legislative in character, since the commission acts for the Legislature of Pennsylvania in exercising the police power of the State insofar as immediate action with Public Utilities are concerned, therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the effective date of the increases be postponed for a period of eighty days from the date on which such tariffs were filed and the public notified that it could come in and protest, and that in the meantime the Public Utility Commission shall hold public hearings, affording an opportunity to the elected officials of Philadelphia, the Chamber of Commerce of Philadelphia, the labor unions, the political parties and all civic bodies or other interested parties of Philadelphia to be heard and present evidence, and that the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission determine the necessity of new tariffs, after such hearing has been held.

REQUEST THAT RULE 39 BE SUSPENDED

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I have two observations that I would like to make to the gentleman from Philadelphia.

First, I think, Mr. President, we made a mistake trying to raise the salaries of the Public Utility Commission. It looks like we are all trying to get on the Commission.

Secondly, Mr. President, I would like to call to the attention of the Members of this Senate the fact that the Gentleman from Philadelphia did not even say a kind word about my friend and law partner, Commissioner John B. Conly.

Therefore, Mr. President, it is with emotions that are not mingled that I object to immediate consideration of this resolution.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, just to correct one of those little innuendoes that was made by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Kephart, I am interested in mass transportation in Philadelphia, that is why I tried my best to help defeat his bill, so that when they go on strike, under a law passed by Mr. Kephart, the men who are on strike can say, "Mr. Kephart, the great Senator from Philadelphia passed a law telling us that after sixty days we must go on strike."

Mr. President, I will be very glad to go to Philadelphia and help him settle that strike.

EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

RULE 38 SUSPENDED

A motion was made by Mr. LORD, JR. and Mr. MALLERY, To grant unanimous consent to immediate consideration of the nominations just reported from the Com-

* * * * *

The amount so certified by the retirement board shall be computed to bear a ratio to the salaries earnable by new entrants during the period for which the amount is certified Provided That on and after the first day of July one thousand nine hundred fifty such amount shall bear a ratio to the total salaries earnable by all contributors during the period for which the amount is certified The ratio shall be computed as a level percentage of the prospective compensation of new entrants or of all contributors as the case may be and shall be based on such mortality and other tables as shall be adopted by the retirement board and on regular interest Such ratio shall be computed on the basis of each actuarial valuation and shall be determined by deducting from the present value of the liabilities of the contingent reserve account the sum of the assets credited to that account on the valuation date and dividing the remainer by the present value of the future salaries of new entrants who are then members or of all contributors as the case may be To facilitate the collection of such amounts the retirement board may use the payroll reported for the last valuation as the basis for contributions for a twelve month period

* * * * *

5 Beginning with the month of July [nineteen hundred nineteen] one thousand nine hundred nineteen and continuing until the accumulated reserve equals the present value as computed by the actuary of the retirement board and approved by the retirement board of all State annuity payments thereafter payable by the Commonwealth on account of present employes then retired or to be retired on State annuities as provided in this act the Said Commonwealth shall pay semi-anually into the fund created by this act through the Department of Revenue an amount equal to two and eighth-tenth (2.8) per centum of the total compensation paid to all contributors for service during the preceding school year and in every case an amount at least three per centum greater than the second preceding semiannual payment which amount shall be credited by the retirement board to a ledger account to be known as State Annuity Reserve Account Number Two Beginning with the month of July [nineteen hundred twenty-five] one thousand nine hundred twenty-five the Commonwealth shall pay semi-annually into the fund created by this act as aforesaid to the credit of State Annuity Reserve Account Number Two an amount equal to two (2) per centum of the total compensation paid to all contributors for service during the preceding school year Beginning with the month of July [nineteen hundred thirty-three] one thousand nine hundred thirty-three the Commonwealth shall pay semi-annually into the fund created by this act as aforesaid to the credit of State Annuity Reserve Account Number Two an amount equal to one and six-tenths (1.6) per centum of the total compensation paid to all contributors for service during the preceding school year Beginning with the month of July one thousand nine hundred fifty-one the Commonwealth shall pay semi-annually into the fund created by this act as aforesaid to the credit of State Annuity Reserve Account Number Two such amount as shall be certified by the retirement board as necessary to provide the disability or superannuation State annuities allowable by the Commonwealth under the provisions of this act on account of present employes The amount so certified by the retirement board shall be computed to bear a ratio to the total salaries earnable by all contributors during the period for which the amount is certified The ratio shall be computed as a level percentage of the prospective compensation of such contributors and shall be based on such mortality and other tables as shall be adopted by the retirement board and on regular interest Such ratio shall be computed on the basis of each actuarial valuation and shall be determined by deducting from the present value of the liabilities of the State Annuity Reserve Account Number Two the sum of the assets credited to that account on the valuation date and dividing the remainder by the present value of the future salaries of such contributors To facilitate the collection of such amount the retirement board may use the payroll reported for the last valuation as the basis for contributions for a twelve month period Provided That in the case of contributors who were employed during the year which began July first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two and ended June thirtieth one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three who have elected to contribute on the basis of salary receivable during said year such salary shall be used in computing such total compensation And provided That in every case the amount shall be sufficient when combined with that in the fund to the credit of said account to provide the pensions payable by the Commonwealth during the half-year then current to present employes then retired or to be retired as provided in this act Upon the retirement of a present employe his or her State annuity shall be charged to the State Annuity Reserve Account Number Two and paid from the fund created by this act

* * * * *

From the salary of each employe who is a contributor there shall be deducted and paid into the fund created by this act through the Department of Revenue such per centum of his or her earnable salary as shall be computed to be sufficient with regular interest to procure for him or her on superannuation retirement of age of sixty-two [and] an employes' annuity equal to one one-hundred sixtieth (1/160) of his or her final salary for each year of service after the thirtieth day of June [nineteen hundred nineteen] one thousand nine hundred nineteen or to procure for him or her on superannuation retirement at age sixty-two or at the end of thirty-five years of credited service in this Commonwealth whichever is the earlier an employe's annuity equal to one one-hundred fortieth (1/140) of his or her final salary for each year of service after the thirtieth day of June one thousand nine hundred nineteen in the case of each contributor entering or reentering the retirement system on and after the first day of July one thousand nine hundred fifty and also in the case of each contributor originally carrying membership in the one one-hundred sixtieth (1/160) class who prior to the first day of July one thousand nine hundred fifty has elected and filed with Retirement Board such election to transfer to the one one-hundred fortieth (1/140) class and who contributes after the first day of July one thousand nine hundred fifty the per centum of his or her salary computed to be sufficient for new entrants of the one one-hundred fortieth (1/140) class as of age attained at nearest birthday of such transferred contributor at the date of transfer Provided That in the case of employes who were employed during the year which began July first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two and ended June thirtieth one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three who have elected to contribute on the basis of salary receivable during said year such percentage shall be computed on the basis of said salary And provided That in any case if the deduction so computed shall exceed five per centum of his or her earnable salary and the employe shall so elect there shall be deducted five per centum of his or her earnable salary Provided however That These privileges are not available to contributors in the one one-hundred fortieth (1/140) class And further provided That a beneficiary in the one one-hundred sixtieth (1/160) Class restored to school service shall not be permitted to transfer to the one one-hundred fortieth (1/140) class nor shall a beneficiary restored to school service be required to contribute at a per centum rate of his or her earnable salary which is greater than the per centum thereof which he or she was required to contribute prior to his or her retirement The rate per centum of said deduction from salary shall be based on such mortality and other tables as the retirement board shall adopt together with regular interest and shall be computed to remain constant during the prospective school service of the contributor

6.1 In addition to the regular contribution required under clause six of this section any contributor who has had service in states territories or areas under the jurisdiction of the United States besides this Commonwealth as an employe in any public school or institution of such other classes as are at present included in the retirement system and who submits proof satisfactory to the retirement board of all or part of such service may make a lump sum payment computed to be sufficient with regular interest to procure for him or her on superannuation retirement at age sixty-two or at the end of thirty-five years of credited service in this Commonwealth whichever is the earlier an additional employe's annuity equal to [one-eightieth (1/80)] one- seventieth (1/70) of his or her earnable salary during the first year of service in this Commonwealth for each of the years of such aforesaid proved service for which he or she shall elect to contribute Such additional contributions shall become a part of his or her accumulated deductions and shall be so treated except in case of disability retirement superannuation retirement or the receipt of an annuity upon resignation or dismissal when they shall be used to produce an additional annuity on the basis of such annuity tables as the retirement board shall approve Provided however That the state annuity part of the retirement allowance of any such contributor shall not be increased or affected by reason of said out-of-state service or of such contribution

* * * * *

8 No contributor shall be required to continue to contribute to the School Employes' Retirement Fund after he or she shall have become eligible for superannuation retirement all contributions made thereafter to said Fund shall be voluntary Provided however That this clause shall not apply to contributors in the one one-hundred fortieth (1/140) class

An Act to add section four point one to and to further amend section eleven of the act approved the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 566) entitled "An act requiring cities of the first class to establish a pension fund for employes of said cities and all county or other public employes if any paid by appropriation of the city councils thereof and out of the treasury of said cities and regulating the administration and the payment of such pensions" by providing in certain cases for lesser pensions at the employe's option after fifteen but less than twenty years of service and contribution and defining "month of service" in certain cases

Section 1 The act approved the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 566) entitled

"An act requiring cities of the first class to establish a pension fund for employes of said cities and all county or other public employes if any paid by appropriation of the city councils thereof and out of the treasury of said cities and regulating the administration and the payment of such pensions" is hereby amended by adding immediately following section four thereof a new section to read as follows

Section 4.1 (a) Anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding and except as otherwise provided in this section any employe of such cities or paid out of the city treasuries thereof in active service on or after the effective date of this act who is a contributor to and member of the pension fund of such cities may elect to receive and shall be paid a lesser pension during his lifetime if and when he meets the requirements of this section Such election shall be made by application to the board of pensions

(b) Every employe in active service on or after the effective date of this act who is dismissed voluntarily retired or in any manner deprived of his position or employment with fifteen years or more but less than twenty years of service and who has contributed to the pension fund for a like period and who has reached the age of sixty years or upwards may apply for such lesser pension

(c) Every employe in active service on or after the effective date of this act who is dismissed voluntarily retired or in any manner deprived of his position or employment after fifteen years or more but less than twenty years of service before attaining the age of sixty years upon continuing until he reaches the age of sixty years a monthly payment to the fund equal to the last amount due and paid monthly while in active service may apply for such lesser pension when he reaches the age of sixty years

(d) Every such lessor pension shall be proportionate to the pension which the employe would be entitled to receive after twenty years of service and contribution computed as if he had continued to receive during the remainder of the twenty years the same salary as at the time of the termination of his active service as his number of months of service is to two hundred forty months

(e) Payment of the monthly amount of contribution shall cease and be discontinued at the time any such employe begins to receive the lesser pension provided by this section

Section 2 Section eleven of said act as amended by the act approved the fifth day of July one thousand nine hundred seventeen (P. L. 689) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 11 The time of service herein specified namely twenty years or in case of the lesser pension fifteen years or more but less than twenty years shall be computed from the time of the first or original employment said employment to consist of service either to such cities or to the county or other public service paid out of the city treasury or both as aforesaid and need not be continuous Provided That in no case shall a period of more than eighteen years be credited to the service record of any person or persons who shall be employed after the passage of this act and who shall have been employed by the said cities prior to the passage of this act No pensions shall be paid under the provisions of this act however until after January first one thousand nine hundred and seventeen

For the purpose of determining the total number of years or months of service or contribution under this act any period of fifteen days or more but less than a month beyond the total number of full months shall be considered a month of service"

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1186, as follows:

An Act to further amend section four and add section fourteen to the act approved the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 566) entitled An act requiring cities of the first class to establish a pension fund for employes of said cities and all county or other public employes if any paid by appropriation of the city councils thereof and out of the treasury of said cities and regulating the administration and the payment of such pensions" by effecting a change in the years of employment on which pensions are based and by providing a method of paying service increments

Section 1 Section four of the act approved the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 566) entitled "An act requiring cities of the first class to establish a pension fund for employes of said cities and all county or other public employes if any paid by appropriation of the city councils thereof and out of the treasury of said cities and regulating the administration and the payment of such pensions" as last amended by the act approved the second day of April one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 52) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 4 During the lifetime of the said person he or she shall be entitled to receive a pension from the fund set aside for the purpose of fifty per centum of the amount which would constitute the average rate of pay at which he or she was employed during the [last] highest salaried five years of his or her employment by the said city or other public employment as aforesaid Said pension shall be paid in monthly payments Provided That if any pension be granted to a person who has not been a contributor to the pension fund as herein provided during a period of twenty years such person shall be required to pay into the board of pensions monthly an amount equal to two per centum of his or her pension until such time as his or her contribution shall have extended during a period of twenty years Should any person so employed after twenty years of service be dismissed voluntarily retire or be in any manner deprived of his position or employment before attaining the age of sixty years upon continuing a monthly payment to the fund equal to the last amount due and paid monthly while in active service said person shall be entitled to a pension above mentioned notwithstanding he or she has not attained the age of sixty years at the time of his or her separation from the public service but said pension shall not commence until he or she has attained the age of sixty years Should any employe however become totally and permanently disabled while in the service after twenty years of service and before attaining the age of sixty years he or she shall be entitled to the said pension Proof of total and permanent disability shall consist of the sworn statement of three practicing physicians designated by the board that the employe is in a permanent condition of health which would totally disable him or her from performing the duties of his or her position or office Provided That in cases where the nature of such disability is such as to disable the employe from performing any work whatsoever either within or without the scope of his regular duties or within or without the service of such city or county the board may upon a recommendation of the three practicing physicians herein provided for retire upon pension such applicant after a service of fifteen years Provided further That the benefits of this amendment shall apply to members of the pension fund who have been contributors to the said fund for five years or more The pension paid to any one employe whose monthly payments into the pension fund have been four dollars or less a month shall not exceed one hundred dollars per month The pension paid to any employe whose monthly payments unto the pension fund have been more than four dollars a month for a period of at least two years may exceed one hundred dollars per month but shall not exceed two hundred dollars per month Provided That if an employe upon the date of retirement from service shall have made payments of more than four dollars a month unto the pension fund for a period of less than two years his or her pension shall not exceed one hundred dollars per month but an amount equal to the total amount paid in excess over four dollars a month shall be returned to such employe

The pension to be paid to any former employe who was dismissed voluntarily retired or in any manner was deprived of his position and employment after having twenty years of service as an employe of said city and who has continued making payments to the fund equal to the last amount due and paid monthly while in active service and who has not accepted any pension under the provisions of the act to which this is an amendment shall be at the pension rate as provided in section five and his payments to the board of pensions after the first day of September one thousand nine hundred forty-five shall be in an amount equal to the amount which he would have been permitted to make had he continued in the employ of said city after the first day of September one thousand nine hundred forty-five and had continued to be paid the same salary as he received when he was last employed by said city This new amount whether it be more less or the same as the amount which he paid prior to the first day of September one thousand nine hundred forty-five he shall continue to pay until he applies for a pension under the provisions of this act If there be any difference between the amount which he has paid from the first day of September one thousand nine hundred forty-five and the amount which he has elected to pay under the provisions of section five he shall pay such difference into the board of pensions within six months of the effective date of this amendment

Section 2 The said act is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows

Section 14 In addition to the pension which is authorized by this act and notwithstanding the limitations therein placed upon pensions and upon contributions every contributor who shall become entitled to the payment of a pension and who has been employed by the said city or county for at least twenty-one years shall also be entitled to the payment in addition to the said pension of a "service increment" in accordance with and subject to the conditions hereinafter set forth

(1) Service increment shall be the sum obtained by computing the number of whole years in excess of twenty years during which a contributor has been employed by such city or county and paid out of the city treasury and multiplying the said number of years so computed by an amount equal to one-fortieth of the pension which has become payable to such contributor in accordance with the provisions of this act Provided That no service increment may be paid for employment of more than twenty such excess years nor for any excess years which shall accrue after a contributor has reached the age of sixty-five years and no service increment shall be paid in excess of one hundred dollars ($100.00) per month

(2) Each contributor from and after the effective date of this amendment shall pay into the board of pensions a monthly sum in addition to his or her pension contribution which shall be equal to one-half of one per centum of his or her salary Provided That such payment shall not exceed the sum of one dollar ($1.00) per month nor shall the total payment for pension contribution and service increment contribution exceed thirteen dollars ($13.00) per month And Provided That such service increment contribution shall not be paid after a contributor has reached the age of sixty-five years

(3) Persons who are pension fund contributors on the effective date of this amendment who have already reached the age of sixty-five years shall have his or her service increment computed on the years of employment prior to the date of reaching his or her sixty-fifth birthday

(4) Any pension fund contributor who shall after the effective date of this act leave the service of such city or county after having completed at least twenty years' service but before reaching the age of sixty years and who shall continue to pay pension contributions into the pension fund shall not pay service increment contributions after the date of leaving the service of such city or county and shall have his or her service increment limited to the actual years spent in the service of such city or county

(5) Service increment contributions shall be paid at the same time and in the same manner as pension contributions and may be withdrawn in full without interest by persons who leave the employment of such city or county subject to the same conditions by which pension contributions may be withdrawn When any person is re-employed by the city or county after withdrawal of pension contributions his or her prior service shall not be used in the computation of service increment unless the amount of such contributions be repaid into the pension fund subject to the same conditions by which pension fund withdrawals are permitted to be repaid

(6) All employes of such city or county who are now contributors to the pension fund and all persons who are employed by such city and county after the effective date of this amendment who are required to become contributors to the pension fund shall be subject to the provisions of this amendment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WAGNER, from the Committee on State Government, reported as amended, House Bill No. 290, entitled:

An Act to amend section nine and to further amend section ten of the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of July, one thousand nine hundred thirteen (P. L. 965), entitled "An act defining commodities; regulating the sale thereof; and providing penalties for violation hereof," providing for arrests by inspectors of weights and measures, and extending the provisions of the act to marking of the net quantity of the contents on packages sold by wholesalers, jobbers or commission merchants.

SENATE BILL NO. 842 CALLED UP

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I call up, out of order on page 44 of the Second Reading Calendar, Senate Bill No. 842, for the purpose of amendment.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 843, on second reading, go over in its order, as amended.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none

HOUSE BILL NO. 1048 CALLED UP

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I call up out of order, on page 51 of the Second Reading Calendar, House Bill No. 1048 for consideration at this time.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that House Bill No. 1048, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend clauses (a) (b) (c) and (f) of section three hundred six and sections three hundred seven and three hundred nine of the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 736) entitled as amended "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder and prescribing penalties" by changing the maximum and minimum rates and the total amounts and aggregate of compensation be recommitted to the Committee on Labor and Industry.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise on a parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Westmoreland will state his parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, can we act upon a bill in any manner whatsoever when that bill is not properly before the Senate?

The PRESIDENT. Not if the bill is not on the desks of the Senators, and there is objection raised to consideration because the bill is not on the desks. Is that what you are saying?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, there are various methods by which a bill would not be properly before the Senate. This bill, House Bill No. 1048, appears on the Senate Calendar in a different form than what it was reported from committee. Now, until that bill is placed into the form that it was reported from committee, this Senate cannot act, as I take it, Mr. President, one way or another upon that bill.

The only thing that this bill has—it is probably the same preamble, but so far as the contents of the bill are concerned, they are not what the committee reported to the floor, due to what we would be kind enough to say is a printer's error, but the printer's error changes the whole intent and purpose of the act, and I believe that the Senate ought to know what it is voting for and, therefore, the bill ought to be placed in proper construction before the Senate is asked to vote either one way or another upon the measure.

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be at ease.

(The Senate was at ease.)

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Potter, Senator Berger, made a motion to recommit House Bill No. 1048, Printer's No. 607, appearing on Page 51 of today's Calendar, to the Committee on Labor and Industry. For what purpose, Senator Berger?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, the purpose of the motion to recommit is to permit the bill to be put in proper shape so that the amendments which should properly be in the bill should be in, and any amendments which the Committee sees fit to put in, may be put in, and to put the bill in such condition it should be returned to Committee for furher action by the Committee.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I think before the vote is taken, my point of parliamentary inquiry ought to be answered by the Chair.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, my point of parliamentary inquiry is this. This bill as it now appears upon the Calendar is entirely different than the bill that was reported from Committee, and my point of parliamentary inquiry is whether or not this Senate can properly vote upon a matter that is not before it properly.

The PRESIDENT. In the opinion of the Chair, on a motion to recommit for the purpose of amendment, it can go back to Committee regardless of the condition of the bill as long as there is not final action on the bill.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, on the motion to recommit, I want to get the record very clear in order that all of us will understand exactly what is happening at this moment.

The PRESIDENT. Is the gentleman from Westmoreland going to speak on the bill, because a motion to recommit is not debatable?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I am going to talk about the action that led up to the necessity, as it was put by the Chairman of the Committee, on his motion to recommit. In naming his purpose he said this bill is now in improper form because it was not printed right, and it has to go back to Committee for amendment or for correction. We, therefore, would like to tell the Senate what is wrong, and why I have insisted that a ruling be made by the Chair.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Westmoreland can tell what is wrong with the bill as he sees it.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, House Bill No. 1048, Printer's No. 313, was presented to the Senate Committee on Labor and Industry. In the Committee, amendments were offered to page 16, dealing with the co-called "Romig Decision" which was an amendment inserted by the House after deliberation on the floor. The Committee voted to keep the bill in the form that it appeared before the Committee as it came from the House in that particular instance. The Committee had voted to send the bill to the floor as it appeared before us.

Now, Mr. President, we find ourselves in the position of having Printer's No. 607 of House Bill No. 1048, with the amendment that was rejected by the Committee, enacted into the act itself. The Committee rejected the amendment to Section 309, which strikes out the "Romig Decision," and we now find before us, and I want to say I am stretching, I think, a point by using the word kindness, that this particular amendment destroys the action of the Committee. It makes a farce out of committee meetings, makes it almost a mandate to the Minority that we, in the Senate of Pennsylvania, refrain from attending committee meetings because when a committee has acted, we find that the printer, either by instruction or by unintentional error, has deliberately taken the action of the Committee and set it aside, and has taken the amendment that was bitterly fought in the Committee and inserted it in the bill.

Now, Mr. President, if this action can be sustained, then no action of committee from here on in will carry the weight of its convictions. What is the meaning of having committee meetings? Why do we get up at seven or seven-thirty in the morning, to attend meetings from eight to eleven, to twelve to two, working out our differences, honest differences of opinion, and a majority of the Committee votes to sustain a certain position, and we come upon the floor and find the thing we voted against appears in the bill, and that construction is used as an excuse to send this bill back to Committee?

I say, Mr. President, if it were not that I have a very kind feeling toward the membership on both sides of this Senate, I would say that it was a deliberate action, premeditated to do exactly what is being done here. This is a very, very serious thing, regardless of the effect of the amendment, regardless of whether it is this bill or any other bill that appears before the Senate. If an error of the printer can be interpreted as legislative action, then we here do not belong in the Senate of Pennsylvania. Since when did we get the fifty-first Member of the Senate of Pennsylvania? Since when has an employe of the Senate become greater than any Senate Committee, and amends the bills to suit his or somebody else's whims, wishes, or will?

Mr. President, there are two bills in this gronp having and containing the very same considerations; one bill appears in proper form, the other bill appears in improper form, and the plan is to send both bills back to Committee, because, Mr. President, the desires of certain people were not carried out in Committee. So, now both bills are funnelled back because of this asinine excuse, and we find ourselves in the position of losing a hard fought battle by having the enemy infiltrate into our midst by secret passageways in a printer's office.

Mr. President, I do not mind being defeated in an open fight, and I think that along with many of the men here, I fought many of the battles right here on the floor. I never take a battle outside of the gates of the fence that surrounds this room. I try to fight it out here, but I do not like being caught in a black, dark alley, and bludgeoned into submission on something, when I cannot defend myself. I cannot stand on this floor and tell the people of Pennsylvania what this amendment does because it is not properly before us. I cannot say to you that you will never see this amendment again, I cannot tell you that it is going into Committee to deliberately do that which they failed to do in the first instance in Committee action. I can only say to you that the dastardly attack made upon this particular amendment is one that does not stand up under the scrutiny of decency.

Mr. President, I do not accuse the Chairman of any skulduggery because I believe that he, too. was just as confounded as I was when we found what had happened, but I do say, Mr. President, that out of a decent respect for the position of that group of men who voted on the floor of the House, in open debate, and for that group of men who attended this meeting, and after hours of deliberation voted to sustain the position of the House, then if any difference of opinion exists between the Majority in the Senate and the Majority in the House, it ought to be deliberated here upon the floor, and not in the dark, deep recesses of a packed committee, because I assure all of you that I have been here long enough to know that this poor little amendment would not have much of a chance once the forces are marshalled.

It so happened, Mr. President, that this was a bipartisan movement. I will not mention the names, I do not think it is properly before us to do so, but I will say that two-thirds of the majority vote on this particular amendment was Democratic, and one-third of the vote was Republican, and it was a deliberate vote, knowing full well what we are doing, knowing exactly the importance of the action we were taking, and knowing, too, that we would be faced on the Senate Floor with an amendment offered to destroy that which we had done.

Mr. President, I do not complain against that; I am willing to stand upon the floor and defend that amendment if I am given an opportunity to do so, but the way it is being handled at this instant, because a printer becomes the fifty-first Member of the Senate of Pennsylvania, without portfolio, with greater powers than a majority of the Senate group, and he can change the whole contents of any act in the Senate. If some person in this Senate group of a future date is dishonest intellectually, he can destroy the action of the Senate by collusion with the printer. What are we getting into? Let us stand up for the things that we believe in. There has been too much, too, too much during this Session of committee action. I have never had the criticism given to me in all the years I have been here that I have heard during this Session against the so-called autocratic positions taken in committees.

Mr. President, any precedent that is set always establishes a basis from which future actions come; a small injustice today becomes the seed of tyranny tomorrow; that which we do at this moment will some day come back. Those of us who disbelieve at this moment that this is proper, will be forced into the position of using this method to achieve that which is being achieved now, and we will be able to point, although it will be contrary, probably, to the things we believe in in principle, to this action taken this afternoon as a proper action.

That is why I appeal to the Chair in my determination, and request from him a ruling to determine for future membership of the Senate whether or not by collusion, by deliberation, or by error, the contents of a bill can be changed by the printer, and voted upon the Senate Floor as a proper measure. I do not believe it can be done with propriety. I am against it, and I am requesting the decent Members of the Senate to defeat this motion. Let us put the bill in proper form, and let us stand up and be counted for the bill and its contents as we understand they were meant to be.

BILL RECOMMITTED

The PRESIDENT. The question is on the motion to recommit, which is not debatable.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

A voice vote having been taken the question was determined in the affirmative.)

The PRESIDENT. The bill is recommitted to the Committee on Labor and Industry.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I did not hear a seconder to the motion.

The PRESIDENT. The motion was duly made and seconded.

Mr. TARR. Mr. President, I do not know whether or not I am going to be ruled out of order, but here for the first time since I have become a Member of the Legislature of Pennsylvania, I bow my head in shame that I am not acting in a democratic body. To think, Mr. President, that I have to be a teacher in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and go back and tell my student body the kind of deliberations we get in this Democracy.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I previously said upon the floor of this Senate that we wanted to constructively criticize the actions of the Majority. Today, the Democratic Party has been stabbed in the back by the adverse ruling that was made here, and it seems to me that there is no justice, because the amendment has been stolen from us. When it goes back into Committee, it is going to come out as the Manufacturers' Association decided.

Mr. President, I say to you we are going to have trouble here by continuing along this particular line that we have done in the past. The Republican Party stands indicted today for the direct attack they have made upon the welfare of labor. No state in the Union has been so vicious as this outfit has been in this Senate of Pennsylvania. I do not like to lose my decorum, but I am so angry I might say too much.

Mr. President, we are going to work hard, and we are going to have all these bills read at length.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I suggest to the gentleman on the other side of the aisle that we have absolutely no objection to a roll call on the motion made by the gentleman from Potter, Senator Berger, and may I also say to the gentleman on the other side that one of the hardest lessons that I have had to learn, and unfortunately for me, it is only half completed, and that is the problem of keeping one's temper.

May I say to my very dear friend and distinguished colleague from Allegheny that I personally heard the motion made by Senator Berger and seconded, and if the gentleman so desires, I will produce the Member of the Senate who seconded the motion.

If the gentleman desires me to at this time, Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Chester, Senator Scarlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Chester permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SCARLETT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to ask the gentleman from Chester, Senator Scarlett, whether or not he seconded Senator Berger's motion?

Mr. SCARLETT. I did, sir.

Mr. WALKER. Thank you very much, sir.

Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lancaster, Senator Homsher.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Lancaster, Senator Homsher, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOMSHER. Yes, I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I say to the gentleman, sir, that the thing I am trying to do—I thought I heard a statement made on the floor of this Senate a few moments ago that the presiding officer was in error as to the truth of the statement that he made from the Chair. If the veracity of the Chair is being raised as an issue, Mr. President, I desire to demonstrate on the record that the Chair was telling the truth when he said that the motion had been seconded.

Now, Mr. President, if the gentleman desires a roll call, I have no objection to a roll call.

The PRESIDENT. After the conference which took place at the rostrum, I made the statement that the motion had been seconded; that is exactly what I said. Then a roll call was called for, and the Clerk will call the roll. Is that what you want? Do you want a roll call?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I was diverting to a subversive training I received in law school, and merely calling corroborating testimony to the fact that the motion made by Senator Berger had been seconded. The purpose of that, sir, was to reaffirm the decision made by the Chair.

I have a very high regard for the Presiding Officer, who is a soldier, scholar, gentleman and statesman, and challenging his veracity is something I do not propose to leave here on the floor of the Senate unanswered.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I am not going to debate the question whether the motion was seconded or not, or the question of the Chair's honesty or sincerity, but to keep the record straight, I want to point out that yesterday when my colleague made a motion on a bill, Senator Barr and myself both seconded that motion, but it was not heard, and we had turmoil yesterday, and turmoil today. It seems queer to me how you heard the motion seconded today, but failed to hear it yesterday.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I understand the gentlemen on the Minority Side desire to have a roll call vote. I have no objection to that, and if it meets with the approval of the Chair, we would like to have a roll call on the motion made by the gentleman from Potter, Senator Berger.

Mr. NEFF. Mr. President, it seems to me I find myself compelled to refer to the action of a Committee of the Members of this Senate as a damnable un-American act. The Federal Government, our Government, has spent billions—may I have a little order, Mr. President?

Mr. NEFF. Mr. President, I am going to ask for a roll call vote later, but I wish to preface it by a few brief remarks.

Mr. President, the Federal Government, our Government, has spent, and is spending, and will continue to spend billions of dollars in Europe on a program to stamp out totalitarianism in all its forms, even though it may masquerade under a red blanket of communism. We know what happened to Germany and Italy, we know what is happening to Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, we know what has happened for twenty-five years in Russia under this form of government, and I think it might be high time to consider a Pennsylvania program, and have our Federal Government spend a little of those billions in Pennsylvania to stamp out this same type of totalitarianism.

Mr. President, a minority group means nothing; the heritage of the two-party system, as we have come to know it in America, is certainly not evidenced in the august chambers and committee rooms of the Senate of Pennsylvania. I think that the one man rule is rampant here as it is in Russia, as it was in Germany and Italy, and I think we might well take heed—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I rise on a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, will state his point of order.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, there is nothing before the Senate at this time but the consideration of the Calendar. If the gentleman desires to have a roll call vote on the motion, we are perfectly willing to go through with it, but, Mr. President, if there is not going to be a motion made, I must suggest that we continue with the Calendar.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny objects to the Senator from Lawrence talking on the question, unless the Senator wishes to ask for a roll call. Does the Senator from Lawrence wish to ask for a roll call?

Mr. NEFF. Mr. President, I will ask for a roll call in due time, but I wish to premise that request with a few remarks.

The PRESIDENT. On a point like this, if there is objection, the Senator has no right to debate the question.

ROLL CALL REQUESTED ON MOTION TO RECOMMIT HOUSE BILL No. 1048

Mr. NEFF. Then, I request of the President that we take a roll call vote on the matter before the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will call the roll.

VERIFICATION OF THE ROLL REQUESTED

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask for a verification of the roll.

Mr. TARR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, will the Senate be at ease for a moment?

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be at ease.

(The Senate was at ease.)

REQUEST FOR VERIFICATION OF THE ROLL WITHDRAWN

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to withdraw my motion for verification of the roll.

Mr. TARR. Mr. President, I withdraw my seconding of the motion.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. NEFF and Mr. DENT and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 367, entitled:

An Act to further amend sections four three hundred one and five hundred one of and to repeal section three hundred thirteen of and to add two new sections numbered three hundred two and three hundred three to the act approved the fifth day of December one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (1937 P. L. 2896) entitled "An act establishing a system of unemployment compensation to be administered by the Department of Labor and Industry and its existing and newly created agencies with personnel (with certain exceptions) selected on a civil service basis requiring employers to keep records and make reports and certain employers to pay contributions based on payrolls to provide moneys for the payment of compensation to certain unemployed persons providing procedure and administrative details for the determination payment and collection of such contributions and the payment of such compensation providing for cooperation with the Federal Government and its agencies creating certain special funds in the custody of the State Treasurer and prescribing penalties" by providing for modification of the manner in which employer contribution rates are determined

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD offered the following amendments:

Amend Section 1, page 2, line 1, by inserting after the letter "(k)" the following: "and subsection (y)"; Amend Section 1, page 4, by inserting between lines 13 and 14 the following: (y) "Wages of a Compensated Employe" [with respect to each benefit year which begins prior to the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and forty-five means wages which were paid to the compensated employe by an employer or such employe in the base year immediately preceding the employe's benefit year and which wages shall be treated as though they had been paid in the calendar quarter in which the first compensation of the employe's benefit year was paid and with respect to each benefit year which begins subsequent to the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred and forty-five] means the first one thousand three hundred sixty-six ($1366) in wages which were paid to [the] a compensated employe by [an employer of such employe in] each of such compensated employe's employers during the base year immediately preceding the employe's benefit year and which wages shall be treated as though they had been paid in the calendar quarter in which that amount of compensation was paid which together with any amounts of compensation previously paid with respect to such benefit year equals at least three times the employe's weekly benefit rate. For the purpose of charging an employer's reserve account under the provisions of subsection (b) of Section 302 of this act "wages of compensated employees" as used therein shall not include wages which were the basis of credit for a waiting week or for the payment of unemployment compensation or both or a result of any employee being unemployed under conditions which under subsection (d) of section four hundred two of this act as amended by the act approved the thirtieth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 1186) would have made him ineligible for compensation, providing any such employer, within sixty days from the date of mailing notice of his contribution rate for the year one thousand nine hundred forty-nine as computed under the provisions of Section three hundred one as amended by this act, files and appropriate application with the department giving sufficient information to enable the department to determine whether or not his "wages of compensated employees" should be adjusted under the provisions of this subsection. If, however, any such employee was otherwise employed during a period in his benefit year for which he was otherwise eligible for credit for a waiting week, and in addition thereto was paid compensation equal to at least three times his weekly benefit rate then the "Wages of a Compensated Employee" which were the basis thereof shall be included in the "wages of compensated employees" for the employer for the same calendar quarter to which such wages were originally allocated by the department. Provided, that the provisions of this subsection shall not result in the removal or transfer of any "Wages of a Compensated Employee" for any calendar quarter to which such "Wages" were originally allocated by the department in determining "State Experience" as defined in subsection (s) of section four of this act.

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The second section was read and agreed to.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, just to keep the record straight, and to keep from having any more confusion, the three previous bills which were recommitted have no seconder.

The PRESIDENT. What is the point of order of the gentleman from Cambria?

Mr. HALUSKA. The point of order, Mr. President, is that the three bills that the gentleman from Cumberland moved back to committee for further study, Senate Bills No. 644, 645, and 646, were recommitted to the Committee on Insurance, and no one seconded the motion of the gentleman from Cumberland.

The PRESIDENT. I announced that Senator Hare had seconded the motion. Does the gentleman from Cambria object to the record showing that Senator Hare seconded the motion?

Mr. HALUSKA. I do not object, Mr. President but up until now we have had a harmonius session, but because of our haste yesterday, you failed to hear us second a motion that was put, and because of our haste today you did hear others second a motion. Now, Mr. President, to keep this session in order on a high plane, I hope that we can for the next two weeks go a little slower and give all of us the opportunity to do our duty, and I think that will please you, and also please us, and I make that statement now because I failed to hear anyone second the motion made by the gentleman from Cumberland, Senator Wade.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, we have here on the floor of the Senate two very competent stenographers who are taking down blow by blow this peaceful, harmonious session of the Senate. I would respectfully suggest to the gentleman from Cambria that if he so desires, I will ask for a recess at this time so that the official record that goes down in history can be consulted, and see whether or not the motion made by the gentleman from Cumberland, in reference to Senate Bill No. 637, had a seconder. When that point is decided, we can go ahead with the business of the session.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, if that motion was seconded, it was not made in the open.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, let us proceed with the business of the session.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

MR. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, prior to the beginning of today's session the Minority Leader and I were considering the advisibility of suggesting the absence of a quorum in this House, so that a roll could be taken to determine those Members who were present and those who were absent. I, of course, did not realize that the Speaker had gone far beyond what we intended to do and had arranged to have the picture taken of those who were present at today's session.

THE SPEAKER. The Majority Leader will be surprised what he will find behind the books.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria will state it.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, what is the parliamentary position of House Bill 454?

The SPEAKER. The parliamentary position of House Bill 454 on page 16 is on second reading, having been read for the first time yesterday.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, was there ever a printed copy of House Bill No. 454 in the possession of this House, in its present form?

The SPEAKER. The Chair has been informed that there was a printed bill of No. 454 in the possession of this House. However, in its present form it was not on the Members' desks.

Mr. ANDREWS. When, Mr. Speaker, was the bill in printed form in the possession of the House?

The SPEAKER. The Chair is informed by the Sergeant at Arms, and states for the information of the gentleman from Cambria, that the bill that was delivered to the possession of the House yesterday arrived during the session. The Chair is unable to determine exactly whether the bill was in the possession of the House in the form sent to the Printer at that time either before or after actually having been read for the first time.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, should not the bill be properly read on first reading today? My point is that it has never been properly read for first reading.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman from Cambria, if there is any doubt in his mind or in the minds of any of the Members as to the bill's having been properly read on first reading, the Chair will entertain a motion to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed first reading, and then have it read the first time.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill was passed on first reading be reconsidered.

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Cambria vote on passing the bill on first reading?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, if I was voting, I voted "aye".

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Montgomery vote on passing the bill on first reading?

Mr. BRUNNER. With the majority, Mr. Speaker.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. LEONARD. Mr. Speaker, I just want to read a paragraph from a letter from the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers No. 5 of Pittsburgh. The first paragraph is as follows:

> "Members of our organization, as well as all persons connected with the electrical industry, are strongly opposed to the passage of Senate Bill No. 160."

In accordance with this information I am voting "no" on the bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. Leonard, Rosen and W. B. Smith.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 200, as follows:

An Act establishing a mode of selecting and drawing jurors for counties of the first class and imposing penalties

Section 1 The judges of the courts of common pleas of each county of the first class with the sheriff thereof shall constitute a board to be known as the "Jury Selection Board" and hereinafter referred to as the board Said board shall superintend and manage the drawing and selection of jurors to serve in the courts of said counties Any of said judges with the sheriff or his duly authorized deputy shall be a quorum of said board for the transaction of business The board shall appoint a clerk the salaries and expenses of whom shall be fixed by the said judges and paid by the said county

Section 2 (a) Prior to the thirty-first day of January in each and every year the registration commission of each of said counties shall lodge with the sheriff of the county for the use of the said board a duly certified list of all the registered electors setting out their names places of residence and occupation and prior to the first day of April thereafter in each and every year it shall be the duty of the said board or a quorum thereof to assemble together and to select from the said list a sufficient number of persons to be fixed by the board to constitute the several panels of jurors grand and petit that may be required for service in the courts for the next ensuing year

(b) After a selection is made the board by its members or by masters not to exceed four (4) in number to be appointed by the judges of the courts of common pleas of said county the salaries and expenses of whom together with the necessary clerical assistants shall be fixed by the said judges and be paid by said county shall make inquiries by questionnaires personal interview or otherwise touching the qualifications for jury service of each of the persons selected and for this purpose the board is empowered to summon any person selected by subpoena and members of the board and the masters shall have power to examine such person under oath in relation to the qualifications of such person for jury service saving the privilege as a witness of the person examined A false answer to a pertinent question shall be perjury punishable by not more than one year's imprisonment in the county prison or a fine of not more than one hundred dollars ($100)

(c) When a sufficient number of names is selected of registered electors who can read write speak and understand the English language who are physically and mentally capable of rendering efficient jury service and who are of good character and have never been convicted of any crime involving moral turpitude notice by mail shall be given to each person selected of his selection with the request that he inform the board within ten days which of the four quarters of the year will be most convenient to him for jury service No person shall be excluded from jury service on account of race color or creed

(d) There shall be four jury wheels From the first jurors for service during the first quarter of the year shall be drawn from the second jurors for service during the second quarter from the third jurors for service during the third quarter and from the fourth jurors for service during the fourth quarter

(e) The names of the persons finally chosen for jury service shall be deposited in approximately equal proportion in the four wheels The board shall respect the wishes of those chosen and deposit their names in the wheel for the quarter most convenient to the jurors so far as it is possible to do so without interfering with the reasonable proportionate numbers in each wheel

Section 3 The names of registered electors so chosen with their respective places of residence and occupation shall be written on separate pieces or slips of paper which shall then in the presence of the said board be placed in reasonably proportionate numbers in four closed wheels to be provided by and kept in the exclusive custody of the said sheriff securely locked sealed or otherwise guarded from intrusion A list of the names residences and occupations so chosen and placed in the said wheels shall be certified by the members of the said board then present to the prothonotary of the court of common pleas to be duly filed by him for preservation and public inspection and one other such list shall be made out and kept in the custody of the said board

Section 4 At least four (4) weeks before the commencement of each and every term of any of the said courts the said board or a quorum thereof shall assemble and cause to be drawn from the wheel for the current quarter as many of the names of the required electors therein deposited as may be necessary to serve as grand and petit jurors for each of the said courts according to the command of the venire or venires directed to the said sheriff one list of which names residences and occupations so drawn shall be duly certified by the said board to the proper court with the venire issued therefrom and one other list of said names occupations and residences shall be duly certified to the said sheriff

Section 5 Whenever the board after there shall have been selected from the list of registered electors the number of person deemed sufficient to constitute the several panels shall be of the opinion that additional persons are required for service as jurors in the said courts during any quarter of the year it shall select from said list the names of such additional number of persons as may be required Thereafter the mode of selecting and drawing jurors from such names shall be as prescribed in sections two three and four hereof except that the names of the persons finally chosen by the board shall be deposited in the particular wheel or wheels for the quarter or quarters of the year requiring such additional jurors

Section 6 It shall be the duty of the said sheriff to summon each of the said jurors in the manner now practiced to appear in the court for which he may be drawn on a day specified in the summons to serve as a juror during the ensuing term and said summons shall be served on each juror at least ten days before the time fixed for his appearance of which said several services the said sheriff shall make return to the proper court under oath stating the time and manner of such service

Section 7 No one so summoned as a juror shall be excused from service except in open court on good cause shown to the satisfaction of the court and if any juror so summoned and not excused shall fail to attend the said court until duly discharged he shall be fined for the use of the said county not less than twenty-five dollars ($25) nor more than two hundred dollars ($200) to be recovered by attachment or such other appropriate process as the said court may direct

Section 8 Whenever talesmen are required in any of the said courts the said sheriff shall produce the wheel for the current quarter in open court and in the presence of one of the judges thereof draw therefrom five names for every talesman required which names so drawn shall be immediately noted on the minutes of the court whereupon a venire shall be issued requiring the said sheriff to bring into court any one of the said five persons so drawn to serve as a tales juror no tales juror shall be selected or served in any other manner the tickets or slips so drawn from the said wheel shall be returned thereto

Section 9 No citizen whose name has been duly drawn and who has served as a juryman for one full term shall be compelled to serve as a juror for the succeeding period of three years

The names of jurors who are drawn for service and excused for reasons touching their own convenience shall be put in the wheel for the succeeding quarter

Section 10 Any of the duties enjoined on the said sheriff by this act may be performed by his duly appointed deputy

Section 11 Any person who shall introduce into or withdraw from any of the said wheels any name in violation of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than five hundred dollars ($500) or to undergo imprisonment for not more than six (6) months

Section 12 The act approved the twentieth day of April one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight (P. L. 354) entitled "An act Establishing a mode of Selecting and Drawing Jurors in and for the city of Philadelphia" and all other acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

Section 13 This act shall become effective on the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and fifty provided however that the provisions hereof shall not apply to the selection of jurors for service during the year one thousand nine hundred and fifty

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

Ewing, Krise,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

Senate Bill No. 631, Printer's No. 245

was passed over at the request of Mr. BRUNNER.

FORMER MEMBER WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair is pleased to welcome to the Hall of the House, a former Member from Cambria County, Honorable Albert L. O'Connor.

TIME EXTENDED ON BILL

Mr. NEFF asked and obtained unanimous consent to extend the time five days on House Bill No. 280, Printer's No. 324, on page 35 of today's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to remind the Members of the time of convening the session on Monday, 1:00 p.m.

The Chair is informed that the caucus of Republican majority on Monday will be held at twelve o'clock noon, and the session will begin at one o'clock.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, you have reminded me of the caucus. I should like to announce there will be a Democratic caucus at 12:00 o'clock, Monday.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, having inspected the majority caucus room, having found it commodious, with elegant rugs. chairs in orderly array, evidently visited every now and then by the cleaning people, and since there is a majority caucus and a minority caucus at twelve o'clock; and since this is a large room and since we are nearing the end of the session, and since there is a desire for peace and harmony, why not hold a joint caucus?

The SPEAKER. The Chair thinks well of the suggestion. We could all bring our lunch and have a picnic. There is plenty of room.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. BRUNNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, as I stated some time ago, we are very pleased to welcome the minority group into our fold. We welcome them at any time.

The SPEAKER. The Chair welcomes the minority.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, in response to the invitation, either Monday or Tuesday, I will ask permission to compare the records, to make brief allusions to the bills submitted by the minority that are still in committee, and compare them with almost identical bills submitted by the majority that are riding triumphantly upon the calendar.

The only reason I made a request for a joint caucus was that the majority could learn concerning our intentions on the spot instead of waiting until we had introduced the bills.

The SPEAKER. The Chairman does not think too well of the joint caucus.

For what purpose does the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, rise?

Mr. BROWN. I want to agree with the Speaker. It is off to a bad start already.

Mr. BRUNNER. May I inform the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, that I still have great confidence in the Committee Chairman of this House.

CONDOLENCE

Messrs. HAUDENSHIELD, COOPER and THOMPSON offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 13, 1949.

Edwin C. Ewing has suffered the loss of his greatest treasure. His source of personal happiness was the love, understanding and companionship which he found in his wife, the former Gertrude Sherlock.

Although their two sons, Edwin Laird and Wayne Stewart Ewing, are both young men 20 and 22 years of age, they, nevertheless, will feel pangs of heartbreak, loneliness and longing that attend the death of a mother.

Mrs. Ewing was the daughter of H. B. Sherlock, who lives in Detroit, Michigan. She was one of four daughters. Her sisters, Mrs. Floyd Cooley of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Westley T. King of Miami, Florida, and Mrs. Georgia Nichols of Detroit, Michigan, are living.

When Mrs. Ewing first came to the Pittsburgh area, she lived at Coraopolis with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Weiner. She also spent much time with another favorite uncle, J. R. Boyd, who lives on a farm near Richmond, Ohio. She became a charter member of the Coraopolis Century Club at that time.

For the past twelve years she has lived with her family in Mount Lebanon, Pittsburgh, where she was a member of the Mount Lebanon Presbyterian Church.

On April 12th Mrs. Ewing was stricken with a heart attack, and died in her sleep.

The great emptiness and sorrow in the lives of those who loved her can never be calculated nor measured but it can be appreciated by all who love; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Members of the House of Representatives extend their condolence and sincere sympathy to Edwin C. Ewing, his sons. and to all who experienced the privilege of knowing and loving Gertrude Sherlock Ewing; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Honorable Edwin C. Ewing.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to announce for the information of the Members, particularly those of the Allegheny County delegation, that the funeral services of Mrs. Gertrude Ewing, wife of Representative Ewing of Allegheny County will be held on Friday, April 15 at 2:30 P. M. at the Laughlin Funeral Home, Washington Road, Mt. Lebanon. Interment will be at the Mt. Lebanon Cemetery.

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS

Mr. WATERHOUSE offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 13, 1949.

Among the "older" Members of the House of Representatives—older in point of service that is, for he is youthful in appearance, demeanor and ideas—is the Honorable John H. McKinney of Venango County.

Today he celebrates his birthday. He was born on April 13, 1887, in the county which he now represents as an assemblyman.

Mr. McKinney holds the degrees of A.M. and L.L.B. from Allegheny College and Dickinson Law School, respectively. He is married to the former Helen I. Humes and is proud of his quintet of sons. He is a member of the Venango County Bar and is interested in the oil production business. He served in World War I and is now a member of the American Legion.

Our respected colleague was first a member of this body in 1917 and has served continuously since 1933. He has for a number of sessions served faithfully and well as Chairman of the Committee on Judiciary General and more recently of the consolidated Committee on Judiciary; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Members of the House of Represntatives hereby congratulate Mr. McKinney on his distinguished career and especially on the occasion of his attaining another milestone on the road of life, and wish him continued health, prosperity and further honors in public life.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Venango, Mr. McKinney.

Mr. McKINNEY. Mr. Speaker, I am deeply appreciative of this resolution. I am sorry that it designates my age because I do not feel nearly as old as the resolution would say.

I am only sorry that you could not have all been with me when my Committee met in my committee room and the Members congratulated me, and furnished me with a nice big cake covered with roses. I thank you.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. ROSE asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

AMENDED HOUSE BILLS RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 288.

An Act to further amend subsection (3) and (4) of section three and section seven of the act approved the nineteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 1356) entitled "An act to regulate the sale and delivery of solid fuel as herein defined providing for appointment of licensed weighmasters prescribing their powers and duties authorizing substitute licensed weighmasters imposing certain duties on the Department of Internal Affairs and providing penalties" further defining the powers of weighmasters and the inspectors of weights and measures

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend Section 1, page 4, line 4, by striking out after the word "or" the word "confiscation" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "subpoena."

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. KOHL. RESOLUTION No. 55.

In the House of Representatives, April 13, 1949.

Whereas, On many occasions during the past few years, the non-legal PIAA has been placed under fire by various groups interested in high school athletics, among them legislators, member and non-member high school authorities, and sports-minded citizens and fans in general because of the high-handed monopolistic methods it uses to further its main purpose—the exaction of large sums of money from public school athletics; and

Whereas, The least such a private organization operating without color of law could do in return for its ample financial rewards is to set up and operate a system of deciding disputed questions which arise from time to time among member and play-off teams in a fair, efficient and impartial manner as is done wherever sports are conducted on the up-and-up, e.g. The Olympic Games; and

Whereas, Much of the criticism that this group has deservedly received is due to the fact that it refuses to decide such questions promptly, fairly, impartially or efficiently if at all. And it may well be asked whether the PIAA—which takes jurisdiction over the appointment of officials who are responsible for the origin of many of such disputes—is taking the position that its appointees cannot be wrong and that if they are, it will prevent the public from ever knowing about it simply by refusing to provide simple complaint and hearing procedure—basis enough for the criticism that the PIAA is unprincipled and callous toward the athletes and sportsmen who keep it alive; and

Whereas, The recent example of the usual conduct of the PIAA is the disputed Class B High School Basketball State Championship involving Kane and Ashley High Schools. There is an honest dispute as to whether Kane actually won or whether the game was over when it scored its two-point margin. Evidence of the fact is ready to be presented by the participating schools—if they can get a hearing. Has the PIAA granted such hearing? Yes—seven weeks after the game—on May 27th, practically the end of "baseball" season—when nobody will be interested; and

Whereas, Such a method of providing for the determination of championships and other disputes is anything but democratic and fair play in the manner in which Americans are used to having their sports events decided—and the way they teach their youth. The American way is to determine the winner of an athletic contest at once and to resolve protests and disputes on the sport or immediately afterward so that the winner may receive the plaudits of the crowd; now therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives hereby condemns the PIAA for its many arbitrary and capricious methods of settling disputes and the way it usually avoids giving a hearing and in particular the manner it proposes to delay the hearing in the Kane-Ashley State Class B High School Basketball Championship; and be it further

Resolved, That this House hereby protest such PIAA action and demands that it grant a prompt hearing to the schools involved in such dispute so that the State Champion may be known now; or by inaction admit that it is high-handed, arbitrary, dictatorial and nothing but a sham and a fraud designed to make easy money from a gullible public for its "back-room" promoters; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to the school authorities of the Ashley and Kane High Schools and to the Executive Secretary of the PIAA, Edmund Wicht of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

By Mr. VARNER. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 56.

In the House of Representatives, April 13, 1949.

Whereas, The Clarion River watershed has been polluted by industries and municipalities on its banks for many years and has been ruined by this pollution, and

Whereas, The Clarion River watershed furnishes the population area of Western Pennsylvania with its water supply and affords it a recreational area, and

Whereas, The Clarion River watershed has had a modified pollution abatement program during the past several years, but due to the shortage of materials caused by World War II and the postwar years, this program has been curtailed and much work remains to be done, and

Whereas, Many interested private citizens and groups thereof, are interested in the Clarion River from a health as well as a recreational standpoint; now therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur) That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to investigate and study pollution and the pollution abatement program in the Clarion River watershed area, and in so doing to cooperate closely with the Sanitary Water Board and to report its findings and recommendations to the next regular session of the General Assembly; and be it further

Resolved, That the commission shall have the power to meet and hold hearings, both in Harrisburg and at some place in the Clarion County watershed area and to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman commanding any proper person to appear before it and to answer questions touching on matters with respect to such investigation, for and on behalf of the General Assembly and to procure such books, papers, records and documents as the commission may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any proper person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the Courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of the commission shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before it.

By Mr. JENNINGS. RESOLUTION No. 57.

In the House of Representatives, April 13, 1949.

Whereas, The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has recognized the laurel as the official state flower; and

Whereas, The said laurel is known to grow in great profusion and beauty amidst the unsurpassed scenic mountains of the said Tioga County; and

Whereas, The said Tioga County is also the location of one of the major scenic spectacles of the State, namely Pine Creek Gorge, more popularly known as Pennsylvania's Grand Canyon; and

Whereas, The Borough of Wellsboro, County seat of Tioga County, has for many years been cognizant of the pleasure and joy the traveling public finds in the seasonal bloom of the laurel and the continuous charm of the scenery and has shown every desire to share this wealth of nature; and

Whereas, In expression of this generosity has each year since 1938 (interrupted only by war), honored the State Flower, the Mountain Laurel, and the young womanhood of the Commonwealth by staging a State Laurel Festival, and under the eyes of the State officials crowned a young lady as State Laurel Queen, to introduce the blooming season of the laurel in Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, The said festivals have been conducted in such a manner as to be a credit and a pride to both the community and the Commonwealth; and

Whereas, The said festivals have been conducted at a great cost entirely born by the community of Wellsboro, but resulting in benefits to the entire Commonwealth; and

Whereas, The young ladies competing for the title of State Laurel Queen are residents of Pennsylvania, of High School age and of outstanding personality, charm and intelligence; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives recognize and commend the civic enterprise of the community of Wellsboro, Tioga County, Pennsylvania, and hereby constitute the said annual laurel festival as the official State Laurel Festival of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and further constitute the queen of the laurel, crowned each year at said annual festival, as the official State Laurel Queen; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives shall send a copy of this resolution to Mayor Manford Hart, of Wellsboro.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 58.

In the House of Representatives, April 13, 1949.

Unique among the deeds of those who have freely and wholeheartedly contributed their time and talent to the fulfillment of worthy causes was that witnessed by the world of television last Saturday when the popular and well-known television and radio entertainer and comedian, Milton Berle, devoted himself for sixteen continuous hours on the television network in raising in excess of $1,000,000 for the Damon Runyan Memorial Fund, which fund it devoted to the cause of fighting the dread disease of cancer.

While the real satisfaction and joy Mr. Berle derives and will derive from such an arduous and courageous contribution will not and cannot be expressed in acts or words, it, nevertheless, behooves the Members of the House of Representatives, as the representatives of the people of the Commonwealth, to extend to him their heartfelt expression of gratitude; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Members of the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania extend to Mr. Milton Berle their sincerest expression of appreciation and gratitude for his magnificient contribution to the cause of the Damon Runyon Memorial Fund in raising money to fight cancer; and be it further Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives be directed to transmit a copy of this Resolution to Mr. Berle.

RESOLUTION No. 59.

In the House of Representatives, April 13, 1949.

Even though it has been more than a year since Dr. John Sutherland passed away, it is difficult to believe that he is not alive today. That is because the immortal "Jock" created a spirit, in football, in all sports, that can never die. One of the greatest players, and one of the greatest coaches, in football's hall of fame, "Jock" Sutherland is also a symbol of clean living and fair play. He was considered to be a master tactician, and hard worker, capable of inspiring a "do or die" spirit among his players. Yet he was also known as a most generous foe, who would shun any advantage not acquired in the best tradition of sportsmanship.

Dr. Sutherland gained his first fame as a player for the University of Pittsburgh. He later became its greatest coach, and gave the "Pitts" its tradition in football.

His closing days, after a period in the service of his country, was with the Pittsburgh "Steelers." His mastery of the game of football made the Steelers a team, feared by teams with double the weight and force of the "Steelers."

The sadness which suddenly enveloped the sports loving people of America a year ago with the first report of Dr. Sutherland's illness, was turned to abject despair when the news came from West Penn Hospital in Pittsburgh, that the living symbol of football was no more. But that was a year ago. Today we can attest that Dr. Sutherland is still with us, and we know now that he will always be with us; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives pause a moment to pay tribute to "Jock" Sutherland, and take cognizance of the memorial he created for himself, a name synonymous with sportsmanship.

By Mr. DENNISON (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 60.

In the House of Representatives, April 13, 1949.

Whereas, There is a great deal of legislation on the statute books relating to preference to war veterans in qualifying for, securing, and holding positions in the State government and in the governments of political subdivisions; and

Whereas, Such legislation may be prima facie desirable as to each particular statutee but on the other hand there is a possibility that the over-all result may be to make it practically impossible for any non-veteran however well qualified to obtain any of such governmental positions or advancement therein thus depriving the various governments of many able personnel; now therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur) That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to study all the legislation relating to veterans' preference in governmental positions in this Commonwealth and to determine whether in particular instances or in the aggregate, such legislation unduly favors war veterans and as a practical matter keeps non-veterans from obtaining and securing such positions and advancements; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission shall report to the next regular session of the General Assembly with the results of its findings and its recommendations and necessary legislation embodying the same if it deems necessary.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. DENNISON. RESOLUTION No. 61.

In the House of Representatives, April 13, 1949.

Whereas, The economy of the Commonwealth depends to a considerable extent on highway transportation, but the extent of such dependence has not been definitely ascertained, nor can it be without a careful and exhaustive survey; and

Whereas, The Public Roads Administration of the Federal Government is presently engaged in a study and survey of highway transportation on the national level, and its importance to the economy of the United States as a whole; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to make a study and survey of highway transportation in this Commonwealth in order to determine its relative importance to the welfare and prosperity of the State, with special reference to the effect of statutory restrictions on the use of motor vehicles upon such advanagtes as compared with the cost of highway construction and maintenance and the usefulness and safety of the highways; and be it further

Resolved, That the Commission shall make a detailed report of its findings and conclusions, to the General Assembly, not later than Feberuary 1, 1951, together with drafts of legislation, if any, proposed by it.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.
